SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER 1897.

WEATHER during November was more settled than usual over the province and the north of the Bay, as the disturbances which began in the south-east either were of short duration or moved westward towards the Madras coast. The only storm of any importance developed towards the end of the third week. It was probably a severe storm, while in the east of the Bay as unusually strong winds were reported from Diamond Island. The 8 A.M. rate on the 19th was 60 miles an hour, and the average velocity for some hours subsequently was above 40 miles, both amounts being unusual. The depression moved westwards towards the Madras coast, but broke up before reaching land. Squally weather remained over the whole of the south of the Bay for some days and the unsettled weather spread northwards. Cloud became general and many stations in Lower Bengal and Orissa reported light showers.

There were two other occasions when rainfall occurred in parts of the province—the former in the early days of the month, when, owing to rather large oscillations of pressure in the north of the province, a shallow depression formed over the northern districts with fairly general cloud in Bengal proper and light showers in North Bengal; the latter about the middle of the month, when, after general and in places heavy rain in Orissa, light scattered showers fell in all parts of the province except Bihar.

The rainfall in Orissa between the 8th and 11th was unusual, as it was caused by a depression which had moved westward towards the south of Madras, and after causing squally weather with rough sea in that part of the Bay, became diffused over the whole of the Bay area. Instead of being followed by north-east monsoon weather in Madras, weather there became fine and settled, and the moist current deflected northwards into the north-west of the Bay, gave continuous rain at most of the stations in the south of Orissa and in the north of the Circars. The heaviest falls recorded during 24 hours in Orissa were 3·8 inches at Nayagarh, 2·7 inches at Puri, 2·5 inches at Satpara, and 2·2 inches at Gop—all in the Puri district.

As only light showers fell in any part of the province except the south of Orissa, the average falls for the large divisions are all below the normal, even in Orissa, where defect is ·26 inch. In Lower Bengal and Chota Nagpur between a quarter and third of the normal amount fell, and the northern districts received about half the normal amount, which in November is less than ·3 inch.

The state of unrest which was so marked a feature of the general weather conditions during the greater part of October was much less conspicuous during November. Such disturbances as developed in the south-east of the Bay were of only short duration, and the usual north-east monsoon weather has never properly commenced on the Madras coast.

The comparatively cool weather which became general over the province in the last week of October was not well maintained in November. Mean temperature for the whole month is above the normal in all parts, but most so in the western districts, excess in Chota Nagpur being 1°·3 and in Bihar 1°·8. The excess was greater during the night than in the day time, minimum readings being at times as much as 5°.

At the beginning of the month pressure was highest over Chota Nagpur and lowest in the south-east of the Bay. Owing, however, to a comparative deficiency in the north of the province, winds were south or south-west at many of the northern stations. After a brisk to rapid fall on the 2nd the southerly winds became more regular, and general rain fell in parts of North Bengal, the largest amount being 1 inch at Siliguri. There was no rain in other parts of the province; and as the shallow depression was forced westward by a brisk rise of pressure on the 3rd and 4th, the pressure distribution became more normal, and rainfall in North Bengal had almost entirely ceased on the latter date.

The first disturbance of the month was forming about this time in the south of the Bay, but there was probably never a well-defined depression. Squally weather was general over the southern area as the wind was increasing in strength and the sea rising at Diamond Island and in the south of Madras. On the 6th the squally weather was more towards the west, and on the 7th it was moderating. As the depression which was then shown over the south-west of the Bay had become diffused on the 8th, a change which was immediately followed by dense cloud in the Circars and Orissa and general rain between Cocanada and False Point on the 9th, it seems probable that the moist current which at that season of the year gives rain to Madras was diverted northwards. The rainfall continued for some days and was at times heavy, as both Cocanada and Vizagapatam received on different days more than 4 inches within 24 hours.

Except for the cloud and rain in the north-west of that Bay fine weather prevailed over the whole area, especially in Madras, where there was light cloud and an entire absence of rainfall. After a few scattered showers in parts of Bengal on the 13th and 14th the unsettled conditions ceased, owing to a brisk rise of pressure which then commenced and gave an almost normal distribution.

The settled weather which followed continued almost without interruption till the end of the month in Bengal and the north of the Bay, but in the south-east of the Bay it was again disturbed by the 17th when the severe storm referred to above began. The centre of the storm was probably at some distance to the south of Diamond Island, as though wind velocity steadily increased there was no sea swell till the 19th when the high wind velocity of 60 miles an hour was recorded. The storm moved slowly westwards, and was of little importance in the north of the Bay excepting for the cloudy weather which became general in Orissa and Lower Bengal on the 22nd. The depression was then very diffused, but continued to cause equally or stormy weather in the south-west of the Bay, and light showers in parts of Orissa and Bengal till the 24th. After that the cloud slowly dissipated, but it was not till the 26th that ordinary weather became general over the province. The pressure distribution was then practically normal and light northerly or variable winds prevailed with comparatively low temperatures in the southern districts.

A brisk fall of pressure over the north of the province towards the end of the month caused southerly winds in Bihar and a renewal of cloudy weather over a great part of the province, but there was no further rainfall.

Pressure.—Changes have been comparatively small throughout the month as no depression moved northwards from the south of the Bay. But as on two occasions disturbances became diffused barometric readings remained below the normal by small to moderate amounts for a considerable part of the month. Average readings for the whole month are below the normal at all stations, most so in the south of the province, where defect is ·03 inch.

Temperature was low in the west and centre of the province at the beginning of the month. There was a rather rapid rise about the 3rd, and a wave of rising temperature spread eastward over the province, reaching its maximum about the 10th, when there was a general excess of about 4°. By the middle of the month readings were again practically normal, and from that time till towards the close there was a small to moderate excess in the west and a small defect in the east. As the excess was generally greater at night than during the day, mean minimum readings differ most from the normal, excess varying from about 1° in the east of the province to more than 3° in the west of Bihar. Mean day temperature is practically normal except in Bihar, where there is excess of 1°.

Rainfall as stated above is below the normal in all districts, but by a comparatively small amount in Orissa, where there was heavy general rain between the 8th and 11th. Showers fell in part of North Bengal in the early days of the month, and light scattered rain was fairly general about the 14th and 24th except in Bihar, a great portion of which was altogether rainless.

The average fall in Orissa was 1·83 inches, the normal being 2 09 inches; in East Bengal ·33 inch, South-West Bengal ·23 inch, North Bengal and Chota Nagpur ·15 inch, and in Bihar less than ·1 inch.

The following table gives in a condensed form the rainfall information for each of the six large meteorological divisions of Bengal for the present year up to the close of November. The numbers there given, as in the case of the former months of the year, are the actual average rainfalls in each division, expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period, and the last column also gives the total rainfall up to the close of November, expressed in the same way :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

A. D. MCARTHUR, Col., R.E.,

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

Bombay Castle, 20th November 1897.

No. 6450—4275-P.—In exercise of the powers delegated by the Governor-General in Council under section 2 (3) of the Epidemic Diseases Act III of 1897, His Excellency the Governor in Council is pleased to prescribe as a temporary measure the following rules for quarantine against plague applicable to vessels arriving at Aden:—

Rule I.—The commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft arriving at Aden from an infected port, shall, before entering the harbour, hoist a yellow flag (or if entering the port at night-time, exhibit two red lights, one above the other, at the main) and indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come, and shall keep such flag and signals flying until permitted to take them down. The pilot on going alongside a vessel from an infected port shall direct the flag prescribed above to be hoisted, if it has not been already done.

Rule II.—Such commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, except orally, with the shore or with any other vessel or boat except the pilot boat, with which communication shall be limited to receiving the pilot who shall proceed straight to the bridge.

Rule III.—No vessel shall be given pratique until ten days from the date of its departure from an infected port. A vessel which carries no qualified Medical officer shall not be given pratique until ten days from the date of its arrival in Aden. Until the ten days' period has expired, a vessel shall, during its stay at Aden, remain at the quarantine anchorage appointed from time to time by the Resident by general or special order in this behalf. Until a vessel has been given pratique, it shall have no communication with the shore.

Rule IV.—On the arrival of a vessel whose destination is Aden, an officer appointed for the purpose by the Resident shall go alongside and ascertain whether ten days have or have not expired since its departure from an infected port.

(a) If ten days have expired since its departure from an infected port, and if it carries a qualified Medical officer, the officer appointed for the purpose shall board the vessel and make such inquiries and inspection as he thinks necessary and may require a declaration on oath from the Medical officer of the vessel or the captain, or both, as to the existence of plague or suspected plague on board the vessel either during the voyage or before its departure. He shall then declare whether the vessel is "healthy," "suspected" or "infected," as defined in Rule VII. If he is satisfied that the vessel is "healthy," it shall be given pratique forthwith. If he declares it to be "suspected" or "infected," it shall be dealt with in the manner prescribed in Rule VII.

(b) If on the arrival of a vessel it is ascertained that ten days have not expired since its departure from an infected port, or if it carries no qualified Medical officer, it shall be detained at the quarantine anchorage until, in the former case, ten days have expired since its departure from an infected port, or, in the latter case, ten days have expired since its arrival at Aden, after which the officer appointed for the purpose shall take the measures specified in clause (a) of this rule, and classify the vessel:

Provided, however, that the officer appointed for the purpose may, at any time before the expiration of the aforesaid period of ten days, make such inquiries and inspections as he thinks necessary, and if, as the result thereof, he comes to the conclusion that the vessel is "infected," he shall forthwith, and without waiting for the expiration of the ten days' period, order it to be treated as infected.

Rule V.—On the arrival of a vessel, which is onward bound, and which uses Aden as merely a port of call, the officer appointed for the purpose by the Resident shall go alongside and ascertain whether ten days have or have not expired since its departure from an infected port.

(a) If ten days have expired since its departure from an infected port and if it carries a qualified medical officer, and if the officer appointed for the purpose is permitted to make such inspection as he thinks necessary, and, as the result thereof and as the result of any inquiries he may make, is satisfied that the vessel is "healthy," the vessel shall be given "pratique." Otherwise it shall remain in quarantine at the anchorage appointed for the purpose by the Resident during its stay in port: no person shall be landed therefrom except at the quarantine camps appointed by the Resident, and no communication with the shore or with other vessels shall be allowed except the landing of mails in quarantine and the embarkation and disembarkation of passengers in quarantine.

(b) If ten days have not expired since its departure from an infected port, or if it carries no qualified medical officer, it shall remain in quarantine at the quarantine anchorage appointed for the purpose during its stay in port.

N.B.—No inspection of a vessel under Rules IV and V shall ordinarily be made except by daylight.

Rule VI.—These rules shall not prevent the transhipment, in quarantine, of passengers or other persons or mails or cargo from a vessel in quarantine to another, provided that thereafter the latter vessel shall be in quarantine.

Rule VII.—For the purposes of these rules a "healthy" vessel means—

"A vessel which has had no case of plague on board and which has left an infected port ten days or more previously."

A "suspected" vessel means—

"Any vessel on board which there has been a case of plague at the time of departure or during the voyage, but on which no fresh case has occurred for twelve days."

An "infected" vessel means—

"Any vessel with plague on board or on board which one or more cases have taken place within twelve days."

The only measures which the authorities of the Port of arrival may enforce with regard to "healthy" vessels are those which are prescribed for "suspected" vessels (medical inspection, disinfection, pumping out the bilge-water and the substitutions of good drinking water for the water on board) except that the measures prescribed for the disinfection of the vessel itself may not be enforced in the case of healthy vessels.

The following treatment is prescribed for "suspected" and "infected" vessel, respectively:—

Suspected vessels are subject to the following measures, which will be carried out under the orders and supervision of the officer appointed for the purpose.

1.—Medical inspection.

2.—Disinfection; the soiled linen and personal effects of the crew and passengers, which in the opinion of the officer appointed for the purpose may be regarded as contaminated, should be disinfected.

3.—Pumping out the bilge-water after disinfection, and the substitution of good drinking water for the water stored on board.

4.—Disinfection of all parts of the vessel which have been inhabited by plague patients, and any other measures of disinfection that may be ordered by the officer appointed for the purpose

A watch should be kept over the health of the crew and passengers for ten days from the date of arrival of the vessel; and the crew should not, without the special permission of the officer appointed for the purpose, be allowed to land, except on duty.

Infected vessels are subject to the following rules:

1.—The sick will be immediately disembarked and isolated.

2.—The other persons on board should also, if possible, be disembarked and kept under observation or surveillance* for a period varying according to the sanitary condition of the vessel and the date of the last case, but which must not exceed ten days.

3. The soiled linen and personal effects of the crew and passengers, which in the opinion of the sanitary authority of the port may be considered as infected, will be disinfected.

4.—The bilge-water will be pumped out after disinfection, and good drinking-water will be substituted for the water stored on board

5.—All parts of the vessel which have been inhabited by plague patients should be disinfected, and such other measures of disinfection shall be taken as may be ordered by the officer appointed for the purpose.

Rule VIII.—The Resident shall have full power, subject to any orders that may be issued by the Government of Bombay, to make regulations or pass orders regarding the administration of quarantine camps and hospitals, whether ashore or afloat, and regarding quarantine anchorages, and all persons concerned shall be bound to obey such regulations and orders. Any vessel objecting to submit thereto or to any of the measures indicated in these rules, shall, however, be free to put back to sea.

Rule IX.—Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel arriving from an infected port shall be landed under such precautions as the officer appointed for the purpose may deem necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.

Rule X.—It will be the duty of the Port Officer to facilitate the conveyance to all vessels in quarantine of such supplies of provisions, stores and other articles as may be required by those on board. Such supplies will be placed on the boats of the vessels in quarantine to be subsequently removed by members of their crews.

Rule XI.—All vessels arriving at Aden, which may have communicated with vessels coming from an infected port, shall be subjected to the same rules as vessels arriving at Aden from an infected port.

Rule XII.—All vessels which have undergone medical inspection and quarantine in the manner above prescribed, should have the fact clearly stated on their bills of health.

By order of His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor in Council,

A. C. LOGAN,

Acting Secretary to Government.

* The expression 'observation' means segregation of the passengers, either on board a vessel or in a lazaretto, till they have obtained free pratique. The expression 'surveillance' means that the passengers will not be isolated; they will at once obtain free pratique, but on arriving at their destination they will be kept under medical surveillance.

NOTIFICATION No. 2234B.

Dated Calcutta, the 9th December 1897.

THE following rules under the Bengal Excise Act for regulating the preparation and sale of methylated spirits in Bengal, having been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, are published for general information, in supersession of the present rules in section XII at pages 131—133 of the Excise Manual, 1891.

2. The new rules shall take effect from the 1st June 1898.

C. R. MARRIOTT,
Offg. Secy., Board of Revenue, L. P.

Spirit rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, generally known as methylated spirit.

Spirit rendered unfit for human consumption, an exciseable article.

1. Spirit rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, whether country-made or imported, is an exciseable article within the meaning of section 4 of the Bengal Excise Act (VII of 1878), but is subject to the special relaxations allowed under this section.

Application where to be made.

2. An application for a license to remove spirit, rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, on payment of an ad valorem duty of 5 per cent. must be made to the Collector of the district, or to the Superintendent of Excise Revenue of Calcutta, if the spirit is to be taken from a distillery within 20 miles of Calcutta, or from the Custom House, or is to be used in his jurisdiction.

May be used within the distillery.

3. The Collector or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue may also authorise the use of spirit, so rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, within the walls of the licensed distillery in which it was manufactured, after payment of the reduced duty of 5 per cent. ad valorem. In this case, the use of the spirit will be under the supervision of the same excise establishment as the manufacturing operations of the distillery.

Issue of license.

4. The Collector, or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, on sanctioning the removal of spirit under Rule 2, shall issue a license in Form 34 in Appendix A, authorising a person to remove spirit rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption under the following rules from a distillery or from the Custom House, on payment of the reduced duty of 5 per cent. ad valorem.

Ingredients to be used.

5. Whenever country spirit is to be rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, the ingredient to be used for admixture with the spirit shall be caoutchoucine, which shall be mixed with the spirit in the proportion of 1 part of volume of the caoutchoucine to 99 parts of volume of the spirit, which shall not be of less strength than 30 per cent. over-proof.

Test by Chemical Examiner.

6. The ingredient to be used for admixture with the spirit must be tested by the Chemical Examiner to Government, who must certify to the Collector, or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, that it will effectually and permanently render unpalatable and unfit for human consumption the spirit with which it is mixed.

Valuation.

7. For the purpose of fixing the amount of duty to be levied on such spirit, its market value is fixed by the Collector, or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, subject to the revision of the Commissioner of Excise.

Expense.

8. Any expense which may be incurred by the Collector, or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, in rendering spirit unfit for human consumption, or for ascertaining by chemical or other process that it has been effectually and permanently so rendered, must be paid by the person wishing to remove the spirit before its removal is allowed.

Certificate of Chemical Examiner.

9. Spirit imported by sea, rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption, will be dealt with by the Collector of Sea Customs. Spirit manufactured in any other Province and imported into Bengal shall pay full duty, unless the Chemical Examiner to Government shall have certified, on a sample sent to him, that the spirit has been rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption in accordance with Rule 5 above, or in some other equally efficacious manner. The use of wood-naptha shall not be held to render spirit effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption.

License for sale.

10. A license in Form No. 34A is required for the sale of spirit rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption. Such license shall be granted, free of cost, by the Collector of the district, or the Superintendent of Excise Revenue.

Penalties for unauthorised use or possession.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-books and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipt, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government Superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1896-97, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale, that may be desired by parties connected with the trade, will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

Patna District Board.

PRELIMINARY ADVERTISEMENT.

Proposed Tramway from Bakhtiarpore, East Indian Railway, to Bihar—Capital required about Rs 5,00,000.

SUBJECT to the sanction of Government, the District Board of Patna is prepared to grant a concession to a competent Company to construct and work a Tramway by steam or other motive power on the district road which connects Bakhtiarpore with Bihar.

Bakhtiarpore is a station on the East Indian Railway 310 miles from Calcutta and 23 miles distant from Patna City Station; it is on the south bank of the Ganges, is a stopping place for river craft of all kinds and a ferry station for boats plying to north side of the Ganges.

Bihar is a town of 50,000 inhabitants, situate 19 miles distant south of Bakhtiarpore Station; it is the centre of a large and important subdivision of the district of Patna, a Government cutcherry, Treasury and Munsif's Court being located in the town of Bihar.

In Bihar and the neighbourhood many large melas are held yearly, as instance—

Hindu	Melas	Rajgir.
do.	do.	Pawapore.
do.	do.	Bargaon.
do.	do.	Giriok.
do.	do.	Bihar Town.

The Rajgir mela continues for one month and is visited by many thousands of persons from all parts of India. At Rajgir are also hot springs visited by invalids for their health's sake: there are many ancient Jain and Buddhist shrines and temples and other interesting curiosities in and about Rajgir. The existing road from Bakhtiarpore to Bihar is the only track by which all produce and materials are imported and exported; there is no existing communication by water or rail between Bihar and any other station.

The above road has been raised and bridged throughout its whole length beside being metalled with stone ballast for a width of 9 feet along its centre; it is practically dead level all the way and there are no very sharp curves on it.

There is an enormous traffic along the road; statistics compiled from returns taken daily for 12 months show an average daily traffic of 365 passengers by horse, gharry, riding, palkee, on foot, and an average daily carriage of 800 maunds of goods; these returns were made some six years ago. During 1896 on checking the traffic for one month an increase of 50 per cent. was observed.

Gauge proposed is 2 feet 6 inches.

If a Steam Tramway were laid on this road there is no doubt whatever that the daily traffic would quickly grow much heavier.

The District Board is prepared to guarantee a dividend not exceeding four per cent. per annum on the capital outlay as soon as the Tramway is opened throughout its length. It is proposed that there should be three intermediate stations between the termini at Bihar and Bakhtiarpore, and that through booking of goods and passengers with the East Indian Railway should be arranged for.

Firms desirous of obtaining a concession should apply to the undersigned for detailed information as to the terms decided upon by the Board and passed by Government.

T. INGLIS, Chairman.

RIGHT TO CLAIM PARTITION.

Who entitled to claim partition.

4. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, every recorded proprietor of a joint undivided estate who is in actual possession of the interest in respect of which he is so recorded shall be entitled to claim a partition of the said estate and the separation therefrom and assignment to him as a separate estate of land representing the interest of which he is in such possession.

(2) Any two or more of such recorded proprietors may claim that land representing the interests of all such claimants be formed into one separate estate to be held by them as a joint undivided estate; and every provision of this Act which applies to an applicant for partition shall apply to any two or more persons making any such claim.

Partition according to interest.

5. (1) If the interest of any recorded proprietor who is entitled to claim partition is an undivided share in an estate held in common tenancy, he shall be entitled to have assigned to him as his separate estate land of which the assets shall bear the same proportion to the assets of the parent estate as his undivided share in the parent estate bears to the entire parent estate.

(2) If the interest of such recorded proprietor is the proprietary right over specific mauzas or lands forming part of the parent estate and held by him in severalty, he shall be entitled to have assigned to him as his separate estate the said mauzas or lands.

(3) If the interest of such recorded proprietor consists of an undivided share held in common tenancy in specific mauzas or tracts forming part of the parent estate, but not extending over the whole area of the parent estate, he shall be entitled to have assigned to him as his separate estate land, situated within such specific mauzas or tracts, of which the assets shall bear the same proportion to the assets of such specific mauzas or tracts as his undivided share in such specific mauzas or tracts bears to the entire mauzas or tracts:

Provided that, if the interest of such recorded proprietor consists of such an undivided share in more than one mauza or tract, he shall not be entitled to have land assigned to him in every such mauza or tract, but the Collector may assign to him as his separate estate land situated in any one or more of the said mauzas or tracts, subject to the condition that the assets of such land are in proportion to the aggregate of the interests which he holds in all such mauzas or tracts.

(4) If the interest of such recorded proprietor consists partly of land held in severalty, and partly of an undivided share either in the whole estate or in specific land held in common tenancy, he shall be entitled to have the portion of the common land falling by partition to his share added to the land held by him in severalty, and the estate thus formed shall be assigned to him as his separate estate, so that the assets shall bear the same proportion to the assets of the whole estate as his interest in all the land and undivided shares held by him bears to the aggregate interests of all the proprietors.

(5) If the interest of such recorded proprietor is of more than one of the kinds specified in the preceding sub-sections, land shall be assigned to him as far as possible in accordance with the principles therein laid down.

Separation of land held in common between the proprietors of two or more estates, when the estates are not under partition.

6. Whenever any land is held in common between the proprietors of two or more estates not being under partition, any one or more of such proprietors may, without applying for partition of their several estates inter se, apply for separation of the land held by them in common, and for the allotment of the proper shares of such land to each of their separate estates, the land-revenue of those estates remaining unaltered; and such application shall be dealt with as far as may be in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Partition of lands under Act where a partition has been made by private arrangement.

7. (1) Where the lands of an estate have been divided by private arrangement formally made and agreed to by all the proprietors, and each proprietor has, in pursuance of such arrangement, taken possession of separate lands to be held in severalty as representing his interest in the estate, no partition of the estate shall be made under this Act except—

(a) on the joint application of all the proprietors, or

(b) in pursuance of a decree or order of a Civil Court.

(2) No objection to the partition of an estate under this Act on the ground that the lands have been divided by private arrangement shall be admitted unless it is presented before the Collector records a proceeding under section 29 declaring the estate to be under partition.

Tenants for life not entitled to claim partition.

8. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, no person having a proprietary interest in an estate for the term of his life only shall be entitled to claim partition under this Act.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter III.—Security of the Land-Revenue.— Sections 9—13.)

CHAPTER III.

SECURITY OF THE LAND-REVENUE.

Future partitions not to relieve land from liability for total land-revenue, unless made as provided in this Act.

9. No partition of an estate made after the commencement of this Act shall relieve any land from liability to the Government for the total demand of land-revenue assessed upon the estate of which the land forms part, unless the partition is made as herein provided.

Amount of land-revenue to be assessed on each separate estate.

10. Except as otherwise provided in this Act, the amount of land-revenue assessed on each separate estate shall bear the same proportion to the whole amount of land-revenue for which the parent estate was liable as the assets of such separate estate bear to the whole assets of the parent estate.

Restrictions on partition of estate with reference to land-revenue.

11. Subject to clauses (b) and (c) of section 2 of this Act, no partition of an estate shall be made, and no applicatio f or the partition of an estate shall be admitted,—

(a) if the annual amount of land-revenue for which the separate estate of the applicant would, after partition, be liable would not exceed ten rupees ; or

(b) if, after separation of the applicant's interest, the annual amount of land-revenue for which the separate estate of the remainng proprietor or proprietors would be liable would not exceed five rupees ; or

(c) if the Collector considers that for any reason any of the separate estates would be likely to prove an insufficient security for the payment of the land-revenue which would be separately charged upon it.

Execution of decree for partition.

12. (1) Any Civil Court which has made a decree for the partition or for the separate possession of a share of an undivided estate paying land-revenue to the Government may, notwithstanding anything in section 265 of the Code of Civil Procedure, cause the decree to be executed in the manner prescribed in section 396 of that Code ; and, if it does so the joint and several liability of the entire estate for the whole of the land-revenue chargeable upon it shall not be prejudiced or affectde. XIV of 1882.

(2) If any decree is sent to the Collector for execution under section 265 of the said Code, the execution thereof shall be subject to the restrictions imposed by section 11 of this Act.

Power to refuse partition which would result in formation of estates scattered so as to endanger the safety of the land-revenue.

13. The Collector may refuse to admit an application for the formation of land held in severalty into a separate estate, or to proceed with a partition undertaken on such an application, or to admit or proceed with any other application for partition, if, in consequence of the land being intermingled with that held by other proprietors, the result of the partition would be to form out of a compact estate one or more estates consisting of scattered parcels of land in such a way as, in the opinion of the Collector, to endanger the safety of the land-revenue:

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter III—Security of the Land-Revenue.—Sections 14—16.)

Provided as follows:—

(a) a partition may be allowed in any such case if the recorded proprietors agree to such a distribution of land as would make the estates formed by the partition reasonably compact;

(b) nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the partition into separate estates of any parent estate which before such partition is not compact and consists only of scattered parcels of land.

Interest alienated with special condition as to liability for land-revenue.

14. No proprietor who has alienated any portion of his interest in an estate, or in any specific land of an estate, by private contract, with the condition that the transferee shall be liable in respect of the interest acquired by him to pay a specified amount or a specified share of the land-revenue for which the estate is liable (such amount or share being other than the proportionate amount or the proportionate share for which such transferred interest if formed into a separate estate would be liable under section 10), and no proprietor who has derived his title from any proprietor who has made any alienation as aforesaid, shall be entitled to claim a separation under this Act of the interest which he continues to hold in the estate; and no such transferee as aforesaid, and no person deriving his title from such a transferee, shall be entitled to claim a separation of the interest which has been so acquired:

Provided that a separation of such interests may be made if the parties concerned agree—

(a) to waive the conditions of the contract as regards the proportion of land-revenue for which the transferor and transferee or their representatives respectively are liable, and

(b) to hold the estates which may be allotted to them respectively by the partition subject to the payment of such amount of land-revenue as may be assessed upon them respectively under this Act.

Sale, for arrears of land-revenue, of an estate which is under partition.

15. If any estate has been declared to be under partition as provided in section 29, any arrears of land-revenue accruing due thereon before the date specified in the notice issued under section 94 may be realised by sale of the estate as if the same had not been declared to be under partition; and, if such sale takes place, the partition proceedings shall cease from the date thereof, but shall be revived if the sale is set aside.

Sale, for arrears of land-revenue, of share in an estate which is under partition.

16. Nothing contained in section 15 shall be deemed to affect the provisions of section 10, section 11, section 12, section 13 or section 14 of Act XI of 1859 (an Act to improve the law relating to sales of land for arrears of revenue in the Lower Provinces under the Bengal Presidency), or any similar law for the time being in force, in respect to the opening of separate accounts for different shares in an estate and the protection afforded to such shares thereby:

Provided that, if any share in any estate is sold for its own arrears of land-revenue while such estate is under partition in accordance with the provisions of this Act, such share shall be sold subject to the partition proceedings, which shall proceed as if no such sale had taken place; and the purchaser of the share sold may, from the date of such sale, exercise all the rights which the proprietor whose share he has purchased might have exercised, and shall be subject to all the liabilities to which such proprietor would have been subject in respect of the partition proceedings.

CHAPTER IV.

to the papers of every measurement and record of-rights which has respectively been made of and prepared for the estate by any officer appointed in that behalf by the Government or other competent authority and of which the person verifying the application under sub-section (2) has knowledge.

(2) The said application, rent-roll and specification shall be verified at the foot of the application, by the applicant, or by his duly authorised agent having personal knowledge of the facts stated therein, in the manner following, or to the like effect:—

"I, A. B., declare that the particulars contained in this application and in the rent-roll and specification accompanying it are correct to the best of my knowledge and belief."

(3) If the said application, rent-roll or specification contains any entry which the person making the verification knows or believes to be false, or does not believe to be true, such person shall be liable to be punished in the same manner as if he gave false evidence.

(4) If the person presenting the application is unable to produce a rent-roll as required by sub-section (1) of this section, he shall state the reason of such inability, and the name and address of the person who has in his possession the information necessary for the preparation of such rent-roll; and the Collector may, if he thinks fit, require such person to produce such rent-roll.

Procedure if application is not in order.

20. If any such application does not in the opinion of the Collector fulfil the requirements of the foregoing sections of this Chapter, he may either reject it or return it for amendment.

Notification and notice of application.

21. If in the opinion of the Collector the application fulfils the said requirements, and if there appears to him to be no objection to making the partition, he shall—

(a) publish a notification of the application in the manner prescribed by section 104, and also by causing copies to be posted up at the Court of the Judge of the district and at the Court of every Munsif and Sub-divisional Officer within whose jurisdiction, and at every police-station within the jurisdiction of which, any land appertaining to the estate is known to be situated;

(b) by such notification invite any person claiming any proprietary right in the estate, who may object to the partition, to state his objection, either in person or by duly authorized agent, on or before a day to be specified in the notification, not being less than thirty or more than sixty days from the date of the publication of the notification on the estate; and

(c) serve a notice of the application on such of the recorded proprietors of the estate as have not joined in the application, on any unrecorded proprietor who has been named in the application, and on every proprietor of any other estate who holds land in common with the proprietors of the estate to which the application relates.

Power to reject application on receipt of objection.

22. If any person claiming a proprietary right as aforesaid states an objection to the partition on or before the day specified in the notification published under section 21, or at any subsequent time if it shall then seem fit to the Collector to admit such objection, and the Collector, on consideration of the objection, is of opinion that there is good and sufficient reason for rejecting the application, he may reject the same, and if he does so shall record the grounds of such rejection.

Procedure when objection raises any question of right or title or of extent of interest.

23. If any such objection raises any question of right or title or of extent of interest as between any applicant and any other person claiming to be a proprietor of the parent estate, and if it appears to the Collector that such question has not been already determined by a Court of competent jurisdiction, the Collector may hold such inquiry into the objection as he may deem necessary, and, if he be satisfied that the applicant is in possession of the extent of the interest for the separation of which he has applied, may, instead of rejecting the application as provided in section 22,

(a) direct that the partition proceedings shall proceed for the purpose of forming and assigning to the applicant a separate estate in accordance with the extent of interest claimed by him in the parent estate; or (b) direct that such proceedings be postponed for four months.

Resumption of proceedings after postponement.

24. At the expiration of the said four months the Collector shall resume the proceedings, unless the person who has made the objection, or some other person,—

(a) has obtained an order from a Civil Court directing that such proceedings be stayed, or

(b) shows that a suit has been instituted before a Civil Court to try some question of such a nature as to lead the Collector to think the proceedings ought to be stayed until the question has been finally decided or until the proceedings in such Court in respect thereof shall have terminated.

Suits instituted after four months not to affect or stay proceedings for partition.

25. No suit instituted in a Civil Court, after the lapse of four months after the Collector has—

(a) made a direction under clause (a) or clause (b) of section 23; or

(b) recorded a proceeding under section 29,

by any person claiming any right or title in or to a parent estate, shall avail to affect or stay the progress of any proceedings which may have been taken under this Act for the partition of the estate.

Decree made while partition proceedings are in progress.

26. (1) Every decree affecting a parent estate made by a Civil Court after the estate has been declared under section 29 to be under partition, but before the date specified in the notice served under section 94,—

(a) shall be made in recognition of the proceedings in progress under this Act for the partition of the estate, and

(b) shall be framed in such manner that the decree may be applied to, and carried out in reference to, the separate estates which the Collector in his proceeding recorded under section 29 has ordered to be formed out of the parent estate.

(2) If the effect of any such decree be to declare any person or body of persons to be entitled to any extent of interest in the parent estate in excess of the extent of interest which the Collector in the said proceeding has declared to be held by such person or body of persons, the decree shall specify, separately in respect of every proprietor or body of proprietors of whose interests the Collector has separately specified the extent in the said proceeding, the proportion of such excess which such person or body of persons is entitled to recover from every such proprietor or body of proprietors; and every person or body of persons so entitled to recover any extent of interest from any such proprietor or body of proprietors shall, for the purposes of the partition proceedings, be deemed to have the same rights, and to be subject to the same liabilities, as a person who has acquired such extent of interest from a proprietor or body of proprietors by private purchase after an estate has been brought under partition under section 29 and on the date on which the decree was passed; and such person or body of persons may apply, as in this Act provided, for the separation and assignment to him or them of the lands representing the extent of interest so acquired;

and, notwithstanding anything contained in section 11, such application shall be dealt with as provided in section 30; and the lands thereupon assigned to the said person or body of persons shall be amalgamated with his or their separate estate.

Decree made after partition proceedings completed.

27. (1) Every decree affecting a parent estate made by a Civil Court after the date specified in the notice served under section 94, in a suit which was instituted as mentioned in section 25,—

(a) shall be made in recognition of the partition proceedings, and

(b) shall be framed so as to give effect to the division of the parent estate into separate estates which has been ordered by the Collector, and so as not to disturb such division.

(2) If the effect of any such decree be to declare any person or body of persons to have been entitled to any extent of interest in the parent estate in excess of the extent of interest which is represented by the separate estate assigned to such person or body of persons by the Collector in the partition proceedings, the decree shall specify, separately in respect of the proprietor or joint proprietors of every separate estate formed by the partition, the proportion of such excess of interest which such person or body of persons is entitled to recover from such proprietor or joint proprietors; and every person or body of persons so entitled to recover any extent of interest from the proprietor or joint proprietors of a separate estate shall be entitled to recover such extent of interest out of the separate estate which has been assigned to such proprietor or joint proprietors, and out of such separate estate only;

and the decree shall be executed by placing the person or persons so entitled in the position of a recorded joint proprietor or recorded joint proprietors of such separate estate, holding the same as a joint undivided estate in common tenancy with the proprietor or joint proprietors to whom such separate estate was assigned by the Collector in the partition proceedings, the extent of the interest of the joint proprietors respectively in such estate being such as is declared in the decree.

Power of Civil Court to order partition on application being made to Collector.

28. (1) A Civil Court may at any time direct the Collector, upon an application being made to him in accordance with sections 17, 18 and 19,—

(a) to assign to any person land representing a specified interest in any estate, or in any specified village or tract of land in an estate, to be held by such person as a separate estate; or

(b) to divide off from any estate any specified land or villages, and to assign it or them to any person to be held as a separate estate:

Provided that no Civil Court shall in any such case—

(i) specify the amount of land-revenue for which any separate estate which it may direct to be formed under the provisions of this section shall be liable, or

(ii) direct the Collector to carry out a partition otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(2) The Collector shall assess the land-revenue on every such separate estate in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Admission of application for partition, and procedure thereupon.

29. If no objection be made, within the time specified in the notification published under section 21, to an application for partition, or when all objections have been disposed of, and if the Collector has no reason to believe that any obstacle exists to his making the partition as applied for, he shall direct that the application be admitted, and shall record a proceeding—

(a) declaring the estate to be under partition for the purpose of forming and assigning to the applicant a separate estate;

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter IV.—Initiation and Discontinuance of Partition Proceedings.—Sections 30, 31.)

(b) declaring the extent of interest in the parent estate which he finds to be held by the applicant or joint applicants; or, if more than one separate application for separation has been admitted, the extent of interest in the parent estate which he finds to be held by every separate applicant or body of joint applicants, respectively;

(c) declaring the extent of interest which remains to any recorded proprietor or body of recorded proprietors who are not applicants;

(d) ordering that land proportionate to the interest so declared to be held by each applicant, or body of joint applicants respectively, shall be formed into a separate estate, to be assigned to such applicant or body of joint applicants; and

(e) ordering that land proportionate to the interest so declared to remain to any recorded proprietor or body of recorded proprietors who are not applicants shall be left forming a separate estate; and shall at the same time issue a notice to each of the proprietors by registered post letter informing him that the application for partition has been admitted and that the partition will be proceeded with, and requiring him to register his name and address and to appoint an agent to accept service of process and to make any appearance or application or do any act required or authorized to be made or done by a party to a partition under this Act.

Subsequent application for separation of another share.

30. (1) At any time after the Collector has recorded a proceeding under section 29, and before the Deputy Collector has partitioned the land into separate estates under section 57, any recorded proprietor in the estate, other than the original applicant, may apply for the separation of his share.

(2) The Collector may reject or admit any such application; and if he admits it may order either that proceedings for effecting such separation shall be carried on simultaneously with the previous proceedings or that compliance with the application be postponed until such previous proceedings have been completed and the shares separated in accordance therewith.

(3) When the consideration of any application which has been postponed under sub-section (2) is resumed, the papers of the previous proceedings aforesaid may be used so far as they are applicable.

Power of Collector to refer application for partition to Deputy Collector.

31. The Collector may refer any application for partition to any Deputy Collector for the purpose of making inquiries and doing any other thing authorised or required by this Chapter:

Provided that every order—

(a) rejecting an application under section 22,

(b) directing, under section 23, that partition proceedings shall proceed or shall be postponed,

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter IV.—Initiation and Discontinuance of Partition Proceedings.—Chapter V.—Establishments and Costs.—Sections 23—35)

(c) directing, under section 29, that an application for partition be admitted,

(d) made under section 30, or

(e) appointing a Deputy Collector under section 32, and every proceeding recorded under section 29, shall be made and recorded, respectively, by the Collector and not by any Deputy Collector.

Power of Collector to appoint Deputy Collector to carry out partition.

32. As soon as the Collector has declared an estate to be under partition as provided in section 29, he may appoint a Deputy Collector to carry out the partition and all or any of the proceedings necessary thereto.

Power to strike partition case off the file, on petition of parties. Recovery of costs.

33. (1) If, at any time after an order has been passed for making a partition of a parent estate, all the recorded proprietors of the estate present a petition to the effect that they do not wish the partition to proceed, the Collector may, after such enquiry as he considers necessary, strike the partition case off the file, and at the same time require the proprietors to pay all costs incurred in and about the partition.

(2) Any such costs which have not already been levied as provided in section 37 shall be levied in proportion to the shares of the respective proprietors.

Power of Commissioner to strike partition case off the file. Recovery of costs.

34. (1) If, at any time after an order has been passed for making a partition, it appears to the Commissioner that any sufficient reason exists why the partition should not be proceeded with, he may, on the report of the Collector or otherwise, after issuing a notice calling on the persons interested to show cause why the partition case should not be struck off the file, and after considering any objections which may be made, order the partition case to be struck off the file.

(2) All costs which have not already been levied as provided in section 37 shall thereupon be levied in proportion to the shares of the respective proprietors.

CHAPTER V.

ESTABLISHMENTS AND COSTS.

Power to appoint establishments and prescribe scale of remuneration.

35. The Deputy Collector, with the approval of the Collector, and subject to any rules made in that behalf by the Board, may appoint such persons as may be needed for the purposes of any proceedings under this Act and prescribe the scale of their remuneration.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter V.—Establishments and Costs.—Sections 36—40.)

Power to appoint special establishment.

36. In any district or division in which partitions are so numerous or extensive as to render necessary the appointment of a special establishment in the office of the Collector or of the Commissioner, the Collector or the Commissioner, as the case may be, with the previous sanction of the Board, may appoint such establishment.

Estimating and levy of cost of partition.

37. (1) As soon as possible after an estate has been declared to be under partition as provided in section 29, the Collector shall estimate the cost of making the partition; and the amount shall be levied from the proprietors in such instalments and at such times as may be fixed by rules made by the Board.

(2) If the amount first estimated is found insufficient, supplementary estimates may be made from time to time, and the required amount may be levied as provided in sub-section (1).

Apportionment of cost of partition.

38. The cost of making a partition shall be apportioned on the proprietors of the several shares in proportion to their shares:

Provided that whenever it appears to the Collector that any partition proceedings have been unnecessarily delayed and the cost of the partition enhanced, by obstacles vexatiously put in the way of the completion of the proceedings by one or more of the proprietors, or by want of due diligence on the part of one or more of the proprietors in carrying out any requisition made upon him or them, the Collector may direct that such portion of the cost as he may think proper, in excess of the amount proportionate to the share or shares of such proprietor or proprietors, shall be paid by him or them.

Power of Deputy Collector to declare cost of local inquiry and by whom it is to be paid.

39. Whenever any local inquiry is held by the Deputy Collector or any other officer, in consequence of an objection raised by any person to any record of measurements, rent-roll or other information which has been laid before the Deputy Collector, the Deputy Collector may declare the cost which has been incurred by such inquiry, and may direct that the entire cost so declared—

(a) shall be paid by the person making the objection, or by any one of the proprietors; or

(b) shall be paid, in such proportions as the Deputy Collector thinks fit, by the said person and the proprietors or any of them; or

(c) shall be deemed to be a part of the cost of the partition.

On completion of partition, total cost to be declared and account adjusted.

40. (1) Upon the completion of a partition, the Collector shall make an order declaring the total cost thereof.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter V.—Establishments and Costs.—Sections 41, 42.)

(2) The account shall then be adjusted, either by returning to the proprietors any sums which they may have paid in excess of the total cost, or, if necessary, by levying from them, in the manner provided in section 108, any sums remaining due.

Power to direct that salary of Deputy Collector, and cost of special establishment, be recovered as part of costs of partitions.

41. (1) Whenever it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that the work required to be done in connection with partitions under this Act in any district is so great that it would, if concentrated in the hands of one or more Deputy Collectors, fully occupy the time of such one or more Deputy Collectors, he may make an order directing that the salary of such one or more Deputy Collectors, as the case may be, shall be recovered from the proprietors of estates under partition in such district, as part of the costs of such partitions.

(2) For the purposes of sub-section (1) the salary of a Deputy Collector shall be deemed to be the amount of salary which is drawn by a Deputy Collector of the lowest grade.

(3) Whenever it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that the said work in any district is so great as to occupy a considerable portion, though not the whole, of the time of a Deputy Collector, or whenever a special establishment is appointed under section 36, the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that a portion of the salary of such Deputy Collector or the whole of the cost of such special establishment shall be recovered from the proprietors of estates under partition in such district, as part of the costs of such partitions.

Estates Partition Fund.

42. (1) The Lieutenant-Governor may direct that in any district a Fund, to be called the "Estates Partition Fund," shall be formed, into which all sums levied from the proprietors of estates in such district in respect of partitions of their estates shall be paid and from which all costs of making partitions of estates in such district shall, except as provided in section 43, be defrayed.

(2) When the formation of an Estates Partition Fund has been directed in any district, the charges leviable in that district from the proprietors of any estate under partition may, notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing sections of this Chapter, be levied according to a general scale of fees to be fixed by the Board.

(3) Such scale of fees shall be fixed, as nearly as may be, so that the receipts and expenditure of the said Fund shall balance one another, and shall be revised from time to time by the Board so as to secure compliance with this condition.

(4) The said fees shall be apportioned, and the proportionate amount thereof due from any proprietor or proprietors may be increased, in the manner and under the circumstances mentioned in section 38.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter V.—Establishments and Costs.—Chapter VI.—Proceedings up to the Determination of the Partition.—Sections 43—45.)

(5) The said fees shall be levied from the proprietors in such instalments and at such times as may be fixed in accordance with any rules which the Board may make in this behalf.

(6) An abstract of the Estates Partition Fund of each district, made up to the end of each financial year, shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette and posted up at the office of the Collector of the district.

Order by Civil Court for payment by parties of costs of partition.

43. (1) Whenever any Civil Court makes a decree awarding or declaring any proprietary right in an estate, and requires the Collector to make a partition of the estate, the Court shall, subject to the provisions of sections 38 and 39, at the same time direct either—

(a) that the party or parties who has or have withheld the right so decreed shall defray the whole of the costs of the partition or the whole of the fees payable in respect of the partition under section 42, or

(b) that the said costs or fees shall be defrayed by all or any of the parties to the suit in which the decree was made, in such proportions as the Court may, upon a consideration of the particular circumstances of the case, deem equitable.

(2) Copies of all orders passed under sub-section (1) shall be transmitted to the Collector for his guidance, together with the precept which the Court issues to him requiring him to divide the estate; and the Collector shall levy the said costs or fees from the parties, in accordance with the order, in the same manner and by the same means as if the levy of such costs or fees had been ordered by himself.

CHAPTER VI.

PROCEEDINGS UP TO THE DETERMINATION OF THE PARTITION.

Powers of Deputy Collector in making a partition.

44. Every Deputy Collector making a partition shall, as regards the estate under partition, have so far as they are applicable all the powers exerciseable by a Survey Officer under the Bengal Survey Act, 1875, and by a Revenue Officer employed in preparing a record-of-rights under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

Ben. V of 1875.

VIII of 1885.

Deputy Collector when to make survey and prepare record of existing rents and assets.

45. As soon as the Collector has recorded a proceeding under section 29, declaring an estate to be under partition, the Deputy Collector shall, subject to the provisions of section 49, make a survey and prepare a record of existing rents and other assets of all lands included in the estate.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter VI.—Proceedings up to the Determination of the Partition.—Sections 46, 47.)

Particulars to be recorded.

46. In making a survey and preparing a record of existing rents and other assets of land under section 45, the Deputy Collector shall ascertain and record the following particulars, namely:—

(a) the name of each proprietor, landlord and tenant of the estate, and of every owner of revenue-free land and occupier of rent-free land therein;

(b) the situation, area and boundaries of the land owned or occupied by each of the said persons, and the character and extent of the interest held by each, and the area of all other land in the estate which is not held by tenants;

(c) the rent then payable for all rent-paying lands,—

(i) as stated by the landlord,

(ii) as stated by the tenant, and

(iii) as taken by the Deputy Collector for the purposes of the partition; and

(d) the assets, if any, of all other lands; and shall be guided by such rules as the Board may make under section 121, clause (l).

Attestation of survey papers and record of existing rents and assets.

47. (1) When the Deputy Collector has made a survey and prepared a record of existing rents and other assets of land under section 45, he shall publish a notification, in a form to be prescribed by the Board, fixing a day on which he will be present in the village, or at a convenient place within limits of distance to be fixed by general or special order of the Board, for the purpose of attesting the survey papers and record of existing rents and other assets.

(2) On the date fixed by the notification, or on any other date to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the entries made in the record of existing rents and other assets under section 46, or such of them as the Board may by rule prescribe, shall be read out, and corrected or added to as may appear necessary, in the presence of such of the interested persons as are in attendance.

(3) If the correctness of any entry is disputed, the Deputy Collector shall note the statements of such of the persons aforesaid as are interested in the disputed entry and shall, after making such local enquiry, if any, as he thinks fit, pass a summary order declaring what entry shall be accepted for the purposes of the partition.

(4) If the correctness of any measurement is called in question and a fresh measurement is demanded, the Deputy Collector may require the costs of the re-measurement to be deposited.

(5) If the re-measurement shows the original measurement to have been inaccurate, the amount deposited shall be refunded to the objector.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter VI.—Proceedings up to the Determination of the Partition.—Sections 48—50.)

Publication of survey papers and record of existing rents and assets.

48. When the survey papers and the record of existing rents and other assets have been attested as provided in section 47, the Deputy Collector shall cause a copy thereof to be locally published in such manner and for such period as the Board may by rule prescribe, and there shall be furnished to each landlord and tenant a copy of such of the entries relating to his estate, tenure or holding, as the case may be, as the Board may by rule prescribe.

Power of Deputy Collector to accept previous survey, record-of-rights, measurements or rent-rolls, instead of making a new survey and a record of existing rents and assets.

49. If at any time a survey of the estate under partition or any part thereof has been made or a record-of-rights prepared by an officer appointed in that behalf under the orders of the Government, or if any measurement papers and rent-rolls are filed under section 19, or at any time before a survey has been begun under section 45, and if the correctness of such measurement papers and rent-rolls is admitted in writing by all the proprietors, and is verified by the Deputy Collector after testing on the spot, and if the Deputy Collector is satisfied that the land-revenue would not be endangered, the Deputy Collector may, unless the Collector otherwise directs, and after making any correction which may appear necessary, accept the papers of such survey, or the said record-of-rights, measurement papers or rent-rolls, instead of making a new survey and preparing a record of existing rents and other assets under section 45.

Record of order fixing of day for determining partition and service of notices.

50. When the documents referred to in section 48 have been published, or any documents referred to in section 49 have been accepted, the Deputy Collector shall record an order stating that such documents have been adopted for the purposes of the partition, and shall—

(a) fix a day on which to determine the partition of the lands into the several separate estates,

(b) publish a notification calling on all the proprietors to be present on the day so fixed, such day being not less than thirty or more than sixty days after the publication of the notification in his office, and at the same time serve a notice on each of the proprietors to the same effect, and

(c) serve a similar notice on the proprietors of each of the adjoining estates, inviting them to appear and file their objections, if any, if they dispute the possession of any land of the estate under partition.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter VII.—Partition by Amicable Arrangement or by Arbitration.—Sections 51—55.)

CHAPTER VII.

PARTITION BY AMICABLE ARRANGEMENT OR BY ARBITRATION.

Power to allow partition to be made by proprietors themselves or by arbitrators.

51. (1) If all the recorded proprietors present, on or before the day fixed under section 50, a petition requesting to be allowed to make the partition on the basis of the papers adopted by the Deputy Collector under Chapter VI,—

(a) privately among themselves, or the Deputy Collector may grant the request.

(2) If, after such request has been granted, the proprietors or the arbitrators fail to make the partition within such time as may be fixed by the Deputy Collector in that behalf, the Deputy Collector shall make the partition himself.

Procedure on reference to arbitration.

52. When a partition has been referred to arbitration, the proceedings shall, except as hereinafter otherwise expressly provided, be conducted in accordance with the provisions of sections 506 to 522 (both inclusive) of the Code of Civil Procedure, so far as they are applicable. XIV of 1882.

Arbitrators to deliver a partition paper.

53. (1) The arbitrator or arbitrators shall, within a period to be fixed by the Deputy Collector, which period may be further extended by him, deliver to the Deputy Collector a full and complete paper of partition, in such form as the Board may, by rule, prescribe.

(2) If default is made in complying with sub-section (1), the Deputy Collector may withdraw the case from arbitration and may make the partition himself.

Remuneration of arbitrators.

54. (1) The arbitrator or arbitrators, on delivering the paper of partition as aforesaid, shall be entitled to reasonable fees for his or their services.

(2) The amount of such fees shall be fixed, with the approval of the Commissioner, by the Deputy Collector who made the reference to arbitration, and shall be deemed to form part of the costs of making the partition.

Approval of Deputy Collector and other authorities.

55. Every partition made under this Chapter by proprietors or by an arbitrator or arbitrators shall be subject to the approval of the Collector and the confirmation of the Commissioner:

Provided that no such partition shall be disallowed except—

(a) on the ground of fraud, or

(b) on the ground that the partition cannot be confirmed without endangering the safety of the land-revenue.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter VII.—Partition by Amicable Arrangement or by Arbitration.—Chapter VIII.—Making of Partitions by the Deputy Collector, and Approval thereof by the Collector.—Sections 56, 57.)

Assessment of land-revenue.

56. When a partition has been made under this Chapter, the land-revenue on each separate estate into which the parent estate is divided by such partition shall be assessed by the Collector in the manner prescribed by section 10.

CHAPTER VIII.

MAKING OF PARTITIONS BY THE DEPUTY COLLECTOR, AND APPROVAL THEREOF BY THE COLLECTOR.

Procedure where no petition presented under section 51.

57. (1) If no petition is presented under section 51, the Deputy Collector shall, on the day fixed under section 50, or on any subsequent day or days to which the hearing may be postponed by notice posted at his office,—

(i) consult all proprietors who are present, and

(ii) hear, and, after such enquiry as he may consider necessary, dispose of, any objections which they may urge.

(2) The Deputy Collector shall then proceed to determine how the lands of the parent estate shall be partitioned into the separate estates, and all matters arising out of such partition; and shall cause to be prepared—

(a) a paper of partition, in a form prescribed by rules made by the Board, specifying in detail—

(i) the lands which he has included in each separate estate, and the area of such lands,

(ii) the rental of such lands, and the other assets, if any, of each separate estate,

(iii) the name or names of the recorded proprietor or proprietors of each separate estate,

(iv) any stipulations which may have been made regarding places of worship, tanks or other matters mentioned in Chapter IX, and

(v) the amount of land-revenue to be assessed on each separate estate in the manner prescribed by section 10; and

(b) a map showing the lands which fall within each separate estate and the boundaries of such lands.

(3) In making the partition the Deputy Collector shall be guided by the provisions of Chapter IX, and shall make the partition in the manner which, in his opinion, is on the whole most in accordance with those provisions and most equitable and convenient to all parties concerned.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter VIII.—Making of Partitions by the Deputy Collector, and Approval thereof by the Collector.—Sections 58—60.)

Submission of case to Collector; his duties.

58. (1) The partition, as made under this Chapter, shall be submitted for the sanction of the Collector, and he shall by notice fix a day for the consideration of the same.

(2) Every such notice shall be served on the proprietors and shall be published in the manner prescribed by section 104.

(3) The day fixed by the said notice shall be not less than fifteen days after the publication of the notice at the Collector's office.

(4) After hearing and disposing of any objection which may be preferred, the Collector shall pass such orders as he may think proper—

(a) approving the partition, with or without amendments; or

(b) making a new partition; or

(c) returning the papers to the Deputy Collector for amendment of the partition, or for making a new partition, with such directions as to the Collector may seem fit in regard to the issue of a notice to appear to the proprietors or any of them who are specially interested.

(5) If the papers are returned to the Deputy Collector, the Collector shall, on their re-submission, proceed again to consider the partition as provided in the foregoing sub-sections of this section.

Duties of Deputy Collector when partition has been approved by Collector, or when Collector makes a new partition.

59. (1) When the partition has been approved by the Collector, the Deputy Collector shall, after making such alterations as may be necessary in the partition paper or map, or preparing a new partition paper or map, in accordance with the orders passed by the Collector,

(a) cause to be prepared a separate extract of the portion of the partition paper which relates to each separate estate;

(b) cause to be tendered to any recorded proprietor of a separate estate, or any authorized agent of such proprietor, who may be in attendance at the Deputy Collector's office, the extract which relates to such separate estate, and

(c) publish a notification at his office calling upon every proprietor to whom or to whose agent an extract from the partition paper has not been tendered as aforesaid, to take out of the Deputy Collector's office the extract of the portion of the partition paper relating to his separate estate.

(2) If the circumstances of the partition so require, an extract of the map prepared by the Deputy Collector, or a copy of such map, shall be annexed to every separate extract from the partition paper mentioned in sub-section (1).

(3) The Deputy Collector shall also proceed in the manner hereinbefore provided when the Collector makes a new partition.

Proprietor not appearing on fixed day not entitled to make objection.

60. No proprietor who has failed to appear before the Deputy Collector in person or by agent on a day fixed, under section 50 or section 57 for the partition of the lands into the several separate estates, and no proprietor who has failed so to appear before the Collector on a day fixed under section 58, shall, unless he shows sufficient cause for such failure, be entitled at any subsequent time to make any objection to the orders which may be passed on such days respectively.

Submission of the papers to the Commissioner after approval of the partition by the Collector.

61. When a partition has been approved by the Collector, or when he has made a new partition, and after the tender of extracts and the publication of a notification as provided in section 59, the Collector—shall cause a notice to be served on each of the recorded proprietors, stating that the papers will be submitted at once for confirmation of the partition by the Commissioner, and that any appeals or objections must be presented to the Commissioner, or to the Collector for transmission to the Commissioner, within thirty days from the date of the service of the said notice; and shall, after the issue of such notice, forward to the Commissioner all papers relating to the partition.

CHAPTER IX.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES FOR MAKING PARTITIONS.

Lands held in common tenancy.

Separate estates to be made compact.

62. Each separate estate shall be made as compact as is compatible with the primary object of making an equitable partition among the proprietors and with the provisions of this Chapter.

Circumstances to be considered in making partitions.

63. In selecting the villages or land to be assigned to each separate estate formed out of a parent estate which has been held in common tenancy, the Collector shall take into consideration the advantages or disadvantages arising from—

(a) situation;

(b) the vicinity of roads, railways or navigable rivers or canals;

(c) the nature and quality of the soil and produce;

(d) the quantity of cultivable and uncultivable waste land;

(e) the facilities for irrigation;

(f) the state of embankments and watercourses, and

(g) liability to accretion and diluvion;

and any other circumstances affecting the value of the land.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions.—Lands held in common tenancy.—Sections 64—68.)

Rights when dwelling-house belonging to one proprietor is situated on land to be allotted to another proprietor.

64. (1) If a dwelling-house belonging to one proprietor is situated on any land which it may be necessary to include in the separate estate of another proprietor, the owner of the house may retain occupation thereof, with the buildings and grounds immediately attached thereto, upon agreeing to pay rent annually in perpetuity for the land occupied by the house, buildings and grounds to the proprietor of the separate estate in which such land is included.

(2) The limits of the land so occupied and the rent to be paid for it shall be fixed by the Deputy Collector, and shall be stated in the paper of partition.

(3) In every such case a defined pathway shall, as far as possible, be secured to the owner of the house, leading from the house to some portion of the separate estate allotted to him.

Power to apply section 64 to gardens, etc.

65. Whenever the Deputy Collector thinks fit, he may apply the provisions of section 64 to gardens, orchards, land planted with bamboos, and any other land which in his opinion is of special value to the proprietor in whose occupation it is found to be, in consequence of improvements made by such proprietor or of the particular use to which such land is put.

Rent for land fixed under section 64 or 65 deemed to be the assets of the land.

66. The rent fixed in perpetuity on any land by the Deputy Collector under section 64 or section 65 shall be deemed, for the purposes of the partition, to be the assets of such land.

Redemption of rent fixed under section 64.

67. When the dwelling-house of one proprietor, with the buildings and grounds immediately attached thereto, has been included in the separate estate of another proprietor, and the rent to be paid in perpetuity for the land occupied thereby has been fixed by the Deputy Collector and stated in the paper of partition, the first-mentioned proprietor may apply to the Deputy Collector for permission to redeem the rent so fixed, and the Deputy Collector shall give such permission unless he is of opinion that the redemption would endanger the safety of the land-revenue for the payment of which the separate estate in which such dwelling-house, buildings and grounds have been included will be liable.

Amount payable in redemption of rent.

68. (1) If the Deputy Collector gives permission as aforesaid, he shall certify the amount payable by the applicant in redemption of the rent.

(2) Such amount shall be ten per centum above the sum which would be required to produce, in interest at four per centum per annum, an annual sum equal to the said rent.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions.—Lands held in common tenancy.—Sections 69—73.)

Such amount when payable.

69. The amount certified under section 68 may be paid to the Deputy Collector at any time before, but not after, possession is, under section 94, given to the several proprietors of the separate estates allotted to them.

Notice of payment to be given, and land to be held rent-free.

70. On receipt of such payment, the Deputy Collector shall give notice to the proprietor in whose separate estate the land is situated—

(a) that such payment has been made ;

(b) that the sum will be paid to him or to his authorized agent on application, and

(c) that, from the date on which possession as aforesaid is given, the proprietor who has redeemed the rent of such land will be entitled to hold the land as a rent-free tenure secured against the proprietor to whom the notice is given and against any auction-purchaser at a sale for arrears of revenue, including the Government; and from such date the land shall be so held as a rent-free tenure.

Collector to register the rent-free tenure.

71. The Deputy Collector shall at the same time give notice to the Collector of the district of the creation of such tenure, and the Collector shall thereupon cause such tenure to be specially registered in the manner provided by section 42 of Act XI of 1859 (an Act to improve the law relating to sales of land for arrears of revenue in the Lower Provinces under the Bengal Presidency) or by any similar law for the time being in force.

Drawing of lots for equal shares.

72. When two or more of the separate estates consist of the same proportions of the parent estate, the Deputy Collector may, if he thinks proper, direct the parties entitled thereto respectively to draw lots in his presence for the equal separate estates which have been formed by assignment of land, unless the recorded proprietors of the equal shares agree among themselves as to the allotment of the equal separate estates and present a petition to that effect, or unless for any other reason the Deputy Collector, with the sanction of the Collector, thinks proper to assign the equal separate estates to the proprietors of the equal shares without causing lots to be drawn.

Order and method of drawing lots when aggregate of two or more shares equals one other share, or equals the aggregate of two or more other shares.

73. (1) When the aggregate of two or more shares equals one other share, or equals the aggregate of two or more other shares, the Deputy Collector, with the sanction of the Collector, may cause such aggregate shares to be treated as one share for the purpose of determining by lots as aforesaid which portion of the parent estate shall be assigned to each proprietor as his separate estate; and may decide which shares shall be formed into one aggregate share for the purpose of causing such lots to be drawn; and may cause lots to be drawn in like manner as often as he thinks proper for such purpose.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions.—Lands held in common tenancy.—Section 73.)

(2) After lots have been drawn once (or more than once if necessary) as aforesaid, the Deputy Collector shall proceed to divide the portion of the parent estate which has fallen by lot to each aggregate share, among the proprietors of the different shares which were formed into such aggregate share for the purpose of drawing lots, and shall assign to every such proprietor his separate estate within such portion in such position as the Deputy Collector may think proper.

Illustrations.

I.—The partition of a parent estate is being made into the following shares:—

8 annas.	3 annas.
4 annas.	1 anna.

For the purposes of drawing lots, the 4 annas, 3 annas and 1 anna shares may be taken together, and considered to be an aggregate 8 annas share.

The Deputy Collector will divide the parent estate into two halves of equal value, and will then cause lots to be drawn, in order to determine which of the two halves shall be assigned to the proprietor of the integral 8 annas share, and which shall be divided among the proprietors of the 4 annas, 3 annas and 1 anna shares.

Subsequently, if necessary, the Deputy Collector may again cause lots to be drawn by the proprietor of the 4 annas share on the one hand and the proprietors on the other hand of the aggregate share made up by taking together the 3 annas share and the 1 anna share.

II.—The partition is being made of a parent estate into the following shares:—

6 annas.	3 annas.
4 annas.	2 annas.
	1 anna.

Two tracts in the estate may first be marked off, the value of each being equivalent to a 6 annas share; and then, for the purpose of drawing lots in respect of the assignment of these two tracts, the 4 annas share and the 2 annas share may be taken together as an aggregate 6 annas share, and lots may be drawn between the proprietor of the aggregate 6 annas share so formed on the one hand, and the proprietor of the integral 6 annas share on the other.

One of the two 6 annas tracts having thus been finally assigned to the proprietor of the integral 6 annas share, the Deputy Collector will proceed to assign the rest of the estate among the remaining sharers; and he may again, for the purpose of causing lots to be drawn, mark off two tracts, the value of each of which shall be equivalent to 5 annas of the parent estate, and may cause lots to be drawn for these two tracts between the proprietors of the 4 annas share and the 1 anna share taken together as an aggregate 5 annas share on the one hand, and the proprietors of the 3 annas share and the 2 annas share taken together as another 5 annas share on the other.

Finally, their separate estates will be assigned to the proprietor of the 4 annas share and of the 1 anna share respectively, within the tract which fell to them jointly by lot; and their separate estates will be assigned to the proprietors of the 3 annas share and of the 2 annas share respectively within the tract which fell to them jointly by lot.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions.—Lands held in common tenancy.—Lands held in severalty.—Sections 74—76.)

Deputy Collector may require proprietors to attend or appoint agent for the purpose of drawing lots.

74. The Deputy Collector may, by notice, require any proprietor, in respect of whose share lots are to be drawn as provided in section 72 or section 73, to attend at the office of the Deputy Collector in person or by authorized agent, at a time to be fixed by the Deputy Collector, for the purpose of drawing lots; and may similarly require the proprietors of any shares which he may have ordered to be formed into an aggregate share for the purpose of drawing lots, jointly to appoint an agent to draw lots on their joint behalf; and if at the time fixed for drawing such lots, such proprietors have failed to agree to any such joint appointment, or fail to cause the attendance of an agent authorized to act jointly for all such proprietors, all such proprietors shall be deemed to have failed to comply with the Deputy Collector's requisition.

In default, Deputy Collector may appoint a person to draw lots.

75. If any proprietor or proprietors fail to comply with a requisition of the Deputy Collector under section 74, the Deputy Collector may appoint a person to draw lots on behalf of such proprietor or proprietors.

Lands held in severalty.

Partition according to separate possession, and apportionment of land-revenue.

76. (1) When the lands of an estate have been divided by private arrangement formally made and agreed to by all the proprietors, and each proprietor is, in pursuance of such arrangement, in possession of separate lands held in severalty as representing his interest in the estate, the joint application presented under section 7 may be to the effect—

(a) that a partition of the estate be made by assigning to each proprietor or to two or more proprietors jointly, as his or their separate estate or estates, the lands of which they are in separate possession in pursuance of such arrangement, and

(b) that each separate estate so formed be made liable for such portion of the entire land-revenue of the parent estate as was paid by the proprietor or proprietors thereof under the private arrangement aforesaid.

(2) The Deputy Collector who is appointed to carry out the partition in accordance with such application shall satisfy himself that the assets of each separate estate which it is proposed to form will be sufficient to secure the payment of the annual amount of land-revenue for which it is proposed to make such separate estate liable.

(3) If the Deputy Collector is not satisfied that the assets of each such separate estate will be sufficient as aforesaid, or that, with reference to the circumstances of the case, the partition of the land and the assessment of the land-revenue thereon may be made in the manner proposed without endangering the safety of the land revenue, he shall reject the application, unless all the recorded proprietors agree that the land-revenue for which the parent estate is liable shall be apportioned among the separate estates so to be formed in such a manner that the safety of the total amount of the land-revenue shall not be endangered.

Lands of which each proprietor is in possession to be allotted to him.

77. Whenever the Deputy Collector who is appointed to carry out a partition finds that, in pursuance of a private arrangement formally made and agreed to by all the proprietors of an estate, the proprietors respectively, or any of the proprietors, are in possession of separate parcels of land held in severalty as representing portions only of their respective interests in the parent estate, while other land of the parent estate is held in common tenancy between such proprietors, then, notwithstanding anything contained in section 7, a joint application shall not be required, and the Deputy Collector shall allot to the separate estate of each proprietor the land of which such proprietor is found to be in possession in severalty in accordance with such private arrangement.

Explanation.—Land held in the occupation of the several proprietors of an estate as sir, khamar or nij-jote, or under any other similar denomination, shall not be deemed to be land held in severalty as representing portions of their respective interests in the parent estate within the meaning of this section, which applies only to cases in which there has been a bonâ fide division, by private arrangement among the proprietors, of land held by tenants.

Collector may cause transfer of lands agreed to by parties.

78. Notwithstanding anything in section 77, the Collector may cause any transfer of land agreed to by the parties to be made from the possession of one proprietor to that of another.

Lands held in common tenancy and Lands held in severalty.

Places of worship, etc.

79. Places of worship, burning-grounds and burial-grounds which have been held in common previous to the partition of an estate, and land of which the proceeds have been assigned by the proprietors jointly for religious, charitable or public purposes, shall continue to be held in common unless the proprietors otherwise agree among themselves, in which case they shall state in writing the agreement into which they have entered, and the Deputy Collector shall enter a note of the agreement in the paper of partition.

Tanks, wells, water-courses, reservoirs and embankments.

80. (1) Tanks, wells, water-courses, reservoirs and embankments shall be deemed to be attached to the land for the benefit of which they were originally made.

(Estates Partition Act—Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions.—Lands held in common tenancy and Lands held in severalty.—Sections 81—83.)

(2) In cases in which, from the extent, situation or construction of any such works, it is found necessary that they should remain the joint property of the proprietors of two or more separate estates, the paper of partition shall specify, as far as the circumstances admit, the extent to which the proprietors of each of such estates may make use of the same, and the proportion of the charges for repairs to be borne by them respectively.

Splitting up of tenure or holding and apportionment of rent thereof.

81. (1) No tenure or holding shall be split up for the purposes of a partition unless it is reasonably necessary to do so in order to effect an equitable partition.

(2) If a tenure or holding be split up as aforesaid, the total existing rent thereof, as ascertained under Chapter VI, shall not be altered, but shall be apportioned among the several parts into which the tenure or holding is divided.

(3) When it is proposed to split up a tenure or holding and apportion the rent thereof as aforesaid, the Deputy Collector shall cause a notice to be served on the tenants concerned and, after hearing their objections, if any, may order that the tenure or holding be split up, and that the rent thereof be apportioned as aforesaid.

(4) The Deputy Collector shall notify such apportionment to the tenants concerned.

Land held rent-free not to be divided, except with consent of recorded proprietors.

82. When the Deputy Collector finds in a parent estate land which is claimed to be held rent-free and for which no rent is actually paid (whether the proprietors of the estate do or do not claim a right to receive rent from the land), he shall not make any division or assignment of such land among the separate estates, but shall specify in the partition papers and proceedings that such land is left appertaining jointly to all the separate estates which are formed out of the parent estate, in the proportion which each separate estate bears to the parent estate:

Provided that such land or any of it may be allotted among the different separate estates with the consent of all the proprietors of the parent estate.

Land held at fixed rent on permanent intermediate tenure.

83. (1) When the Deputy Collector finds in a parent estate any land which is held at a fixed rent on a patni or other permanent intermediate tenure created by all the proprietors of the estate or admitted by all the recorded proprietors to have been so created, he may either—

(a) assign such land and the assets thereof entirely to one or more of the separate estates formed out of the parent estate ; or

(b) leave such land unassigned to any separate estate, and specify in the partition paper and proceedings that the land is left appertaining jointly to all the separate estates which are formed out of the parent estate in the proportion which each separate estate bears to the parent estate.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions.—Lands held in common tenancy and Lands held in severalty.—Sections 84, 85.)

(2) In the event of such land being so left unassigned, the Deputy Collector shall assign to each separate estate such share of the rent of the tenure as bears the same proportion to the entire rent of the tenure as the separate estate bears to the parent estate.

(3) In dealing with a tenure under this section, the Deputy Collector shall take into consideration the extent of the land comprised in the tenure, and all other circumstances of the case.

Land held in common between the proprietors of two or more estates how to be dealt with when one estate is under partition.

84. When any land is held in common between the proprietors of two or more estates, one of which is under partition in accordance with the provisions of this Act, the Deputy Collector shall first allot to the estate under partition a portion of such common land of which the assets are in proportion to the interest which the proprietors of such estate hold in the said common land; and all the provisions of this Act in respect of the allotment, between the shareholders in one estate, of land which is held jointly by such shareholders, shall, as far as possible, apply to the allotment of the proportionate share of such common land to the estate under partition; and, in respect of the service of notices, the hearing of objections, and all other procedure in view to such allotment, the proprietors of the estate under partition, and all other proprietors of estates who have an interest in the said common land, shall be deemed to be joint proprietors of a parent estate consisting only of the land so held in common:

Provided that all costs of any division of lands so held in common between the proprietors of two or more estates shall be deemed to be costs of making the partition of the estate which is under partition, and shall be leviable, as provided by this Act, from the proprietors of such estate; and the proprietors of any other estate having an interest in such lands shall not be required to bear any portion of such costs.

When proprietors of other estates may be required to pay a portion of the costs of making a division under section 84.

85. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 84, if it appears to the Collector that the proceedings for any such division have been unnecessarily delayed and the cost of such division enhanced, by obstacles vexatiously put in the way of the completion of such division by any proprietor of any estate other than that under partition, or by want of due diligence on the part of any such proprietor in carrying out any requisition made upon him, the Collector may direct that such sum as he shall think fit shall be levied from every such proprietor who is responsible for such delay or additional cost; and every sum so levied shall be taken in diminution of the amount payable by the proprietors of the estate under partition as costs of such partition.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter IX.—General Principles for making Partitions.—Lands held in common tenancy and Lands held in severalty.—Sections 86—88.)

Allotment made under section 84 to be submitted to the Collector.

86. Every allotment made under section 84 shall be submitted for the approval of the Collector, who may confirm, amend or reject the same, and, if he rejects it, may make or direct to be made another allotment.

Land so allotted how to be dealt with.

87. When any allotment made under section 84 has been approved by the Collector, the land so allotted shall be dealt with in every respect as if it were held in common tenancy by such of the proprietors of the estate under partition as were found to hold interests in the common land.

Procedure when dispute or doubt exists as to whether any land forms part of a parent estate.

88. (1) If a dispute or doubt is found to exist as to whether any land forms part of a parent estate, the Deputy Collector shall, after due notice to the parties interested, enquire into the fact of possession, and shall report his conclusions to the Collector; and thereupon the Collector shall dispose of the matter as follows:—

(a) he may order that the partition case be struck off the file, if such an order appears to him advisable, and whether the possession of the disputed land is with the proprietors of the parent estate or otherwise; or

(b) he may order that the partition shall proceed, and that the disputed land be treated as part of the estate under partition, if the possession of such land is with the proprietors of the parent estate and the claim of the other parties to the right in such land appears to him untenable; or

(c) he may order that the partition shall proceed, but that the disputed land shall not be treated as part of the estate under partition, if the possession of such land is with the other parties and the claim of the proprietors of the parent estate to the right in such land appears to him untenable:

(i) if a claim to land alleged to be in dispute is filed after the Deputy Collector proceeds under section 57 to determine how the lands of the parent estate shall be partitioned into the separate estates, the claim shall not be enquired into under this section unless the delay on the part of the claimant is explained to the satisfaction of the Deputy Collector;

(ii) no partition shall be made in any case mentioned in this section if such partition would involve the assignment to any separate estate of such a quantity of the disputed land that the removal of such land from such estate at any subsequent time would, in the opinion of the Collector, endanger the safety of the land-revenue for which such estate would be liable after the partition.

(2) If a partition case is struck off the file under clause (a) of this section, no fresh application for partition shall be admitted unless and until the applicant shows that the dispute or doubt aforesaid has been decided by a Court of competent jurisdiction, or has been amicably settled; but, if a fresh application is admitted, the proceedings shall be revived from the point at which they were interrupted.

Procedure when partition completed in pursuance of order under section 88, clause (b), and proprietor of an estate dispossessed of any land by decree.

89. If, after a partition has been completed in pursuance of an order passed by the Collector under section 88, clause (b), the proprietor of any separate estate is dispossessed by a decree of a Court of competent jurisdiction of any land which has been assigned to his estate by the partition, the partition shall not be disturbed, but such proprietor shall be entitled to recover from the proprietors of the other separate estates formed by the partition such compensation as may be fair and equitable, having regard to the reduction in the proportionate value of his separate estate which is caused by such dispossession; and such compensation may be recovered in a Court of competent jurisdiction from the proprietors of those separate estates on which a proportionate share of the total loss caused by the dispossession does not fall.

CHAPTER X.

PROCEDURE BEFORE THE COMMISSIONER UP TO THE COMPLETION OF A PARTITION.

Procedure if proceedings require amendment or if appeal or objection presented.

90. (1) If it appears to the Commissioner that the proceedings of the Collector should be amended, or if an appeal or objection is presented within the time allowed by section 61, the Commissioner shall, by order, fix a day (not being less than thirty days from the date of such order) for hearing and disposing of the case, and shall cause notice of such day to be served through the Collector on all the parties.

(2) On the day so fixed, or on any subsequent day to which the hearing of the case may extend or is postponed by a notice posted up in his own office, the Commissioner shall, after hearing and disposing of all appeals and objections, and calling for any further information which he may consider necessary, either confirm the partition as approved or made by the Collector, with or without amendments, or return the papers of the partition to the Collector for any amendments which the Commissioner may think proper to be made.

(3) If the papers are returned to the Collector for amendment, the Collector shall proceed to make the required amendments or to cause them to be made in the same manner as if he had himself passed such orders on a partition submitted to him for approval by a Deputy Collector, and shall thereafter return the papers to the Commissioner, who may then confirm the partition.

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter X.—Procedure before the Commissioner up to the Completion of a Partition.—Sections 91—94.)

Procedure in other cases.

91. If it does not appear to the Commissioner that the proceedings of the Collector require amendment, or if no appeal or objection is presented within the time allowed by section 61, the Commissioner may proceed to consider the case without issuing any notice, and may confirm the partition as approved or made by the Collector.

Commissioner may return the papers for amendment or enquiry as often as he thinks fit.

92. The Commissioner may, before confirming a partition, return the papers for amendment or enquiry as often as he thinks fit, and as often as he so returns them the procedure prescribed in the foregoing sections of this Chapter shall be applicable.

Procedure by Collector on receipt of Commissioner's order confirming, or Board's order sanctioning, a partition.

93. (1) After the expiration of not less than sixty days from the date of the order of the Commissioner confirming a partition, or if an appeal has been preferred to the Board, or if any proceedings in respect of the partition be pending before the Board, then on receipt of the final order of the Board, if such order does not set aside but maintains, with or without amendments, the partition as confirmed by the Commissioner, the Collector shall cause to be published at his office, and at some conspicuous place in each of the estates separately constituted by the order of the Commissioner or the Board, as the case may be, a notice that the partition has been confirmed or sanctioned by the Commissioner or the Board, with or without amendments, as the case may be.

(2) If the partition as so confirmed or sanctioned involves any amendments which may conveniently be made on any extracts of the partition paper or on any maps which have been prepared and delivered to recorded proprietors under section 59, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served on every recorded proprietor whose estate is affected by such amendments, requiring him to produce such extracts and maps in order that such amendments may be noted on them; and, if the alterations made in the partition as so confirmed or sanctioned be such as to make it desirable to prepare fresh extracts or maps as aforesaid, the Collector shall cause such fresh extracts or maps to be prepared; and shall cause a notice to be served on each proprietor declaring the extract and map which was delivered under section 59 to be cancelled, and requiring him to take out of the Collector's office the fresh extract or map which has been prepared.

Procedure as to giving possession of separate estates.

94. (1) The Collector shall then proceed to give the several proprietors possession of the separate estates allotted to them, and, if necessary, may require the assistance of the Magistrate in giving such possession; and shall cause to be served on every recorded proprietor of a separate estate a notice—

(a) informing him that from the date specified in such notice the separate estate assigned to him, as described in the extract from the partition paper prepared and delivered or tendered to him

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter X.—Procedure before the Commissioner up to the Completion of a Partition.—Chapter XI.—Miscellaneous.—Sections 95—99.)

under section 59 or section 93, as the case may be, will be deemed to be separated from the parent estate, and to be separately liable for the amount of land-revenue specified in the notice, and (b) calling upon him to enter into a separate engagement for the payment of such land-revenue.

(2) The date specified in such notice shall be not more than three months after the proprietors have been given possession of their respective separate estates as provided in sub-section (1).

Each separate estate to be borne on the revenue roll and General Register as separately liable for the land-revenue assessed upon it.

95. From the date specified in such notice, each separate estate shall be borne on the revenue roll and General Register of the Collector as a distinct estate separately liable for the amount of land-revenue assessed upon it under this Act, and shall be so liable whether or not the proprietor has entered into a separate engagement for the payment of the amount of land-revenue so assessed upon the estate.

Boundary marks.

96. (1) The Collector may direct the erection of such boundary marks as he thinks proper, to distinguish the lands of each separate estate; and the cost of such boundary marks shall be deemed to be costs of the partition.

(2) Boundary marks so erected shall be assigned to zamindars, or to zamindars jointly with tenure-holders, for preservation, as provided in the third clause of section 29 of the Bengal Survey Act, 1875; and, after they have been so assigned, the provisions of sections 19, 20 and 52 to 57 (both inclusive) of the said Act shall apply in the case of such boundary marks. Ben. V of 1875.

CHAPTER XI.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Powers of Deputy Collector as to production of documents and attendance of witnesses.

97. For the purposes of any enquiry under this Act, the Deputy Collector shall, in addition to the powers specifically conferred upon him by this Act, have the powers conferred by Chapters X and XIV of the Code of Civil Procedure for compelling the production of documents and enforcing the attendance of witnesses. XIV of 1882.

General power to refer arbitration.

98. The Deputy Collector, with the consent of all the parties concerned, may refer to arbitration any point arising in the course of a partition; and the provisions of sections 52, 53 and 54 shall, as far as possible, be applicable to such references.

Saving of tenures, leases and encumbrances.

99. If any proprietor of an estate held in common tenancy and brought under partition in accordance with this Act has given his share or a portion thereof in patni or other tenure or on lease, or has created any other encumbrance thereon, such tenure, lease or encumbrance shall hold good as regards the lands finally allotted to the share of such proprietor, and only as to such lands

(Estates Partition Act.—Chapter XI.—Miscellaneous.—Sections 100—102.)

Illustrations.

I.—A, the proprietor of a quarter share in a joint-undivided estate held in common tenancy, gives to B a patni tenure of the whole of his interest in the estate, entitling B, as long as such estate is held in common tenancy, to collect one-fourth of the rent payable by every raiyat on the estate ; and partition of the said estate is made under this Act, and certain specific lands are assigned to A as his separate estate.

B will become patnidar of the entire separate estate which has been assigned to A, and will be entitled to collect the whole of the rents from the raiyats on that estate.

II.—A, a proprietor of a quarter share in a joint-undivided estate held in common tenancy, gives to B a patni tenure of one-half of his share in the estate, entitling B, as long as such estate is held in common tenancy, to collect one-eighth of the rent payable by every raiyat on the estate ; and partition of the estate is made under this Act, and certain specific lands are assigned to A as his separate estate.

RESOLUTION ON THE REVIEW OF EDUCATION IN BENGAL FROM THE YEARS 1892-93 TO 1896-97.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

READ—

The Review of Education in Bengal from the years 1892-93 to 1896-97, being the first Quinquennial Report, with which is incorporated the Annual Report for 1896-97.

Preliminary.

Under the instructions of the Government of India, the Provincial Education Report for 1896-97 embraces a summary of the educational operations of the last five years, arranged as far as possible in the same manner as the second quinquennial review of education in India which was compiled by the late Mr. A. M. Nash. The report is submitted by Dr. C. A. Martin, who assumed charge as officiating Director of the Department towards the close of August 1896, during the absence on leave and on deputation of Sir A. Croft. When Sir Alfred Croft retired from the public service on the 23rd February 1897, Dr. Martin was confirmed as Director of Public Instruction.

Dr. Martin has adopted the plan of dividing each Chapter into two parts, the first dealing with the quinquennium, the paragraphs in Mr. Nash's report to which it corresponds being indicated in the table of contents, and the second giving additional information regarding the operations of the last year. Much care has been taken to preserve conciseness, and though full of valuable and interesting matter, the review is only 33 pages longer than the report for 1895-96. The punctuality with which it has been submitted deserves special commendation.

2. Number under instruction.—The following table shows the number of schools and colleges in Bengal, and the number of pupils in them at the end of each year, from 1891-92 to 1896-97:—

Compared with the figures for 1891-92, the total number of institutions had increased in 1896-97 by 23, or ·03 per cent., and the pupils attending them by 142,810, or 9·3 per cent. The largest number of institutions open during the quinquennium was, 70,853 in 1895-96, and the decrease to 67,847 in 1896-97 was due to the scarcity. The fluctuation, although to a less extent, in the number of pupils, was due to similar causes. The figures rose from 1,531,965 in 1891-92 to 1,677,002 in 1895-96, and fell again slightly to 1,674,775 in 1896-97. The effect of the famine on education therefore, so far as the year 1896-97 is concerned, was to reduce the number of institutions by 3,006, but the number of pupils by 2,227 only. The Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that under the more favourable conditions of the current year, the numbers both of schools and of pupils will speedily recover.

Dr. Martin points out that the surest test of progress lies in a comparison of the statistics for public institutions, since those for private institutions are not always reliable. The former showed an increase during the quinquennium of 1,684, or 3·1 per cent., in number, and of 156,222, or 11·2 per cent., in attendance. With the exception of the secondary schools for girls and the special schools which suffered a slight loss, every class of public institutions shared in the general increase. The numbers of Arts and Professional Colleges rose by 4 each, and there were three more Arts Colleges which furnished no returns, namely, the Bishop's College at Calcutta, the Harendralal College at Munshiganj, and St. Joseph's College at Darjeeling. Secondary schools for boys increased by 167, primary schools for boys by 1,063, and primary schools for girls by 522.

3. The following table shows in detail the number of boys and girls in the different stages at school at the end of each of the six years from 1891-92 to 1896-97, and their percentage on the total number :—

4. Ratio of pupils to population.—The total population of Bengal, according to the census of 1891, is 73,043,697, of whom 36,412,749 are males and 36,630,948 females. This gives at the usual rate of 15 per cent. 5,461,912 male children and 5,494,642 female children of school-going age. Of the pupils on the educational returns, 1,561,008 are boys and 113,767 are girls. Thus of all boys of school-going age 28·5 per cent. and of all girls of school-going age 2·0 per cent. were at school in 1896-97. The percentages of 1895-96 were 28·6 and 2·0, respectively, and those of 1891-92 were 26·3 and 1·8.

5. Schools classified according to management.—The following table classifies public institutions, division by division, according to their management: —

The decline in the number of Government schools from 315 to 252 is due chiefly to the abolition of the guru-training classes attached to middle schools in 1894-95, in all parts of the Province, except the Presidency Division and the Sonthal Parganas. The number of schools under the control of District and Municipal Boards remains much the same as before. The decline in aided schools has taken place in Calcutta and in the Dacca, Chittagong, Patna and Orissa Divisions, the rest of the Province showing an increase.

The total expenditure from all sources during the quinquennium increased by Rs. 16,15,945, or 17·2 per cent. The expenditure from public sources rose by Rs. 3,38,305, or 9·3 per cent., and that from private sources by Rs. 12,77,640, or 22·3 per cent. To the increase in the expenditure from Provincial Revenues shown above (Rs 1,98,123), should be added an amount transferred since 1894 95 to certain District Boards at the rate of Rs. 31,000 a year as extra primary grants, and also a further sum of Rs. 30,555 made over when some of the Departmental Sub Inspectors were transferred to those bodies in 1895-96. This partially also accounts for the increase of expenditure from Local Funds of Rs. 1,20,662. The increase of about 25 per cent. in Municipal expenditure is the result of the Government orders of 1892-93, by which every Mufassal Municipality in the Province was required to make adequate provision for primary education within its limits. The large increase of Rs. 8,23,422 in expenditure from fees is a very satisfactory feature of the progress of the quinquennium.

All the heads of expenditure from Provincial Revenues show an increase, except Collegiate Education and Scholarships, in which the decrease was slight. Under Local Funds, the decrease against Secondary Education is partly due to the greater calls made on the resources of District and Municipal Boards since the middle schools were made over to them in 1887-88; and in Municipalities, a portion of the funds, formerly spent on secondary, has been properly diverted to primary education. The increase of expenditure by Local Bodies on scholarships is due to the creation of special scholarships, chiefly for female medical students and students of technical schools. The establishment of technical schools at head-quarters of some districts also explains the increase against special instruction under those heads.

7. Re-organization of the Bengal Education Department.—The Education Department was re-organized in 1896, and is now divided broadly into (a) the Superior Service and (b) the Subordinate Service. The former consists of two branches—one including all posts to be filled by persons appointed in England: called "The Indian Educational Service," and the other, including all posts to be filled by recruitment in India, which is known as "The Provincial Educational Service."

The Indian Educational Service consists of 27 Officers, including the Director of Public Instruction, Assam, and includes—

5 Inspectors of Schools (one being the Director of Public Instruction, Assam).
5 Principals of Colleges.
13 Professors.
1 Superintendent of the School of Art.
3 Officers to fill vacancies.

Total 27 Officers.

The Provincial Educational Service is composed of the following classes:—

„	II (600)	...	...	...	4
„	III (500)	...	...	...	6

These Services were constituted with effect from the 1st August 1896.

8. The following table shows the number of Inspecting Officers of all grades in March 1892 and March 1897:—

Year.	Inspectors.	Inspectress.	Assistant Inspectors.	Deputy Inspectors.	Sub-Inspectors.	Inspecting Pandits and chief Gurus.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
1892-93 ...	6	1	10(a)	46	193(c)	921
1896-97 ...	6	1	10(a)	48(b)	210	479

(a) Including 2 Assistant Inspectors of Muhammadan Education.
(b) Including 2 Additional Deputy Inspectors and 1 Special Deputy Inspector of Schools.
(c) Including 2 Educational Clerks.

The number of Inspectors and Assistant Inspectors of Schools remained unchanged during the five years. The Orissa Division was separated from the Western Circle in 1892-93 and placed in the independent charge of Rai Radha Nath Rai Bahadur, whose designation was changed from Joint-Inspector (classed as Assistant Inspector) to Inspector; but in 1893-94, the Rajshahi and Burdwan Divisions were placed under one Inspector. In 1896-97, however, in the re-organization of the Educational Service, eight Inspectorships were sanctioned for Bengal, but the new scale was not brought into effect until after the close of the quinquennium. The post of the Assistant Inspector of European Schools was abolished in 1893-94; and on the other hand, the Assistant Inspectorships of the Rajshahi and Dacca Divisions, which had long been held in abeyance, were revived. There is now an Assistant Inspector in each Division except Orissa.

In a few districts, the large number of secondary schools has rendered it necessary to provide Additional Deputy Inspectors: this increase, though sanctioned in 1896-97, had only been partly carried out before the close of the quinquennium. The number of Deputy Inspectors thus rose during the last five years from 46 to 48.

The number of Sub-Inspectors shows an increase during the last five years from 193 to 210. The average number of schools under each Sub-Inspector is 251, but in some of the more advanced areas, the average number is much higher—631 in Cuttack, 597 in Backergunge, 589 in Balasore, and 453 and 402 in Midnapore and Puri respectively.

The decrease from 921 to 479 in the number of persons employed in the inspection of primary schools under the supervision of Sub-Inspectors, is chiefly due to the gradual replacement of chief gurus by inspecting pandits, which commenced in 1892-93. The chief gurus had their own pathsalas to look after, and could not devote sufficient time to inspection work; it was therefore decided to employ whole-time officers in their stead.

9. District Boards.—The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that the relations between the District Boards and the Education Department were, on the whole, harmonious. With the accumulated experience of years, and with the Magistrate as Chairman and the Deputy Inspector of Schools as an ex-officio member, the District Boards are now becoming efficient factors in the control of middle and primary schools. In some districts Local Boards have been entrusted with the management of primary education, but the Director reports that their administration has generally not been attended with success.

University education.

10. Dr. Martin gives a sketch of the history of the Calcutta University on the Arts side during the past five years. In this he summarizes changes made by the Senate in the rules for the affiliation of Colleges and recognition of schools, and in the standards and conditions of examinations. The number of Arts Colleges rose from 34 in 1891-92 to 38 in 1896-97, when the number was one less than in the previous year. The number of pupils attending them rose from 5,225 to 6,384, or by 22·2 per cent. during the quinquennium. As in 1892, the number of Colleges maintained by Government was 12, and of those aided from public funds, 7. Twenty-four of the Colleges taught the B.A. standard, against 20 in 1892; the rest did not teach beyond the F.A. standard. Three of the Colleges, including one maintained by Government, were for female scholars.

Cost of education.

11. The total expenditure on Colleges rose from Rs. 7,07,105 to Rs. 7,47,764, or by 5·7 per cent., against an increase of 30 per cent. in the preceding quinquennium: the increase in expenditure was much less in proportion than the increase in the number of pupils, which was 22·2 per cent. The cost to Provincial revenues increased from Rs. 2,92,686 to Rs. 2,96,397 in 1896-97, or by 1·3 per cent. Rupees 96,899 were spent in the Presidency College alone, which is the most expensive institution under Government. The average annual cost to Government of educating a student in this institution was Rs. 172 in 1896-97, against Rs. 223 in 1891-92. No College in Bengal is in receipt of aid from district funds. The Midnapore College is managed by the local Municipality, but cost that body nothing in 1896-97. There was thus, at the end of the quinquennium, no expenditure from Municipal funds on collegiate education.

There was an increase in the expenditure from fees in Colleges from Rs. 2,75,505 to Rs. 3,10,506, or by 12·7 per cent. This part of expenditure was 41·5 per cent. of the total in 1896-97, against 38·9 per cent. in 1891-92. In Government Colleges, the percentage rose from 34·9 to 35·4; in aided Colleges, from 36 to 41; and in unaided Colleges, from 57·7 to 62·4. The average fees paid by each pupil in Government Colleges are more than two-thirds of those paid in aided Colleges, while the average cost of educating each pupil in the former is more than double the average cost in the latter.

The expenditure from subscriptions and other sources is very small in Government Colleges, being less than 3 per cent. of the total. In aided Colleges, which are mostly under Missionary management, it is over 44 per cent. of the total.

Success at University Examinations.

12. The number of students who passed the different University Examinations in Arts from the Colleges in Bengal during the last five years was as follows:—

First Arts 4,850, Bachelor of Arts 1,859, Master of Arts 329. Of the M A.'s, 192 came from the Government Colleges (162 from the Presidency College alone), 43 from the aided Missionary Colleges, 13 from two unaided Colleges, and 81 were private students. English continues to be the most popular subject for this degree, but 81 persons took the M.A. degree in Science; this is a new and hopeful sign. In the B.A. Examinations also the percentage of students taking the Science course rose from 16 in 1891-92 to 35·4 in 1896 97. The proportion of failures among Arts candidates appears to have been slightly greater than among Science candidates. During the period under review, adequate provision for scientific instruction was made in Government Colleges, and the physical and chemical laboratories were improved and enlarged. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that some of the Colleges under private management made efforts in the same direction.

13. No Government Colleges were transferred to private management during the quinquennium, because no private individuals could be found who were willing to undertake the responsibility. As regards the extension of Collegiate education, there is no need for further effort on the part of Government, private enterprise having, in this respect, done all that the circumstances required. The only Division in which there is no College at present is Chota Nagpur, and if the zilla schools in that Division continue to gain increased success at the Entrance examination, as they have been doing for some years past, the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to see a local movement for starting a second-grade College in it.

14. Natives of India, who have graduated either in India or in England, are being extensively employed as higher Inspecting Officers, or as Professors of Colleges, or Head Masters of Training Schools. In the Indian Educational Service, there are three natives of Bengal, and in the Provincial Service there are 96, of whom 63 are Professors. It has been decided that, with the exception of the Presidency, Dacca and Patna Colleges, all the Arts Colleges will be manned, as far as possible, by officers of the Provincial Service.

15. With the exception of the M.A. degree in Oriental Classics, the University does not confer any academic distinction for proficiency in Oriental learning, and that degree demands a considerable proficiency in Western studies. Tols and Madrasahs, though they impart Oriental education of a very high standard, are for this reason not generally classified as Colleges, and the Sanskrit College and Calcutta Madrasah are both treated as English Arts Colleges; but the former is essentially a Brahmanic institution, with special advantages in the shape of reduced fees and scholarships for sons of bonâ fide pandits or of poor but respectable Hindu parents, and the latter is a Muhammadan institution of a similar kind. The Oriental sections of both the institutions were numerically stronger in 1897 than in 1892, the Sanskrit College having 70 pupils, against 50, and the Calcutta Madrasah 430, against 425.

Secondary Education.

16. The schools imparting secondary education are divided into three classes—high English, middle English and middle vernacular. With the exception of a few schools for Europeans, which have been given the option of preparing pupils for the high school examination, all high schools teach the Collegiate Entrance standard, and the middle schools teach the middle examination standard with or without the English language as an extra subject; in the latter class of schools, mensuration, physics, and similar subjects are also taught.

17. The number of English secondary schools, high and middle, increased during the quinquennium under review from 1,195 to 1,395, or by 11·7 per cent., and the number of pupils attending them, from 135,934 to 153,298, or by 12·8 per cent. The number of high schools shows an advance from 368 to 393, and their attendance from 77,433 to 83,640; the number of middle schools an increase from 827 to 942, and their attendance from 58,501 to 69,658. The average strength of a school of this class was 115 at the end, against 114 at the beginning of the quinquennium.

A number of unaided schools have been started in large towns, especially in Calcutta, and compete with the Government secondary schools, the attendance in which shows a slight decrease. It may be hoped that this movement will gain in strength, so that Government may be able to gradually retire from the maintenance of secondary schools.

The number of secondary English schools, maintained by Government, was 55, the same as in 1891-92; the number maintained by District or Municipal Boards fell off from 28 to 22, while that of aided schools rose from 770 to 853 and unaided schools from 342 to 405. One of the Government secondary schools—the Kurseong Boarding School—is a hill school for European and Eurasian pupils.

The number of vernacular secondary schools for boys rose from 1,113 with 61,351 pupils to 1,140 with 65,441 pupils, and their average strength rose during the period from 55 to 58. Thirty-seven of these schools were maintained by Government, against 33 in 1892, the increase having taken place in Chota Nagpur and other backward parts of the province to which the grant-in-aid system is not suitable; 149 (against 152) were maintained by District and Municipal Boards during 1896-97, 811 were aided (the same number as in 1892), and 143 (against 117) were unaided.

18. The number of boys in the high and middle stages in secondary schools increased from 26,600 and 44,761 to 27,829 and 45,883, respectively. These represent about one-third of the pupils in secondary schools, and the remaining two-thirds belong to the primary stages. The proportion of boys in high and middle stages to the total number of boys of school-going age rose from 1·3 to 1·4 per cent., and that of those learning English to the number of pupils in English secondary schools, from 84·4 to 85·2. There were also 10,342 pupils in vernacular secondary schools and 1,706 pupils in primary schools, making a grand total of 142,620 for 1896-97 as the number of pupils learning English in secondary and primary schools. Dr. Martin observes as follows :—

"The number of Europeans and Eurasians in primary schools for boys being only 272, it is evident that English is also taught in primary schools for Indian boys. This is especially the case in large towns like Calcutta, in which even the object of primary education would be defeated without a knowledge of the English alphabet and numerals to enable the possessor to decipher trade-marks, and understand calculations on the European system of weights and measures."

19. In middle English schools, instruction in subjects other than the English language is imparted in the vernacular. In high schools, on the other hand, the reverse is the case; the system of teaching on a vernacular basis, noticed in paragraph 93 of Mr. Nash's Review, met with great opposition, and was practically abandoned in 1895-96 in consequence, to a great extent, of its unpopularity.

20. The number of successful candidates from Bengal at the Entrance Examination of 1892 was 1,695; in 1897 it rose to 2,899. The increase is large but does not necessarily indicate proportionate progress, as much depends upon the greater or less difficulty of the examination in one year as compared with another. This is evident from the tables appended to paragraph 128 of Dr. Martin's Report, which show the general percentage of successful candidates to have stood at 39 in 1892, risen suddenly to 65 in 1893, and fallen again to 42 in 1894.

The number of successful candidates at the middle school examination for Indian pupils rose from 3,280 to 4,598, of whom 2,296 (against 1,498 in 1882) passed with English certificates, and 2,302 (against 1,782) with vernacular certificates. Previous to 1893-94, these examinations were conducted by Inspectors, each with a separate set of questions for his own circle; but since that year, one set of examination papers has been used for all Bengali-speaking districts, though the answer papers are still examined at local centres.

21. As regards the subjects of study in secondary schools, no important change was made during the period under review, except the introduction of drawing, which will be referred to later.

22. The Monghyr Zilla School was transferred by Government to a Joint-Committee during the period under review; but with this exception, it was not found advisable to give further effect to the recommendation of the Education Commission for the withdrawal of Government in favour of private managers.

Primary Education.

23. Chapter VI of the Report deals with primary education which is imparted, both in primary schools proper and in the lower forms of secondary schools. As Dr. Martin remarks, primary education has a double aspect, which has always been recognised in Bengal, first, as the final stage of instruction for the vast majority of the people, and secondly, as the initial stage for a small minority, leading up eventually to the University.

24. At the commencement of the quinquennial period, 22·3 per cent. of the total male population of school-going age (out of a total of 26·3 per cent. at school) were receiving primary instruction; at its close, this percentage rose to 25·2 (out of 28·5 per cent. at school). Of the total number of boys in the primary stages in 1897, only 10·7 per cent were in the primary departments of secondary schools, and the rest were in primary schools proper. The number of the latter class of schools rose during the five years from 48,589 to 49,650, or by 2·2 per cent., and the attendance in them increased from 1,123,560 to 1,243,803, or by 10·7 per cent., the average strength of each school having increased from 23 to 25, a fact which shows that these schools, generally, stand on a firmer basis than they did five years ago. The growth in the number of pupils depends more or less on agricultural conditions, and is liable to violent fluctuations. There was an actual, but very slight, decrease in 1892-93, and a large increase in 1894-95, which was, no doubt, due to the agricultural prosperity which the country was then enjoying. The results of the last year's operations show, in spite of famine and high prices, a number of boys in primary schools of both classes, not only larger than the number in 1891-92, but also larger than that of 1895-96. The evil of the multiplication of bogus schools, which work for a time only in the hope of getting rewards, and disappear as soon as that object is secured, is one that has always engaged the attention of the Department, which has latterly worked more to consolidate the system already in existence, than to expand it by a mere increase in numbers. In order to weed out useless schools, minimum limits have been set to the grants-in-aid that might be earned by the results of the annual examinations, but with this qualification, payment has been made, as much as possible, according to results; every effort was made to keep down indirect expenditure, such as that on prizes. As the combined effect of these measures and of increased grants from public sources, the average income of a primary school rose from Rs. 58 in 1892 to Rs. 67 in 1897, the annual cost per pupil also showing a slight increase from Rs. 2·6 to Rs. 2·7. At the beginning of 1891-92, 32·5 per cent. of the total direct expenditure on primary schools for native pupils was given in fixed stipends; at the end of 1896-97, this had been brought down to 29·9 per cent. The different systems under which primary schools for boys are conducted in Bengal, and the modes by which they receive aid, are fully described in paragraphs 162—165 of the Report. Primary schools are maintained under public management only in exceptionally backward tracts. Their number increased during the period under review from 18 to 41. The aided schools constitute about 73·9 per cent of the primary schools of the Province, and contain more than 81·5 per cent. of the pupils attending them. Their number diminished by 7·4 per cent. during the five years, but the attendance rose by over 5 per cent. and the average strength from 24·4 to 27 6.

25. The total expenditure on primary schools for boys increased from Rs. 25,72,095 to Rs. 28,90,289, or by 12 3 per cent. The grants from Provincial Revenues rose from Rs. 1,43,622 to Rs. 1,64,926, or by 14·9 per cent., from District Funds from Rs. 4,47,374 to Rs. 5,11,945, or by 14·5 per cent, and from Municipal Funds from Rs. 16,489 to Rs. 53,468, or by 224·2 per cent. Nearly half the increase in the District Fund expenditure is explained by the transfer to it since 1894-95 of a sum of Rs. 31,000 a year from Provincial Revenues, for expenditure on primary instruction, which is referred to in paragraph 6 of this Resolution; and the increase in Municipal expenditure is due to the orders passed in 1892-93, described in the same paragraph. The increase from Rs. 19,64,610 to Rs. 21,59,950, or by 10 per cent., in the expenditure from fees and other local sources, corresponds nearly with the increase in the number of pupils already noticed. During 1897, the average annual incidence per pupil of the expenditure from fees was Re. ·45 in schools under public management and Rs. 1·53 in aided schools, against Re. ·62 and Rs. 1·54, respectively, in 1892, the decrease being probably due to the agricultural distress of the year. Dr. Martin remarks as follows in regard to fee receipts in primary schools:—

"The Department interferes but little, either in fixing the rates, or regulating the percentage of free students to be kept in primary schools. In many rural schools, the teacher is paid more in kind, in the shape of sidas of rice, pulses and vegetables, than in cash.

There are also customary presents on Saturdays, or on the occasion of a festival. These earnings of the guru are not always accurately entered in the returns."

26. The superior claims of primary education upon public effort and public funds are not lost sight of, and whenever the state of Provincial funds admits of any extra grant being made for education, the greater portion of it is devoted to primary schools. No falling-off in the income of District Boards has been held to be a sufficient ground for retrenching allotments for primary education, and the recognition of its prior claims has been made incumbent on Municipalities, by the orders of 1892-93 already quoted. These statements are fully borne out by the tables given by Dr. Martin in paragraphs 171 and 173 of the Report, in which he shows that, of the increase in the total direct expenditure on education during the last five years, by far the largest share has gone towards primary education. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, like his predecessors, is painfully conscious of the inadequacy of the present expenditure under this head, and trusts that it will be found possible, when the finances improve, to devote more money to it.

27. The increase in the number of passes at the Upper and Lower Primary Scholarship Examinations from 2,491 to 3,826 in the case of the former, and from 18,630 to 26,987 in the case of the latter, is another satisfactory sign of progress. An important step towards uniformity in results was taken in 1893-94, when it was arranged that a common examination should be held of all the candidates for lower primary scholarships and pass certificates in each Inspector's circle, instead of a separate examination for each district. The upper primary course has undergone no change since Mr. Nash wrote his review, but important changes have been made during recent years in the lower course. A new text-book in literature has been prescribed, which embodies lessons on the elements of agriculture and geography, in accordance with the suggestion made by an Agricultural Conference held in Calcutta, and approved by Government. Changes of a minor character also have lately been sanctioned with a view to simplicity. Only two text-books have now to be read in the lower primary stage—the Reader and the Sanitary Primer, which cost not more than 4 annas and cover about 120 pages in all; other subjects are taught orally.

Special measures for aboriginal and backward races.

28. Dr. Martin points out that the statistical returns at present collected do not give an exact idea of the state of education among all the backward races of the Province. Pupils are classified by religion only, and thus all Hindus are grouped together and all Muhammadans, though there are races or tribes among them who are as backward educationally as the forest tribes, whose religion is described as "Animistic." The forest tribes are chiefly to be found in the Chota Nagpur and Bhagalpur Divisions, the Orissa Tributary Mahals, the South Lushai Hills and the hilly parts of the Birbhum, Bankura and Mymensingh districts. In all these places, special efforts have been made to encourage the spread of primary education, and the Department has been materially assisted by extensive Missionary organisations. A Special Deputy Inspector was appointed during the period under review for the inspection of Santhal schools, and the inspecting pandits, who supervise the primary schools intended for aboriginal tribes, are as far as possible recruited among aborigines. There are three high schools,—one maintained by Government, one aided, and one unaided,—which are maintained chiefly for aboriginal pupils; and scholarships have been set apart in some of the districts for their benefit. But some forest tribes still have a strong dislike for education; the Bhuinya tribes of the Keonjhar State recently burnt the school-houses, and they are said to regard police and education as equal forms of oppression.

The number of aboriginal pupils rose during the quinquennium from 29,663 to 37,870 in 1896-97. In 1895-96, it was 38,971; but the scarcity affected the attendance during the last year to some extent. Of the number returned in 1896-97, 22 were in the collegiate stage, against 7 in 1891-92; 400 were in high schools, against 223; and 919 in middle schools, against 911. The pupils in girls' schools have increased from 1,428 to 2,340; Christians from 4,005 to 6,567, and non-Christians from 25,658 to 31,303. There were no non-Christians in Colleges in 1891-92; in 1896-97, there were 15 pupils of this class receiving collegiate education. Six pupils of aboriginal descent passed the last Entrance examination, against two in 1891-92; in the primary examinations also there has been progress, 59 and 627, respectively, having passed the last upper and lower examinations, against 51 and 313 in 1892; but the results of the Middle Scholarship examinations show a falling off from 33 to 13 passes, chiefly on account of the raising of the German Mission School at Ranchi from the Middle English to the High English status.

Night Schools.

29. One thousand five hundred and eighty-seven night schools, nearly all of which teach the primary course, were returned for 1896-97, as working for day-labourers, who attended them after the day's work was over. When situated in towns and large villages, they are said to work fairly well, but there are grave doubts as to the trustworthiness of the school registers in most of them, so that it is difficult to say how many of the pupils are bonâ fide day-labourers and how many are day-scholars of neighbouring schools, whose names are placed on the rolls for the purpose of securing larger grants. Great caution is necessary in the supervision of these schools.

School Post Offices.

30. The system of placing rural post offices under school-masters, with an extra remuneration varying from Re. 1 to Rs. 10 a month, dates as far back as 1884, and in 1893, there were 432 post offices in charge of village school-masters. In that year, the Postmaster-General desired to further extend the system, and asked for the co-operation of the Education Department, which was readily offered. The effect has been a large increase in the number of school post offices, the number returned for 1896-97 being 697, against 596 in the preceding year. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the relations between the two Departments have been harmonious.

Training schools.

31. In 1896-97, arrangements were, for the first time, made for the training of English teachers for secondary schools; there had previously been provision for the training of vernacular teachers only. English classes were opened in connection with the training schools at Calcutta, Hooghly, Dacca, Patna, and Cuttack, the instructing staffs of each of these institutions being strengthened by the appointment of an additional teacher, and extra stipends being created for the pupil-teachers. There are, as yet, no training schools of the collegiate class in the Province. Three grades of teacher's certificates in English have been arranged for, but classes for the first two standards only have as yet been opened.

The first examination for English certificates for Masters was held in April 1897. The results were disappointing. Altogether, 72 candidates (including 5 private candidates) were examined, of whom only 6 passed, 1 in the first grade, a B.A. private student, and 5 in the second.

32. No training schools for mistresses are maintained by Government, but there are some schools of this class kept up by the different Missionary Societies, to supply teachers to their own female schools which receive aid from Provincial Revenues. Since 1894-95, examinations have been held for the award of female teacher's certificates. Girls who pass in the art and theory of teaching, including class management, are awarded junior teacher's certificates if they pass in Standard VII, and senior certificates if they pass in Standard VIII of the special standards prescribed for Calcutta and its neighbourhood.

33. The following table shows the number of vernacular training schools for Masters on the 31st March 1892 and on the same date of 1897, and the number of students in them :—

Year.	Maintained by Government.		Aided.		Total.
	Schools.	Pupils.	Schools.	Pupils.	Schools.	Pupils.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
1891-92 ...	15	658	6	239	21	897
1896-97 ...	13	574	7	291	20	865

The school of this class at Puri was abolished in 1895-96.

34. The following table gives statistics of expenditure on Training Schools :—

Expenditure on Training Schools for Masters.

Year.	From Provincial Revenues		From District and Municipal funds.	From other sources.	Total.
	In schools under public management.	In aided schools.
1	2	3	4	5	6
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1891-92	67,485	4,717	873	10,922	83,997
1896-97	79,634	6,399	487	17,342	1,03,862

Expenditure on Training Schools for Mistresses.

		Rs.		Rs.	Rs.
1891-92	.....	4,440	.....	20,712	25,152
1896-97	.....	8,332	.....	29,941	38,273

The cost of the schools under public management remained practically stationary up to 1895-96, when it amounted to Rs. 67,668, but was raised to Rs. 79,634 in 1896-97, by the opening of the English classes. The increased expenditure from public and private sources in aided training schools for mistresses, is due to an increase in the number of these institutions, and to the liberal grants-in-aid paid to the Missionary Schools in Calcutta. The total expenditure in the Calcutta schools alone was Rs. 24,226, of which Rs. 5,462 was paid from Provincial revenues. The average cost per pupil in Government schools rose from Rs. 106 in 1892 to Rs. 137 in 1897, owing chiefly to the cost of the English classes.

35. The guru-training classes were first opened in 1885-86 to train teachers for lower primary schools. The Head Masters of certain selected middle schools were authorized to open classes for the instruction of gurus of neighbouring patshalas in the subjects of the upper primary examination, and to give them an elementary knowledge of school method. These classes went on increasing till 1892-93, when they began to decline. In 1893-94, orders were issued to close them, and this has been done since the end of the year 1896-97.

Technical Education.

36. In the Chapter headed "Technical Education," the Director deals first with institutions for teaching Law and Medicine, secondly, with preparatory technical education which has no connection with any particular industry or profession, and thirdly, with technical education proper.

Law classes.

37. During the quinquennium under review, the number of Law Colleges or Colleges to which a Law class is attached, rose from 12 to 16, one of the new Colleges being a Government institution. The number of students reading for the degree rose from 563 to 658. The Law classes in Government Colleges cost nothing to Government, the Professors being paid out of the fee receipts. The total number of candidates admitted to the Bachelor of Law degree, during the last five years, was 662. The Director remarks that little real teaching is done in the Law classes, and that students only join them to obtain certificates of attendance, without which they cannot be admitted to the examinations.

Medical schools.

38. The Government Medical College at Calcutta, and four Government Medical schools, in the different parts of the Province, are maintained by Government for the training of Civil Hospital Assistants, Apothecaries, Military pupils, Midwives and Nurses. Six unaided schools are returned in 1897, against 5 in 1892; four of these teach Homœopathy or Electro-Homœopathy.

39. The Calcutta Medical College is the only institution in the Province which is affiliated to the University in Medicine. The rule rendering the B. A. degree a necessary qualification for admission to the degree of Doctor in Medicine, has been rescinded by the University. In 1894-95, an annual test examination was established in the Medical College, with a view to weeding out students who had no aptitude for medical study, and no hope of success in the final examinations. This measure has brought about excellent results. The numbers in the College rose from 255 to 468 during the quinquennial period. At the University examinations during the period, 88 students of the College obtained final licenses, and 16 the degree of Bachelor in Medicine and Surgery, including four who also obtained honours in Medicine. One Licentiate and one Bachelor of Medicine were women. Only one student was admitted to the degree of Doctor. Besides these, 83 military pupils, 8 female practitioners, 81 midwives and 53 native dhais obtained certificates of proficiency from the College.

40. Important changes were made in the medical schools under orders passed in 1894-95. Lying-in and Surgical Wards were constructed, Libraries and Museums were enlarged, an elementary knowledge of English was required before admission, the numbers of students were restricted to a fixed maximum, separate female classes and scholarships were sanctioned, and the period of study was extended from three to four years. The Government Medical Schools issued, during the period under review, 789 final diplomas (including 35 secured by female students), and 362 certificates to compounders

II.—Preparatory Technical Education.

41. Preparatory Technical Education is imparted in primary, secondary and training schools. Drawing is a compulsory subject in the first-grade training-schools: 371 students passed from these schools during the last five years, of whom 62 were awarded special certificates as qualified to be teachers of drawing in high schools. Drawing masters are now largely employed in High schools, and it was decided in 1894-95 that, in the award of junior scholarships for 1897 and subsequent years, credit should be given for marks obtained in drawing. This step at once popularized the study of drawing, and the number of passes in this subject from schools under public management alone rose from 4 in 1892 and 25 in 1896 to 217 in 1897. There were, besides, 293 pupils from schools under private management, who passed in this subject at the last Matriculation Examination. The other subjects of a technical character taught in the high schools, are physical geography and elementary physics. In middle and primary schools, drawing cannot be introduced for some time to come, for want of qualified teachers. Agriculture and physics are, however, prescribed for the upper primary examination, together with mensuration and native accounts; sanitation is compulsory in both primary standards.

III.—Technical Education proper.

42. The Sibpur Engineering College was maintained in a high state of efficiency during the period under review. Mining, Engineering and Electric Engineering Departments have been added to it, as well as a Photography class, and the Workshops at Sibpur, which were given up by the Public Works Department in 1893-94, have been placed under the exclusive charge of the Principal for the practical training of the pupils. An Agricultural class also will shortly be attached to it, in accordance with the recommendations of the Agricultural Conference, which have been approved by the Secretary of State. A Veterinary School has been established by Government at Belgatchia, near Calcutta. It is not controlled by the Education Department, nor is it included in its returns. Industrial schools have been started in various parts of the Province, chiefly under the auspices of District Boards and of private gentlemen, and they have been, for the most part, affiliated to the Sibpur College. The schools are subject to periodical inspection by the Principal of the College, and are entitled to obtain machinery from the Sibpur Workshop at cost price.

43. The Sibpur College is the only institution in the Province which is affiliated to the University in Engineering. The University reduced its Engineering course by one year in 1892-93 in favour of B. A.'s in Science, so that they are admitted direct to the second-year class. On the results of the pass examination in Engineering, the University grants a license to candidates who possess Entrance certificates, and Bachelor's degree to candidates who possess First Arts or higher certificates. But the demand for admission to the Sibpur College has been so great, that it has been found necessary from time time to raise the general qualifications for admission; to the Engineering Department, no pupil is now admitted who has not passed the First Arts Examination, and to the Apprentice Department no one is admitted who has not passed the Entrance Examination, or the Standard VII Examination of the European Code. The number of pupils attending all the classes of the College taken together, increased during the five years from 244 to 310. The Engineering Department, during this period, passed 12 students at the final License Examination, and 22 at the examination for the B. E. degree. Regarding the continued failures of the students, the Principal observes:—"It is no uncommon occurrence to find in a paper of, say, ten questions, one or two questions which would take up the full time of the candidate to answer thoroughly." The Director of Public Instruction should represent this matter to the University authorities. The outturn of the Apprentice Department has not been definitely stated, but Dr. Martin estimates that over 100 Overseers' certificates were issued by the College during the period under review.

44. The three Government schools for Surveyors at Dacca, Patna, and Cuttack continued to work satisfactorily, the attendance improving from 417 in 1892 to 591 in 1897. Orders were issued in 1894-95 raising the rates of fees and requiring some knowledge of English of candidates for admission, while manual work has been added to the course. The Patna Survey School was last year amalgamated with the Bihar Industrial School, forming the Bihar School of Engineering, which is now, after the Sibpur College, the most important technical school in the Province. The number of Surveyors who passed from these schools during the last five years is 685. There were, besides, 16 Overseers and 47 Amins, who passed from the Patna School in 1897.

45. The Government School of Art is not affiliated to the University, but certificates of proficiency are issued by the Superintendent. The course of study was entirely revised, and the School practically re-organized in 1896-97. Its increased popularity is evident from the fact that, in spite of its removal in 1892-93 from the centre of the native quarter to new buildings in Chowringhee, the number of pupils attending the institution has risen during the period under report from 181 to 261. Passed students of this School readily find employment as drawing masters in High Schools, and as lithographers, draftsmen and photographers both in Government offices and in private employ. The collections in the attached Art Gallery are being re-arranged historically.

46. Of the "other" schools shown under the head of "Technical Education," the most important is the Deaf and Dumb School at Calcutta, which was started in 1893 and is being conducted on scientific principles with the aid of grants from both Government and the Municipality.

47. The main statistics of female education, i.e., the attendance and expenditure in schools for native girls, are shown in the following table:—

Since 1891-92, there has been a slow but steady increase in the number of girls in public institutions. The increase has been shared by all the Divisions except Chittagong, where there has been a decline, attributed to a reduction in the rate of rewards for attendance. The number of girls receiving instruction in the upper primary stage shows a decrease. The statement below shows the progress of education among Indian girls between the years 1891-92 and 1896-97:—

Year.		High.	Middle.	Upper Primary.	Lower Primary.		Total.

The Director remarks that the absence of an adequate supply of female teachers and the social objection to the employment of women on remunerative work, seem to be more potent obstacles to the advancement of female education than the system of early marriages or the seclusion of females from public gaze, which would not generally interfere with the education of a girl up to the primary standard.

Education of Europeans.

48. The success of an experiment which was tried in five European schools of making the grants-in-aid independent of examination results, led to an alteration in the grant-in-aid rules in 1893. Grants under the new system are paid annually in advance, and are calculated on the average attendance of the previous year; the result of the change has been to increase the aggregate grants-in-aid by about 6·3 per cent. It has, at the same time, enabled the Inspector of Schools to devote more time to improving the mode of teaching. A Committee was subsequently appointed to revise the Code, and their conclusions were generally accepted by Government in 1895. The new Code was introduced in July 1896. Its main features are the discontinuance of grants to schools conducted for private profit, a provision for high scholarships, and a new set of transfer rules.

49. During the quinquennium, the Kindergarten system was tried in the Welland Memorial School in Calcutta, which is an aided school for European and Eurasian boys and girls. During 1896, a Kindergarten teacher was brought out from England, at Government expense, at a cost of Rs. 848. The system is reported to be working satisfactorily.

50. Excluding private institutions, the number of Eurasian and domiciled European pupils at school rose during the last five years from 6,921 to 7,818. Of the pupils in 1896-97, 5 per mille belonged to the Collegiate stage, 35 to the high stage, 224 to the middle stage, 240 to the upper primary stage and 496 to the lower primary stage; the corresponding figures for all classes being 4, 18, 30, 53, and 895, respectively, in Bengal, so that European and Eurasian pupils, as a body, are in higher stages of instruction than the rest of the community. There are no separate institutions for imparting special instruction to Europeans; though some of the Arts Colleges on the returns are mainly intended for European students, native pupils are not, as a rule, excluded from them. The number of secondary schools for Europeans was 52, the same as in 1892; that of primary schools rose from 16 to 24 in the quinquennium. Only one school—the Kurseong Middle School—is under the management of Government; 62 are aided and 13 unaided, against 57 and 10, respectively, in 1892.

51. The results of the examinations show a very satisfactory advance, the number of passes having more than doubled in each case during the period under review. The capital of the Bruce Institution, rose from Rs. 6,71,500 in 1892 to Rs. 10,46,200 in 1897 by the addition of a new bequest. A grant of Rs. 6 per annum for every efficient cadet who was also a bonâ fide pupil in a school for Europeans was awarded for the first time in 1893, in which year it was paid on 814 cadets. The number rose to 904 in 1896, besides 70 in the Doveton College, to which no grants of any kind are now paid. These grants are generally spent in the purchase of appliances for out-door amusements, and in defraying expenses in connection with class-firing.

52. The direct Government expenditure on primary and secondary schools for Europeans and Eurasians has risen from Rs. 1,40,851 in 1891-92 to Rs. 1,50,016 in 1896-97, while the total Government expenditure on European education has risen from Rs. 1,78,923 to Rs. 2,27,579. The total expenditure on the education of Europeans and Eurasians from all sources rose from Rs. 8,03,104 in 1891-92 to Rs. 11,07,333 in 1896-97. The total amount spent during 1895-96 for the purpose amounted to Rs. 11,95,423, out of which Government contributed Rs. 1,97,152.

53. The most important events during the quinquennium, in connection with European education, were the substitution of the new grant-in-aid rules, the revision of the Code in which that change was embodied, and proposals for alteration in the conditions of examination for admission into different departments of the public service which are still under consideration.

Muhammadan education.

54. The following table shows the number of Muhammadan pupils in public and private institutions in 1891-92 and in 1896-97, and the percentage of this number to the total number of scholars, as well as the percentage of Muhammadans to the total population at the census of 1891:—

Year.	Percentage of Muhammadans to total population (census of 1891).	Public Institutions.		Private Institutions.		All Institutions.
		Muhammadan pupils.	Percentage to total pupils.	Muhammadan pupils.	Percentage to total pupils.	Muhammadan pupils.	Percentage to total pupils.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
1891-92 ...	32·9	355,207	25·5	93,640	67·1	448,847	25·6
1896-97 ...		397,554	25·7	79,465	62·9	477,019	28·4

The total number of Muhammadan pupils in the Province increased from 448,847 to 477,019, and their proportion to all pupils increased from 25·6 to 28·4 per cent. The proportion of Muhammadan pupils to the total Muhammadan population of a school-going age rose from 12·8 to 13·6 per cent. The increase has taken place everywhere, except in Chittagong and Calcutta.

The number of Muhammadan pupils has increased in all classes of institutions,—in Arts Colleges by 20·7 per cent., in Professional Colleges a little more than cent. per cent., in secondary schools by 13·7, and in primary schools by 11·8 per cent. The percentage of Muhammadans in the population is close upon 33, and though the total percentage of Muhammadan pupils approaches this figure, yet it falls off considerably in the higher branches of education; in collegiate education their backwardness is lamentable. The increase of nearly 4,000 Muhammadan pupils in secondary schools, indicates some advance, but still the proportion is much lower than in the case of the Hindus. It is only in the lower primary schools that the proportion of Muhammadans in any degree approaches to what might fairly be expected.

55. At all the examinations, except those for the B.A. and M.A. degrees, Muhammadan candidates acquitted themselves better in 1896-97 than in 1891-92. The number of successful Muhammadan candidates at the Entrance and First Arts Examinations increased both absolutely and relatively to pupils of other persuasions. At the Entrance Examination, their number was more than doubled, and the proportion of them to all successful candidates increased from 5·01 to 8·31, or by 3·3. At the First Arts Examination, the number rose from 47 to 52, or from 4·6 to 5·1. The number of passes at the B. A. and M.A.

examinations remained stationary, but the percentage declined from 5·1 to 3·6 in the former and from 2·1 to 1·2 in the latter. At the B.L. examination, the number of successful Muhammadan candidates advanced from 4 to 14, but the percentage declined from 8·3 to 6·8. At the Medical examinations, out of 237 successful candidates in 1896-97, only one was a Muhammadan, and out of 135 passed candidates, only 1 was successful in 1891-92. No Muhammadan passed at any of the Engineering examinations in either year. Besides the above, the Medical schools passed 16 and the Survey schools 15 Muhammadan candidates in 1896-97.

Education of Native Chiefs and Noblemen.

56. There are no organized schools in Bengal specially intended for the education of Native Chiefs and Noblemen, except the Nawab's Madrasah at Murshidabad, which is attended by the grandsons and relatives of the late Nawab Nazim of Bengal. Though called a Madrasah, it is, in fact, a high school; but no pupil has yet passed the Entrance Examination from it. It had 60 pupils at the close of 1896-97. The total expenditure, which is met from Provincial Revenues exclusively in 1896-97, amounted to Rs. 11,873, against Rs. 15,219 in 1891-92. The Native Chiefs of the Orissa Tributary Mahals, when they are minors, are educated at the Ravenshaw College, Cuttack.

Private institutions.

57. There are a number of private institutions for education scattered throughout the Province, which do not follow the ordinary departmental standards of instruction, and submit to no public test, but adhere to indigenous modes of teaching. They include elementary schools for reading and writing, Sanskrit tols, maktabs for teaching the Koran or Arabian and Persian, as well as kyaungs or Buddhist monastic schools in the Chittagong Division. The number of these schools and that of pupils attending them from the years 1891-92 to 1896-97, are shown approximately in the following table :—

	1891-92.	1892-93.	1893-94.	1894-95.	1895-96.	1896-97.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Schools	13,868	13,473	13,602	13,941	13,744	12,207
Pupils	139,594	134,959	135,330	140,380	139,192	126,182

There was a decrease both in the number of schools and in that of pupils from 13,744 and 139,192 in 1895-96 to 12,207 and 126,182 in 1896-97, respectively. The number of these institutions in 1891-92 was 13,868, and that of the pupils 139,594. The apparent falling off may, to some extent, be attributed to the absorption of a number of the elementary private institutions into the departmental system, under the head of primary schools, but is chiefly due to the discontinuance or reduction of the registration fees paid to them in past years for furnishing annual returns.

Sanskrit

58. The number of Sanskrit tols increased by 69 during the past quinquennium, but the number of pupils diminished by 490. The measures sanctioned by Government in March 1892, for the better control of these tols, came into operation from 1892-93. In February 1893, rules were issued by Government for the award of stipends to pupils and teachers. Two separate examinations, each with a common set of questions, were established; they were conducted by a number of recognized institutions all over the Province, under the general supervision of the Principal of the Sanskrit College, and the standards were so prescribed as to lead up eventually to the Sanskrit Title Examination. The new examinations were first held in 1892-93, when 268 pupils passed by the lower, and 113 by the higher, standard. The number went on increasing to 350 and 129, respectively, in 1893-94, 408 and 196 in 1894-95, 412 and 207 in 1895-96; but there was a slight falling off in 1896-97, when 411 passed in the first examination and 187 in the second. The results of the Sanskrit Title Examination for the last six years are shown below :—

46 passed in 1892.	85 passed in 1895.

Physical training, discipline and moral training.

59. One very satisfactory feature of educational progress in recent years has been the rapidly increasing popularity of athletics. There is a positive enthusiasm for football among the younger generation of Bengalis. Many schools and colleges play regular Saturday afternoon matches during the football season; and competitions for challenge-shields excite keen rivalry.

The absence of a suitable play-ground in the heart of Calcutta, which was long an obstacle to the pursuit of manly games in the Metropolis, was removed by the opening for the purpose of Marcus Square in 1895-96, a large space in the northern quarter of the city, Government contributing Rs. 50,000 to the cost of the work.

60. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that the reports of the conduct of students in Government Colleges and Schools during the past year are favourable. The interests of discipline are carefully attended to, and there was no recurrence of the bad conduct which was commented on in the Resolution on last year's Report.

Boarding-houses.

61. The importance of boarding-houses, as a means for the enforcement of discipline and an instrument of education, has been steadily kept in view, and great improvements have been effected during the past quinquennium. Steps were taken in 1894-95 to provide all non-resident pupils in Government Colleges in Calcutta with suitable boarding accommodation under proper supervision. The Eden Hindu Hostel, which had been for many years under a Committee of native gentlemen, was taken over by Government and enlarged at a cost of over a lakh and thirty-five thousand rupees in 1895-96. It has since been made compulsory, for such students of the Presidency College and the attached schools as do not live with their bonâ fide guardians, to live in the hostel. There were, in September 1897, 235 inmates in the hostel, of whom 209 were students of Government institutions and 26 of Colleges under private management. A new hostel attached to the Calcutta Madrassa, called the Elliott Madrasah Hostel, was constructed at a cost of Rs. 1,05,343 and completed in October 1896. It has not yet been regularly opened for the occupation of students, because adequate contributions towards the cost of its construction have not been made by the Muhammadan community. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Muhammadan community will show their practical interest in the education of their co-religionists, by making good the deficit.

Educational Conferences.

62. Various Committees and Conferences on matters connected with education have been held from time to time during the quinquennium, of which the most important were the Committee appointed in 1894 to report on the vernacular medical schools; the Committee appointed by the Government of India to revise the Code for European Schools which sat in 1895; the Agricultural Conference of 1896, which (among other matters) discussed and formulated proposals for agricultural instruction, and a Committee which sat in 1897 and devised a scheme for the holding of a common examination for admission to the various departments of the public service. The recommendations of the two bodies last named are still under the consideration of Government.

The Central Text-Book Committee.

63. The Central Text-Book Committee now consists of 22 members, of whom 13 are unconnected with the Education Department. The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Guru Das Banerji is the President, and the Inspector of Schools, Presidency Circle, is ex-officio Secretary. The revision of the list of approved books, with the object of omitting works which have become obsolete, or which have been superseded by later works, was undertaken by the Committee in 1891. The task was a heavy one, but it has now been completed, and a revised list is about to issue. Of the 698 books in the old list, 354 have been excluded. During the past quinquennium, the Committee dealt with 1,251 new books, of which 563 were approved, either as text-books or for prizes and libraries. The services rendered by this Committee have been invaluable and they have been frequently and publicly recognized by Government. The Branch Committee at Bankipore, which consists of 35 members, deals with Hindi and Urdu text-books, and that of Orissa, with Urya text-books. It is composed of sixteen members, of whom five belong to the Education Department.

Conclusion.

75. The thanks of Government are due to Dr. C. A. Martin for the excellent Report submitted by him as well as for his careful administration of the Department during a year of exceptional difficulty, and to the Principals, Professors, Inspectors, Assistant Inspectors and other Officers specially mentioned in the Report. Though much still remains to be done, the review of the five years is, on the whole, one of steady and satisfactory progress, which is very creditable to the Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

M. FINUCANE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF MUNICIPALITIES IN BENGAL DURING 1896-97.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.—MUNICIPAL.

READ—

The Reports from the several Commissioners of Divisions on the working of Municipalities in the Lower Provinces of Bengal (except Calcutta) during the year 1896-97.

Read again—

The Resolution reviewing the Divisional Commissioners' Reports on the working of Municipalities during the year 1895-96.

The following Resolution reviews the reports submitted by Commissioners of Divisions on the working of municipalities in Bengal during the year ending with the 31st March 1897. The reports from the Dacca, Chittagong, Bhagalpur, and Chota Nagpur Divisions were submitted on or about the prescribed date, but the rest were delayed, and the latest reports from the Burdwan and the Presidency Divisions were received on the 27th and 28th September, or two months after the prescribed date. The Government of India insist on the punctual submission of the provincial statistics, and this is obviously impossible unless the divisional reports are received in good time. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware of the difficulty of obtaining complete and correct reports from the smaller municipalities, but he regrets to observe that the Howrah Municipality with its large establishment is behindhand with its report year after year.

2. Number of Municipalities, Population, and Rate-payers.—The number of municipalities increased from 145 to 150. New municipalities were created at Asansol in Burdwan and Somastipur in Darbhanga, and three others, viz., Garden Reach, Garulia, and Azimganj, were formed by subdividing existing municipalities. No returns have been received from the Asansol and Somastipur municipalities, which came into existence towards the close of the year, and this Resolution therefore deals with only 148 municipalities.

The table in Appendix A shows the date of establishment of each municipality, the population within municipal limits, and the number of rate-payers in each. The inhabitants of the 148 towns number 2,708,974 persons.

With an increase of about 4,000 in the municipal population as compared with the previous year, the total number of rate-payers fell from 456,050 to 453,845, representing 16·7 per cent. of the population. The percentage varies from 30·3 at Birnagar in the Presidency Division to 5·7 at Kurseong in the Rajshahi Division. As in the previous year, the falling off in the number of rate-payers was most marked in the Presidency and Bhagalpur Divisions, whilst there was an increase of about a thousand in the Burdwan Division.

3. Results of Elections held during the year.—The fifth general election of Commissioners under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, took place during the year on the expiry of the term of office of those who were elected in 1893. The elections were conducted under the revised rules, which transfer to the Chairmen the duties hitherto discharged by the Magistrate. The new power appears to have been judiciously exercised. It was only in the case of the two small municipalities of Baduria in the 24-Parganas and Madaripur in the Faridpur district that it was found necessary to set aside the elections owing partially to irregularities of the proceedings, and fresh elections had to be held. The results of the general elections as also of the bye-elections held during the year are given in Appendix B. The statistics show that the average percentage of attendance of voters in contested cases was 40·9, against 39·4 and 43·2 in the third and fourth general elections.

4. Constitution of Committees.—The following table illustrates the composition of the Municipal bodies in each Division at the close of the year:—

There has been no material change in the proportion of members drawn from each of the various classes.

5. Attendance at Meetings.—There were in all 2,671 meetings held during the year, against 2,665 in 1895-96. Of these, 292, or 10·9 per cent., were unsuccessful or adjourned, as against 260, or 9·7 per cent., in the previous year. During the year under review 40 municipalities held more than 20 meetings each, against 37 in the previous year, whilst 13 municipalities failed to hold at least 1 meeting every month against 9 in 1895-96. Three municipalities, namely, Cossipore-Chitpur and Khulna in the Presidency Division and Sherpur in the Dacca Division, held 40 meetings each, of which 1, 13 and 8 meetings respectively had to be adjourned. In four other municipalities, viz., Krishnagar, Ranaghat, Kotechandpur and Bihar, the Commissioners held more than 30 meetings each.

In 78 towns, as against 75 in 1895-96, an average of more than one-half of the number of Commissioners attended at each meeting. The highest percentages of attendance were 75·4 at Daltonganj and 74·4 at Meherpur. The municipalities of Bally in Howrah and Jhalda in the Manbhum district return percentages of 8·7 and 5·2 respectively, and in the three other towns named in the margin less than one-third of the members on an average attended each meeting.

6. Assessments and Taxation.—The statement in Appendix C shows the mode of assessment prevailing in each municipality in the Province, the percentage at which each tax was levied, and the results of the revision of assessment made during the year. The rate on holdings was in force in 37 towns, and was levied at the maximum rate in all except 12 towns, including the Municipalities of Hooghly Chinsura, Howrah, Krishnagar, Darjeeling, Dacca and Patna. In Bhagalpur and Purnea the rate was raised during the year to the legal maximum, and in Dacca it was resolved so to raise it with effect from April 1898. In Krishnagar a resolution to this effect, passed more than two years ago, has not yet been carried out. The tax on persons was in force in the remaining 111 towns.

7. The incidence of municipal taxation (excluding Calcutta) varied between Rs 5-6-6 at Darjeeling and 3 annas and 6 pies at Ramjibunpur in the district of Midnapore; the average for the whole province was 14 annas and 11 pies, showing an increase of 10 pies per head over the figure for the previous year. There has been a steady rise in the figure since the year 1893-94, when it was 12 annas 9 pies. In the following year it rose to 13 annas 7 pies, and in 1895-96 it stood at 14 annas 1 pie. In 37 towns, as in the previous year, the incidence of taxation exceeded one rupee per head of population. All these towns are in Bengal Proper, none in the Patna, Bhagalpur, Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions having attained this standard. The incidence of taxation was below 8 annas in 53 towns as in 1895-96.

8. A revision of assessment, general or partial, came into force during the year in several municipalities, the best financial results being attained in the following towns:—

Name of Municipality.	Amount of increase.	Name of Municipality.	Amount of increase.
	Rs.		Rs.
Darjeeling ...	... 6,765	Howrah ...	... 1,232
Chapra ...	... 5,539	Narainganj ...	... 1,186
Naihati ...	... 3,923	Dacca ...	... 1,115

Arrah ...	... 2,978	Patna ...	... 950
Purnea ...	... 2,812	Bhadreswar ...	... 870
Cuttack ...	... 1,352	Purulia ...	... 782

In the Bhagalpur Municipality an increase of Rs. 673 was obtained by the enhancement of the rate on holdings from 7 to 7½ per cent., but as the assessment was reduced on revision by Rs. 786, the net result was a loss of Rs. 114 to the Municipality. In Baranagar the assessment was decreased by the large sum of Rs. 3,178 owing to remissions granted on appeal against a revised assessment, which had resulted in an increase of Rs. 6.619.

On the general question of the revision of Municipal assessment, the Commisioner of Burdwan remarks:—

"A discreditable feature of the administration of some Municipalities is the great delay incidental to the disposal of objections to assessment, a delay which often interferes seriously with collections. To give an instance, the assessment in Burdwan Municipality was revised in 1894-95, and the revised assessment was supposed to come into force in the year 1895-96. When inspecting this Municipality in 1896, I commented upon the fact that many objections were then undisposed of and now, a year after, I have found that some are still pending. With too often inadequate assessment of the well-to-do and influential, with reckless remissions on objections made and delay in deciding these, the wonder is that results are even what they are in many Municipalities."

9. Demands, collections, remissions, and outstandings on account of taxes.—The following table compares the totals under these heads for the year 1896-97 with those for the three previous years:—

The current demand rose to Rs. 27,13,569 from Rs. 25,27,826 in the previous year. The total increase during the last five years has been Rs. 7,54,329 in the current demand, or on an average Rs. 1,50,866 a year. The percentage of arrear collections shows some improvement, but that of the current demand fell from 82·6 to 81·4 during the year, and although remissions were more freely given, the outstanding balance rose from Rs. 5,19,238 to Rs. 5,71,203.

* The Garden Reach Municipality, established in March 1897, is not included.

The Dacca and Chittagong Divisions maintained their generally satisfactory record of the previous year, the latter even showing a further improvement. Fifteen out of 17 municipalities in the former and 3 out of 5 in the latter collected over 90 per cent. of their demands, and the collections in the remaining municipalities did not fall below 85 per cent. in any case. The results are again bad in the important Divisions of Burdwan and the Presidency, in the former of which the collections show a further falling off of 1·6 per cent. in the demand. The collections in the Bally and Bhuddressur Municipalities were as low as 53 per cent.; and those in Howrah fell from 65·1 per cent. in 1895-96 to 64·0 per cent. during the year under review. The financial condition of this large and important municipality demands the most serious consideration of the Commissioners. Since 1893-94 the outstanding balance has risen from Rs. 63,798 to Rs. 1,53,515, notwithstanding that in the past year Rs. 37,846 or 7·1 per cent. of the demand was remitted. The system of collecting taxes by contract which was introduced on 1st October 1895, has not produced the results expected from it; the town is heavily in debt; and if disaster is to be avoided, some means must be found of adding to its income or reducing its liabilities.

11. Over 95 per cent. of the demands was collected in 37 towns, and the results attained by the following 21 municipalities show what can be done by careful administration:—

In all these cases, which include municipalities of various degrees of importance, the collections were 98 per cent. or over, and there is no reason why in any case the collections should fall so low as is shown in the table in paragraph 10 above. The Lieutenant-Governor fully agrees in the following remarks of the Commissioner of Burdwan as regards the short collections in many municipalities:—

"These figures disclose a very unsatisfactory state of things, and it is due in the main, as usual, to the weakness of the Municipal executive, which from indifference or fear of unpopularity will not efficiently supervise the collecting staff, and enforce prompt coercive measures against defaulters. Prevalent high prices of food-grains is a circumstance which has been made the most of as an excuse for failure to take proper measures to collect the demand. It might warrant lenity in individual cases, but not wholesale postponement of collections."

12. There was a slight increase in the average percentage of remissions for the whole Province, which rose from 4·5 in the year 1895-96 to 5·01. There were comparatively marked fluctuations in the percentages in the six Divisions named in the margin as compared with the previous year. Dacca again shows the best result. The statistics in Appendix D point to the conclusion that large remissions are the necessary consequence of bad collections. The number of municipalities, in which the remissions exceeded 10 per cent. of the demand, rose from six to nine, the worst instances being Debhatta (20·3), Maniktola (16·5), Rangpur (13·9), Chaibassa (12·5), and Arrah (12·2).

13. Fresh imposts levied during the year.—License fees for offensive and dangerous trades were levied for the first time in the municipalities of Vishnupur, Sonamukhi, Basirhat, Mohespur, Nasirabad, Sherpur, Purnea, Kishanganj, Deoghur, Cuttack, Ranchi, and all the municipalities in the Patna Division. The tax on privies and cess-pools was introduced into the Ranaghat, Kishoreganj, Chittagong, Noakhali, and Buxar Municipalities. At Chittagong operations under Part IX of the Act, regarding the cleansing of privies and cess-pools and levy of fees for the purpose, were started in two of the wards from the 20th September 1896 and in another ward from 1st January 1897. At a special meeting held on the 22nd February a majority of the Commissioners passed a resolution suspending the operation of the tax except in respect of persons occupying holdings who were willing to avail themselves of the service. Their resolution was held to be ultra vires, and Government directed that effect should be given to the provisions of Part IX within three months from the 1st April last. This led to an outbreak of incendiary fires in the town, which taxed the energies of the police and the executive to put them down. The work is now progressing, but the collection of the tax is reported to be attended with great difficulty. A water-rate at 1½ per cent per annum on the annual value of holdings was for the first time levied at Maniktala, and the tax on carriages and on horses and other animals at Jessore, and fees on milkmen, cartmen, livery stable-keepers, and keepers of hackney carriages at Cuttack.

14. Income and expenditure.—The following table shows separately for each Division the opening and closing balances, the income and the expenditure of its municipalities during 1895-96 and 1896-97:—

The discrepancy of Rs. 1,270 between the closing balance of 1895-96 and the opening balance of the year 1896-97 is due to revised figures having been shown in the present accounts.

15. Closing balances of Municipalities.—Although there was a satisfactory reduction in the aggregate closing balances of the municipalities, there were large balances in several individual cases, in some of which funds are being accumulated for large schemes connected with water-supply and drainage, or loans were received from Government too late to be spent during the year. In the following cases among others no explanation has been furnished of the failure to utilise the funds available :—

Name of Municipality.	Total income of year.	Closing balance.	Name of Municipality.	Total income of year.	Closing balance.
	Rs.	Rs.		Rs.	Rs.
Tamluk	8,651	3,047	Netrokona	6,354	2,293

Sirajganj	26,685	2,920	Siwan	10,481	2,101
			Motihari	15,264	3,907

Other municipalities, again, unduly reduced their balances, so that difficulty must have arisen in the payment of establishment and other current charges falling due towards the beginning of the new official year. The following are conspicuous instances of this form of mismanagement, which bears very hardly upon the salaried staff :—

17. Considering the high prices that prevailed during the year, it is remarkable that the income from taxation should have risen by so much as Rs. 1,48,065 or 6·2 per cent. This increase was shared in varying degrees by all the Divisions except Patna, where the receipts declined by Rs. 5,806, and was largest in the Burdwan, Presidency, and Dacca Divisions, where it came to Rs. 88,789, Rs. 46,515, and Rs. 11,566, respectively. The figures in the foregoing table show that the total municipal revenue from taxation (excluding Calcutta) has risen from Rs. 17,65,475 in 1886-87 to Rs. 25,35,665 in 1896-97, being a net increase of 43·62 per cent. in ten years. The increase during the first quinquennial period (1887-88 to 1891-92) was 18·73 per cent., whi st during the second quinquennial period the income increased by 20·96 per cent.

18. The statement in Appendix E shows the details of total income under each head separately for each Division during the years 1895-96 and 1896-97, and the following figures give the difference between the receipts of the two years for the whole Province:—

The falling off of Rs. 2,37,152 in the revenue is more than compensated by a reduction of Rs. 3,99,813 in the income under the major head "Extraordinary and debt," the municipalities having borrowed smaller amounts from Government for capital expenditure, so that there was actually an increase of Rs. 1,62,661 in the real income of the municipalities, representing an increase of 5·4 per cent. over the receipts in the previous year.

19. Tax on houses and lands.—The net total increase of revenue from this tax was Rs. 60,812, against Rs. 17,357, the increase in 1895-96. All Divisions contributed to the increase except Chota Nagpur, where it is not in force, and Orissa, where there was a falling off of Rs. 2,424 due to revised classification of the income on account of public buildings at Cuttack, which has been hitherto included under "Tax on persons." The tax on houses and lands was substituted wholly or partly for the tax on persons in the municipalities of Baidyabati, Bhadreswar, and Motihari. In the 34 municipalities, where it was already in force, there was an increase in 21 and a falling off in the others. Taking individual cases, the following municipalities show the largest fluctuations:—

Name of Municipality.	Amount of increase.	Name of Municipality.	Amount of decrease.
	Rs.		Rs.
South Suburbs	11,540	Hooghly and Chinsura... ...	3,185
Baranagar	6,506	Muzaffarpur	2,628
Patna	4,786	Jamalpur (Monghyr)	1,766
Gaya	4,077	Midnapore	1,268
Darjeeling	3,512
Chittagong	2,241
Narayanganj	1,982
Bhagalpur	1,752
Sahibganj	1,100

The increase is ascribed variously to revised assessments, to assessment of new and improved holdings, and to better collections of arrear and current demands. The increased collections in the Bhagalpur and Purnea Municipalities were due mainly to the introduction of the system of paying tax-collectors by commission. The falling off of income, on the other hand, was due to laxity of collections, to the scarcity and high prices that prevailed during the year, and to remissions allowed on appeals against revised assessments.

20. Tax on animals and vehicles.—The increase in the income under this head was slight, viz., Rs. 4,406, or 2·2 per cent. of the revenue derived during 1895-96. The increase occurred in the Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahi, and Orissa Divisions, whilst the other Divisions show a falling off. The largest increase occurred in the municipalities of Midnapore (Rs. 3,088), Ghatal (Rs. 1,396), and Howrah (Rs. 1,180), and the Patna Municipality suffered the largest decline of Rs. 1,718. In some cases the decrease is attributed to a reduction in the number of carriages and horses kept by the rate-payers owing to the high price of food-grains.

21. Tax on professions and trades.—The revenue under this head shows an improvement of Rs. 5,337, being 12·6 per cent. over the income of the previous year. The increase was noticeable only in the Burdwan and Dacca Divisions, where it amounted to Rs. 3,654 and Rs. 1,138 respectively. In Howrah the appointment of a special Inspector to look after the collection of this tax resulted in an increase of Rs. 1,331, and the increased manufacture of bricks and tiles accounts for an increase of Rs. 2,211 in the municipalities in the Hooghly district. There was also an increase of Rs. 913 in the Nasirabad Municipality.

22. Tolls on roads and ferries.—Tolls are nowhere levied on roads. The income from ferries in the Presidency and Rajshahi Divisions shows increases of Rs. 2,400 and Rs. 1,036 respectively. The large decreases of Rs. 15,888 and Rs. 3,300 in the Patna and Bhagalpur Divisions are only apparent, and were caused by changes in the method of crediting the receipts.

23. Water-rate.—The income from water-rate, which is levied only by eight municipalities, rose from Rs. 74,489 to Rs. 1,46,128, owing mainly to the levy for the first time of the rate at Howrah, where it yielded Rs. 60,803. The fluctuations in the income in other municipalities are shown in the margin. The increase at Burdwan and Nasirabad was due to the raising of the rate at which the tax is levied. As regards the falling off at Arrah, where the Municipal Commissioners are in debt to the Joint-Committee, who manage the works, the Commissioner reports:—

	Rs.
Burdwan ...	+2,239
Cossipore-Chitpur ...	+3,884
Darjeeling ...	+2,082
Nasirabad ...	+1,802
Bhagalpur ...	+927
Arrah ...	—1,045

"The Vice-Chairman explains that in the preceding year there was a large amount of outstanding arrears to be collected, while this was not the case during the year under report, hence the decrease. The Magistrate, however, does not think this to be a sufficient explanation, as the balance left outstanding at the close of the year was very high. The true explanation, Mr. Windsor says, is "that the tax-daroga and his staff are incompetent and afraid of the more wealthy residents, and that the office is too lazy to carry out repeated instructions as to the issue of notices of demands and warrants in due time." This reveals a very unsatisfactory state of things, and the Magistrate will be requested to put matters right."

24. Lighting-rate.—This rate was levied only at Howrah, where the income rose from Rs. 35,807 to Rs. 37,128.

25. Conservancy, including scavenging and latrine rates.—The increase of Rs. 31,000 under this head was shared by five Divisions, and the Burdwan, Presidency, and Dacca Divisions show the largest increase of Rs. 11,102, Rs. 14,500, and Rs. 4,935 respectively. The increase in Burdwan occurred mainly in the municipalities of Howrah (Rs. 10,404) and Bally (Rs. 1,848), due in the latter town to the extension of Part IX of the Act to a portion of that Municipality. In the Presidency Division the improvement was shared mainly by the municipalities of Naihati (Rs. 3,590), Maniktola (Rs. 3,343), South Suburbs (Rs. 2,803), and Berhampore (Rs. 1,792). The Dacca and Patna Municipalities also show an improvement of Rs. 2,534 and Rs. 2,446 respectively. The increase was due mostly to better collections, but at Naihati it is attributed partly to the enforcement of Part IX of the Act throughout the Municipality, and also to the payment of a commission on the collections.

The Municipal Commissioners of Burdwan continued to realise Rs. 400 as rent for the old trenching-ground, which has been converted into a garden. The lessee is reported to have raised good crops of maize and cabbages and other vegetables, which obtained a ready sale in the market. The term of the lease having expired, the land has been resettled for four years from 1897-98, at an enhanced rent of Rs. 490 a year. The Municipality also received Rs. 180 from the owners of some private lands for night-soil deposited thereon. With this example before them other municipalities should endeavour to make their trenching-grounds a source of income. In 1895-96 the municipalities of the North-Western Provinces realised Rs. 1,10,804 on this account, and what can be done there ought to be equally possible in Bengal.

26. Tax on persons according to their circumstances and property.—The receipts for the whole Province declined by Rs. 12,201, or 2·2 per cent. on the income of the previous year. This decline is due to the rate on holdings, having been introduced entirely in the Municipality of Baidyabati and partially in those of Bhadreswar and Motihari. Among individual municipalities, the following show the largest fluctuations in the yield of the tax:—

Name of Municipality.	Amount of increase.	Name of Municipality.	Amount of decrease.
	Rs.		Rs.
Berhampore	... 2,925	Sasaram	... 1,635
Naihati ...	... 2,091	Rampur-Boalia	... 1,568
Bihar ...	... 2,050	Nasirabad	... 1,411
Purulia ...	... 1,272

The fluctuations under this head are due to the same causes as affected the receipts under the tax on holdings. The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division ascribes the decrease partly to "undue leniency shown in view of the approaching elections," but Mr. Westmacott, Commissioner of the Presidency

Division, thinks that "neglect on the part of the executive to organize and enforce an efficient system of collection, and want of proper supervision over their subordinates are the chief reasons which hamper collections."

27. Grants from Provincial and Local Funds.—The contributions received by municipalities from Provincial and Local Funds and from other sources rose from Rs. 1,20,965 to Rs. 1,35,488. They are classified as follows:—

Purpose for which made.	Provincial.	District Fund.	Other funds and public charity.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Medical	5,003	48,135	41,129	94,267
Education	3,834	.....	841	4,675
Public Works	9,634	.....	9,339	18,973
Other purposes	1,570	200	15,803	17,573
Total ...	20,041	48,335	67,112	1,35,488

28. Gifts of money or land and works of public utility executed by private individuals.—Besides the contributions included in the statement above, the following instances of private liberality deserve mention:—At Serampore Sreemati Beraj Mohini Dasi built a gangabasi house (resting place for dying persons removed to the bank of the Ganges) at a cost of Rs. 600. Rai Kherada Prosad Pal Bahadur of Howrah contributed Rs. 600 for laying water-pipes in a lane in that town which bears his name. Raja Ranjit Singh of Nashipur paid Rs. 1,500 to the Murshidabad Municipality for the excavation of a tank. Mr. J. Fairlie presented eight iron beds with spring mattresses to the Kushtia Municipal Hospital. In Debhatta a dispensary and a public library were maintained by a zamindar family of Sripur, and about half a dozen of their old private tanks were excavated and made over for the use of the public. In Baranagar an iron bathing ghat, and a large room, with a smaller one for females, were built by Babu Sri Gopal Mallik for the use of the public, and a tank was excavated and a bathing ghat constructed by Babu Rakhal Das Kar at a total cost of Rs. 2,700. In Baruipur Srimati Mukta Kesi Dasi built a rest-house, at a cost of Rs. 800, for the use of persons coming to cremate their dead. The Titaghar Jute and Paper Mills Companies have spent Rs. 500 in putting up three hydrants, with pipes, for supplying water from their factories to the bazar. The late Rai Harrish Chandra Mittra Bahadur made a gift of three tube-wells to the Barasat Municipality; two of them have been sunk and are giving excellent results. In Baduriya the Gyanbikasini Sabha maintained a high school at a cost of Rs. 1,400, nearly half of which has been borne by its Secretary, Babu Upendra Chandra Basu. The residents of Basirhat and Baduriya derived much benefit from a poor-house maintained by Babu Upendra Nath Shaw, Babu Shyama Charan

Ballabh, and Babu Mahendra Nath Gaen, in which from five hundred to a thousand people were fed daily. In Rampur Boalia Babu Taran Krishna Chaudhuri excavated a large tank in mahalla Kaderganj. A fine two-storied building has been constructed for the Rajshahi Public Library by public subscription, the Raja of Dighapatia contributing the main portion. In Sherpur, in the district of Bogra, a shop-keeper excavated an indara for drinking-water, at his own expense, as an act of religious merit. Raja Rajendra Narayan Roy Bahadur, of Bhowal, has offered to pay a sum of Rs. 20,000 for an extension of the Buckland bandh, to be called the Mackenzie bandh, in commemoration of the visit to Dacca of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in July 1896. He also gave another sum of Rs. 5,000 on the same occasion for the construction of a ward in the Mitford Hospital for the accommodation of respectable females, to be called the 'Johnson Ward,' after the late Commissioner, Mr. Luttman-Johnson. Babus Gopi Mohan Roy Choudhury and Krishna Prasad Roy Choudhury, of Haripur, in the Brahmanbaria subdivision of the district of Tippera, made a donation of Rs. 2,500 for the construction of a masonry building for the charitable dispensary at Brahmanbaria. Babu Josiah Naik sunk a well in perpetuation of his wife's memory, and presented it to the Municipality of Cuttack. Babu Khosal Chand Marwari, a Municipal Commissioner, with some of the Marwaries of the town, placed Rs. 548-4 at the disposal of the Municipal Commissioners, to have an additional building constructed at the Konnagar Hindu Burning Ghât for the convenience of the public. Babu Nogendra Nath Rai Choudhury, a zamindar, spent Rs. 1,400 on the re-excavation of a tank situate in the heart of the Kendrapara town, which has greatly improved the sanitary condition of its surrounding quarters. A local subscription of Rs. 1,500 was collected for the construction of a new dispensary building at Daudnagar in Gaya. Messrs. Burrows, Thomson, and Mylne of Behea contributed Rs. 950 to the dispensary at Jagadispur: and with the aid of voluntary subscriptions, have built a new dispensary, doctor's quarters, and servants' quarters at a cost of Rs. 5,500. In Bhabhua Babu Mokund Sahu, an Honorary Magistrate, is re-excavating the municipal tank near the office.

EXPENDITURE.

29. The total expenditure in the municipalities of the Province (excluding Calcutta) amounted during the year to Rs. 39,11,448, against Rs. 41,31,561 in 1895-96, being a decrease of Rs. 2,20,113. The year closed with a balance of Rs. 4,38,100, against Rs. 4,71,117 of the preceding year. The statement in Appendix F shows the percentage that the expenditure in each municipality under each of the principal heads bears to the total outlay (excluding debt and suspense heads). For the whole Province the percentages for the two years are as follows :—

Year.	General establishment.	Lighting.	Water-supply.	Drainage.	Conservancy.	Medical.	Vaccination.	Public Works.	Education.

31. Office and Collection Establishment.—There was an increase in the charges both on account of office establishment and collection of taxes. in three small municipalities, against six in the previous year, the cost of establishment exceeded one quarter of the whole actual expenditure during the year. The increase of Rs. 6,124 on account of office and collection charges in the Presidency Division was due principally to the establishment employed in the new municipalities of Garulia and Azimganj and the inclusion under the former head of the cost of construction and repairs of office buildings, including an item of Rs. 1,058 incurred on this account at Jessore. The system of paying for collections by commission instead of by fixed salaries appears to have been introduced more largely during the year, and the Commissioner of the Presidency Division observes :—

"The new system has been introduced in almost all municipalities, and, in a majority of cases, with success. It has not only effected general savings, but has improved collections almost everywhere. The Magistrate of the 24-Parganas reports that it has given excellent results in South Dum-Dum and Naihati."

32. The prevention of fire.—The total expenditure under this head fell from Rs. 20,969 to Rs. 19,518, the largest decline occurring in the Cossipore-Chitpur Municipality in the Presidency Division, due to a decrease in the charges payable by the Municipality towards the Metropolitan Fire-Brigade. A great fire broke out in the town of Barnagore after the close of the year, causing considerable damage, and it is reported that the Commissioners of that Municipality have since been negotiating with the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for the services of the Fire-Brigade to meet such contingencies in future. The Municipal Commissioners of Dacca have not yet been able to carry out the suggestion of the Magistrate to purchase hand fire-engines.

33. Street lighting.—The total expenditure under this head declined from Rs. 1,72,610 to Rs. 1,66,498. The reduction was shared by five divisions, viz., Burdwan, Rajshahi, Dacca, Chittagong and Patna, the rest showing some improvement. Nineteen municipalities incurred no expenditure on this account.

34. Water-supply.—The large decline of Rs. 4,61,457 under this head is more than accounted for by a reduction of Rs. 7,29,252 in the capital expenditure on account of the water-works at Howrah, which were opened towards the close of the previous year. On the other hand expenditure rose from Rs. 17,542 in 1895-96 to Rs. 2,85,580 in the Bhagalpur Division, owing to the outlay of Rs. 2,70,956 in the Bhagalpur Municipality on the extension of the water-works to the two remaining wards of the town. The attention of the Sanitary Board, who examined and approved of the Howrah water-works scheme before its adoption by the Municipality, will be drawn to the following remarks of the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division on the works :—

"Mr. E. A. Parsick, Secretary and Engineer to the Municipality, who is now in charge of the water-works, is of opinion that the settling tanks are far from perfect, and that, in order to make them water-tight, as well as to protect them from rats, a heavy outlay will, in the near future, be necessary. Mr. W. C Borham, a Mechanical Engineer, who was in charge of the Water-works in February and March 1897, reported that the engines and pumps purchased from Messrs. Evans and Sons were not substantial, and were intricate in construction, and therefore likely to give much future trouble. His opinion is entitled to weight, inasmuch as he was the officer who came out with these engines, fixed them in position, and looked after them as Superintendent up to 3rd February 1897, when he was appointed, by the Municipal Commissioners, their Engineer in charge of the Water-works. The outlook is thus not very encouraging."

Increases of expenditure of Rs. 5,075 and Rs. 8,521 occurred also in the Dacca and Patna Divisions. In the former division the charges for maintaining the water-works at Dacca and Nasirabad rose, and a tank was excavated by the Netrokona Municipality. The Municipal Commissioners of Faridpur spent Rs. 3,986 during the year in completing the construction of a filter connected with a large tank excavated during the previous year. The filter supplies about 10,000 gallons of water daily, and is reported to have proved a great success Full particulars of its working should be furnished to the Sanitary Board, who will consider whether similar schemes can be introduced in other municipalities which cannot afford regular water works

The expenditure by the Gaya Municipality of Rs. 3,852 in cleansing four sacred tanks in that town which are resorted to by the Hindu pilgrims, and by the Muzaffarpur Municipality of Rs. 1,473 in repairing and disinfecting certain drinking-water wells, contributed mainly to the increase of the expenditure in the Patna Division. At Patna the Commissioners sanctioned an expenditure of Rs. 12,000 for boring experiments in connection with the preparation of a project for filtered water-supply, and of this Rs. 632 were spent during the year. In the Burdwan Municipality the Commissioners fitted up a workshop at the water-works and extended the filtered water-supply to areas which were not supplied with the pure water before. At Darjeeling also the Commissioners incurred a capital expenditure of Rs. 7,887 in constructing an additional filter-house and erecting a new hydrant connected with the water-works in that town. The construction of the Pasteur-Chamberland filter at a cost of Rs. 70,000, the contract for which was entered into in the previous year, was not completed during the year. A costly scheme framed by the Sanitary Engineer for the supply of pure water by pumping water from wells in the sandy bed of the Kaliganj river has been approved by the Commissioners of the Midnapore Municipality, and preliminary experiments have been sanctioned by the Commissioners since the close of the year. All the seven riparian municipalities in the district of Hooghly, from Bansberia to Uttarpara, as well as Bally in the Howrah district, joined in a comprehensive scheme for the supply of filtered water. Bansberia, however, which lies farthest to the north, has since withdrawn from the project at the suggestion of the Sanitary Engineer, who is now engaged on drawing up the estimate. At Maniktala the Commissioners extended the water-works at a cost of Rs. 4,271. The Corporation of Calcutta have agreed to supply 50,000 gallons of filtered water daily to the Garden Reach Municipality, and an approximate estimate of cost is now under the consideration of the Commissioners. Negotiations are proceeding for a supply of filtered water to the South Dum-Dum Municipality from the local cantonment main, which is connected with the Calcutta system of supply. The Municipalities of North Dum-Dum, North Barrackpore, Rajpur and Barasat are taking loans from Government to improve their water-supply. The Titagar Jute and Paper Mills have arranged to supply filtered water to the most populated quarters in the Titagar Municipality, and it is expected that similar liberal concessions will be made by other mills. The Titagar Paper Mills have also sunk a well in the centre of the bazar. The small municipality of Debhatta spent Rs. 2,100 in excavating three big tanks, and Meherpore also spent Rs. 1,893 in improving the water-supply. Tube-wells were tried in several places with indifferent success; but at Barasat six of Norton's tube-wells are said to be "giving excellent results, and the water drawn from them is considered the best in the locality." A comprehensive scheme for the supply of filtered water from the neighbouring hills has been framed for the Chittagong Municipality, and negotiations are now being carried on with the Assam-Bengal Railway with the object of inducing them to join in the project.

The scarcity of drinking-water which prevailed during the year forcibly drew attention to the necessity for enlarging and improving the supply, and considerable activity was displayed by most municipalities in dealing with the question. The statistics of available sources of water-supply in each municipality, and of the quality and quantity of the supply are shown in Appendix M.

35. Drainage.—The total expenditure under this head fell from Rs. 1,49,559 to Rs. 1,21,060, owing to the decline of the capital outlay by Rs. 32,557, whilst the maintenance charges increased by Rs. 4,058. The decrease was shared largely by the Burdwan, Rajshahi and Patna Divisions. In the Burdwan Division the completion of the construction of the main drainage channels in Serampore during the previous year, when a capital expenditure of Rs. 9,152 was incurred, accounts for the reduction of the expenditure during the year under review. As regards the suggestion made by the present Sanitary Engineer, that the outfall should be from and not into the river Hooghly, the Commissioner reports :—

"I have asked the Magistrate of Hooghly to enquire and report on the point * * * Theoretically it is, no doubt, open to objection that drainage should be into the Hooghly, But those rate-payers of the riparian Municipalities, who take an interest in the matter, often urge that drainage into rivers largely prevails even in England, that surface drainage can do little harm in a river like the Hooghly, especially considering that mills are allowed to contaminate the water to a much more serious extent, and that it is not fair that the riparian Municipalities should be asked to cripple themselves for an idea, i.e., the drainage being taken elsewhere than to the river, where its natural outfall would be, and this at great expense."

The Lieutenant-Governor will await the Magistrate's report on the subject. The falling off in the Rajshahi Division was due to the decline of expenditure on original works in the Jalpaiguri Municipality from Rs. 12,775 in 1895-96 to Rs. 2,150 during 1896-97. Similarly, the decline in the Patna Division is accounted for by the fact that the Muzaffarpur Municipality spent Rs. 10,815 on drainage in 1895-96 and nothing during the past year.

The municipalities named in the margin incurred considerable expenditure on original works. A drainage project for Howrah is at present under preparation by the Engineer to the Corporation of Calcutta, and the towns of Cuttack, Maniktala, Netrokona, Nasirabad, Jamalpur, English Bazar, and Tangail have schemes under preparation or consideration.

A sum of Rs. 8,216 was spent in the Patna Municipality in repairing the existing drains and in removing the more serious defects in the drainage works, in regard to which the Magistrate remarks :—

"The general condemnation of the drainage works led to an enquiry being held by the Sanitary Commissioner and Sanitary Engineer, and the expenditure incurred has been chiefly on their recommendations. The defects in levels in many cases have been removed, other drains have been widened, and new drains have been and are being constructed to make the system more complete. A flushing scheme for the more crowded parts of the town is under consideration, and, it is hoped, will be carried out in the current year."

In Monghyr a combined water-works and drainage scheme is now being conside ed by the Commissioners. Their attempts to remove the existing encroachments on the municipal drains have involved them in heavy litigaation, and no less than 53 cases have been instituted against them. Most of the cases have, however, been settled amicably, and the Commissioner commends the Vice-Chairman of the Municipality, Babu Sivanandan Prosad Singh, for the success attained in this important matter.

36. Conservancy (including road cleaning) and watering and latrine.—The expenditure under this head rose from Rs. 8,94,066 in 1895-96 to Rs. 9,29,998 in 1896-97, showing an increase of Rs. 35,932, which was shared by all the Divisions* except Rajshahi and Bhagalpur, where the expenditure declined by Rs. 1,899 and Rs. 400 respectively. The statistics given in Appendix F show that the percentage of total expenditure applied to this purpose varied between 53·0 in the Puri Municipality and 1·7 in the small Municipality of Debhatta.

The introduction of the provisions of Part IX of Act III of 1884, the purchase of land for trenching grounds or conservancy yards, the provision of additional latrines, the strengthening of the road and latrine-cleansing establishment, and the purchase of additional plant and stores account generally for the increase of expenditure. The special measures taken for cleansing towns with a view to prevent the spread of plague also contributed to the increase of expenditure. As regards the Cossipore-Chitpur Municipality the Commissioner remarks "this is really the only municipality in the Presidency Division which has an efficient conservancy establishment, a regular system of road-cleaning, an excellent trenching-ground, and an adequate number of public latrines." The Municipal Commissioners of Dacca have resolved thoroughly to reorganise their Conservancy Department, which has for years past been in a most unsatisfactory condition, at a large cost to be met out of borrowed capital.

37. Hospitals and dispensaries.—The total expenditure rose from Rs. 3,02,792 in 1895-96 to Rs. 3,32,653. The charge incurred by municipalities in 1891-92 on this account was Rs. 2,58,544, since when the expenditure has risen by Rs. 74,109 or 28·6 per cent.

Municipality.	Decrease. Rs.
Utterpara	1,681
Krishnagar	1,419
Santipur	1,086
Chapra	1,930

The municipalities named in the margin show the largest fluctuations in their expenditure under this head as compared with the previous year. The decline at Utterpara is only apparent, and is due to a change in the system of management which does not affect the working of the institution. At Krishnagar the charge on account of the pay of the Assistant Surgeon was reduced, at Chapra the decrease was due to the payment of large arrear bills in the preceding year, while at Santipur there was no further expenditure on building. The large increase at Faridpur was due to the construction of a dispensary building, towards the cost of which the Government and the District Board contributed Rs. 2,000 each, while Rs. 1,300 were raised by subscriptions. At Berhampore the Commissioners added a new ward to the hospital for the treatment of patients suffering from infectious diseases. The large increase at Monghyr was due mainly to the construction of Rai Kamaleswari Bahadur's Dufferin Zanana Hospital and of a moribund ward. The construction of a new building for the General Hospital in the town of Chittagong was completed at a cost of Rs. 93,207, of which Rs. 75,000 were contributed by the Chittagong Municipality, the Port Commissioners and the District Board, and the balance was paid by Government. The hospital is managed by a Joint-Committee consisting of 12 members appointed by Government, with the Divisional Commissioner for its President. The Municipality pays an annual contribution of Rs. 2,000, and is relieved of the sole charge of the institution. The cost of maintaining the popular and useful dispensary in the small town of Barh has hitherto been a heavy burden on the Municipal fund; but since the close of the year the Assistant Surgeon in charge of the dispensary has been replaced by a Hospital Assistant, and this change will greatly reduce the expenditure.

The Municipal Commissioners of Burdwan continued to employ the services of a lady doctor at the Municipal Dispensary, and the District Board contributed Rs. 25 a month towards her pay. Only five female patients came to the Zanana Hospital in Bankura, but the lady doctor's services were largely utilised in treating the female patients attending the Bankura Charitable Dispensary, and the number of these rose from 2,754 in 1895-96 to 3,120 during 1896-97. There were trained midwives at Suri and Hooghly-Chinsura, paid respectively by the District Board of Birbhum and the Lady Dufferin Fund. A maternity hospital is attached to the Bankipore Dispensary, where a lady doctor is employed at the cost of the Municipality. A lady doctor is also employed in the Arrah dispensary, and a portion of her salary is paid by the District Board. Female Hospital Assistants were employed also in the Bettiah and Purnea dispensaries. A lady doctor held charge of the female department of the Boalia dispensary, and at Jalpaiguri the Commissioners employed a passed midwife on a salary of Rs. 30 per month. The Darjeeling Municipality spent Rs. 290 on the medical education of two Christian hill girls.

38. Vaccination.—The statement in Appendix H gives full information in regard to vaccination. One hundred and ninety-four vaccinators were employed at a cost of Rs. 19,973. They performed 117,676 operations, of which 93,171 were primary and 24,505 revaccinations; of the total operations, 84·5 per cent. are reported to have been successful, against 86·3 of the previous year. Each operator vaccinated on an average 606 persons, and the average cost of each operation was 3 annas 3 pies. The proportion of persons primarily vaccined exceeded 5 per cent. in the 14 towns named in the margin. The provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act are in force in all municipalities.

39. Public Works.—The expenditure on Public Works rose from Rs. 5,03,741 in 1895-96 to Rs. 5,62,901 in the year under review. The following table compares the expenditure under the several sub-heads during the two years:—

Year.	Establishment.	Buildings.	Roads.	Stores.	Total.

	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

Increase (+) or decrease (—) ...	+ 4,459	— 15,764	+ 50,155	+ 20,310	+ 59,160

There was a satisfactory increase of expenditure on roads contributed mainly by the Burdwan, Presidency and Chittagong Divisions, whilst the charge on account of buildings declined.

40. Public Instruction.—The total expenditure under this head as shown in Form III fell from Rs. 1,37,627 in 1895-96 to Rs. 1,34,716. This decline is more than accounted for by the transfer of the Nator Municipal School to the Maharaja Bahadur of Nator on the 1st April 1896, so that the expenditure on that school does not appear in the Municipal accounts. There is a discrepancy of Rs. 1,977 between the total figures as returned in Appendix I and Form III, due partly to the expenditure of Rs. 1,143 from fees and fines at Dinajpur not having been included in the former. A discrepancy of Rs. 742 in the Patna Division has not been explained.

The total expenditure on primary education shows only a slight increase of Rs. 394, the charge on this account having risen from Rs. 69,153 in 1895-96 to Rs. 69,547 in 1896-97. The following table compares the expenditure on primary education, Division by Division, during the last two years:—

Name of Division.	Cost of teaching half the boys of a school-going age in each municipality at 10 annas per head.	Total expenditure on primary education.		Variation between columns 2 and 4. Total ...	67,565	69,153	69,547	+1,982	+394	3·2	3·1

The prescribed standard of expenditure on primary education, as shown in column 2, was very nearly attained in the Chota Nagpur and Bhagalpur Divisions, whilst the municipalities in the Burdwan, the Presidency, Rajshahi, Chittagong, and Orissa Divisions spent more than the allotted amount.

41. Loans.—The table in Appendix K shows the loan transactions of the municipalities during 1896-97. The new loans received during the year and the purposes for which they were obtained are shown in the margin. The Ranaghat and Kotechandpur Municipalities received the first instalment of their loans of Rs. 5,000 and Rs. 3,000 respectively. The Howrah Municipality obtained the last instalment of the loan of 15 lakhs for water-works. The total loan liability of the municipalities at the close of the year was Rs. 28,63,918.

Name of Municipality.	Amount of loan.	Purpose.
	Rs.
Ranaghat ...	2,500	Water-supply and other improvements.
Meherpur ...	1,500	Water-supply.
Kotechandpur ...	1,500
Sirajganj ...	5,000
Darjeeling ...	30 000	Steam laundry and other improvements.

Chittagong ...	5,000	Burial-grounds and other improvements.
Darbhanga ...	40,000	Sanitary improvements.
Bhagalpur ...	3,00,000	Water-works extension.

42. Audit and Embezzlements.—One case of embezzlement of municipal money occurred in Hooghly-Chinsura, where a dismissed collecting sarkar is reported to have realised certain taxes before and even after his dismissal by presenting fraudulent bills. Apart from the laxity of control and neglect of rules, which rendered the embezzlement possible, it is surprising to find that the Municipality did not prosecute the sarkar, nor report the matter to the Examiner of Local Accounts. He was, however, prosecuted on behalf of Government and sentenced to 21 months' rigorous imprisonment and to a fine of Rs. 100. In the Darbhanga Municipality a sum of Rs. 1,498 was embezzled by the late tax-daroga, who has been convicted by the Sessions Judge, and sentenced to three years' rigorous imprisonment and to pay a fine of Rs. 1,500, and in default to nine months' further imprisonment. In the Patna Municipality fraudulent receipts, covering a sum of Rs. 25-6-4, were granted to three individuals by a tax-collector. These were detected, and a warrant issued for his arrest. The man is still at large, but steps are being taken to attach his security. Embezzlements of small amounts also occurred in the Municipalities of Dacca, Bhagalpur, Monghyr, Chattra, Lohardaga and Daltonganj.

43. Working of the Porters and Dandiwallahs' Act in Darjeeling.—The Act is in force in the Darjeeling Municipality only. The number of porters and dandiwallahs registered was 925, against 726 in the previous year. The prosecutions under the Act numbered 29, and the fines amounted to Rs. 34-4, against Rs. 117 imposed in 1895-96. Nine licenses were cancelled during the year. On the whole, the law is reported to have been worked carefully, and there is a close supervision of dandiwallahs and porters.

44. General working of the Act during the year.—Mr. G. Stevenson, Officiating Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, submits the following general observations on the working of municipalities in his Division:—

Amongst the municipalities of this Division, Howrah occupies a unique position, and sundry questions of municipal law, as affecting its taxation and the like, are now before Government. One of these, the question of adequately dealing with sanitation in bastis, is of interest to other municipalities of the Division also, as mills are gradually increasing in numbers along the course of the river Hooghly. I have, in the course of this report, indicated various shortcomings on the part of municipalities; but, generally speaking, in the larger towns, municipal administration is not unsatisfactory. The Commissioners, if naturally conservative, are open to reason, and fully and fairly consider representations made to them by Government officers. In the smaller mufassal municipalities, unless there is a Government officer on the spot to rouse them to action, the state of things is not so satisfactory, though here, too, there are exceptions. The tendency to let things slide is unchecked. The Chairman of one such Municipality, a non-official, observes as follows:—"Most of the Municipal Commissioners do not take any interest in matters municipal beyond their own elections, and it is only when their own interests are concerned that they care to attend meetings." I fear this remark is of a very general application. Indeed considering the results achieved and the trouble involved in audit inspection and correspondence, I venture to think that many of these petty municipalities would be better abolished, could only some simpler method be introduced of raising money for sanitary and other local improvements. The Magistrate of Hooghly has, in his remarks reproduced above, indicated the most usual defects which are mainly the result of inadequate supervision by the Chairman and Vice-Chairman, and this, as usual, is most noticeable out of doors in such departments as deal with roads, drainage obstructions, and especially sanitation. No doubt the non-official Chairman or Vice-Chairman has probably his own business to occupy him during the day, and is consequently indisposed to move about the municipality in his leisure hours. But when he accepts the position he knows what duties it entails, and he should endeavour to see and hear for himself. Meddlesomeness on the part of individual Commissioners not infrequently interferes with good administration. If these gentlemen were content to ferret out irregularities and bring them to the notice of the municipal executive, they would deserve well of the rate-payers. But their energy is too often misdirected, and they interfere with the Municipal subordinates, and pass orders direct, as if they were entitled to do so. Even when these orders are warranted, the practice is objectionable, much more is it so when interference takes the form of desiring, for instance, a tax-daroga not to be severe with a defaulter. So far as my observation goes, it has not led me to regard the elective system as a success in municipalities. It does not certainly, as the rule, tempt the best men to come forward. They object to enter into a contest with, very likely, some person of inferior social position, the rather that success at the poll can be expected only by hopes being held out of reduced taxation, opposition to all changes and the like.

The fact that, apart from personal or party-feeling, the rate-payers take no interest in the election except for the above reasons, probably explains also the lack of administrative energy frequently noticeable just before a general election. Reforming zeal at such a time might have awkward results at the poll.

45. Mr. E. V. Westmacott has recorded the following observations:—

Referring to the remarks which I made when closing my report for the year ending in March 1896, I find them equally applicable to the subsequent year. Municipal administration is not local-self-government by the people, but government by a limited class, which has no sympathy with the bulk of the people. It is necessary for controlling authorities to be incessantly on the watch to protect the interests of the poor and all who do not belong to the class of educated Babus. Here and there the municipal work of the year shows some improvement, in such matters as the collection of taxes and sanitary improvements, but except where the administration has been taken into the hands of Europeans, as at Titagar and Garuliya, such improvement is solely due to pressure exercised by the Magistrate and the Commissioner of the Division. Without this pressure, I believe that all the admonitions of the Sanitary Commissioner would fall on very barren soil, and, as I have noticed already, municipal incomes would dwindle away from feeble administration. It is unfortunate that the class of pleaders has directed its ambition to municipal office, for, with few exceptions, such as the Chairman of the Jessore Municipality, these men have shown themselves to be most inefficient administrators. In some cases, such as Jangipur and Krishnagar, there has been an obstinate determination not to improve, but, generally, Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen have shown themselves amenable to advice, though generally very feeble in following it.

46. Mr. P. Nolan, Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division, remarks:—

I did not observe any failure in administration, which could be attributed to the terms of the Act. The success attained depends on the energy and practical knowledge of the leading Municipal Commissioners, and their attainments were generally good.

47. Mr. L. Hare, Officiating Commissioner of the Dacca Division, concludes his report with these remaks:—

I have not had time yet to gain much detailed experience of the municipalities of this Division. I saw something of the Nasirabad Municipality, and had occasion to find fault with the work going on, principally road-making. All the elementary rules laid down for this work were being neglected.

Of Dacca and Narayanganj, I had long experience. I thoroughly endorse Mr. Shirres' remarks about Narayanganj, which is a model municipality. Since I have been here I have given much attention to the affairs of the Dacca Municipality. It suffers from want of efficient and adequate supervision. The present Commissioners are, however, working hard to remedy defects and introduce improvements But I am convinced that a large municipality, such as this is, cannot be for long successfully worked by the class of men we are likely to get as Municipal Commissioners, unless they have the backbone of an official Chairman. The efficient control and working of the large establishments entertained for this town cannot be managed by any one who has not had training in such work.

48. Mr. F. R. S. Collier, Officiating Commissioner of the Chittagong Division, submits the following observations as well as extracts from the District Officer's report on the working of municipalities:—

The Magistrate of Tippera writes:—"The Commissioners of the Comilla and Brahmanbaria Municipalities seem to take interest in their work, but the arrangements are not altogether satisfactory. The crying want in the Comilla Municipality is a proper drainage system. A scheme to improve the drainage was prepared and submitted to Government for sanction. It is standing over, nominally pending the settlement of the important question of the outfall drainage, but practically the municipality has given up, for the time at least, all idea of interior drainage. The conservancy and the drainage of the Brahmanbaria town are unsatisfactory. The condition of the private privies is reported to be very bad, and it is essential that the latrine should be introduced. To this the Municipal Commissioners, however, object and decline to be moved."

The following extract from my general administration report relates to the Chittagong Municipality:—"The working of the Chittagong Municipality has been very unsatisfactory for years past. The rate-payers are strongly opposed to all improvements which entail additional taxation, and the elected Commissioners have, even when they were in favour of improvements, themselves been unwilling in many cases to destroy their chances of re-election by voting against the views of their constituents. Moreover, an unpopular Municipal Commissioner runs the risk every dry season of having his house burnt down. A Municipal Commissioner whose house was recently burnt down stated to an official that the act was due to his being known to be in favour of the introduction of Part IX. 'But,' remarked the official, 'you voted against the introduction of Part IX.' 'Yes,' was the reply, 'but they knew I was really in favour of it all the same.' The Chittagong version of a well-known proverb is—'Those who live in thatched houses should not vote for unpopular taxes.' I am afraid that the elective system is utterly unsuited to Chittagong. I should, however, like to give the present body of Municipal Commissioners a chance of showing that this view is wrong, and I therefore do not advocate its immediate withdrawal. They have recently elected Mr. Phillimore, I.C.S., as their Chairman, and this step appears to indicate a desire for an improved administration."

The Cox's Bazar Municipality is a small one. Its income is chiefly spent in repairing roads and drains. It appears to have worked satisfactorily.

49. Mr. J. A. Bourdillon, Commissioner of the Patna Division, recorded the following remarks:—

Municipal administration throughout the year has been of the usual character. Where the Chairman or Vice-Chairman, or both, have been strong and efficient, things have gone smoothly and well. Instances of such prosperous municipalities are Muzaffarpur, Jagadispur, Madhubani and Bihar. Elsewhere the administration has been marked by apathy and abuses in a greater or less degree. The worst of the large municipalities have probably been Chapra and Darbhanga, with Arrah not far behind; but I trust that for all of these better times are in store. The District Magistrate is now Chairman in all three. There has been a change of Vice-Chairman, and energetic efforts are being made to set things right. In Patna and at Gaya the post of paid Vice-Chairman has been abolished, and it is proposed at both these places to appoint a Secretary-Engineer. The want of these two great towns is a good water-supply, and I am glad to say that the prospects of getting them are good.

50. The following are the comments of Mr. W. B. Oldham, Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division:—

"The Division exhibits every stage of municipal government. The most backward municipality is that of Deoghur, under purely official direction, and with by far the best results in every branch except that of actual self-government. The next best is Purnea, where the management is wholly foreign. The Magistrate is the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman, and most active Commissioners are professional men from the metropolitan districts. The two little municipalities in Malda come nearest to self governing institutions managed by local men who are well acquainted with, and also have sometimes to contend with, local interests. Altogether I would give the first place as an example of real and successful municipal government to Monghyr, which is a considerable city. Though the Commissioners continue to choose the District Magistrate as their Chairman, the Vice-Chairman, Babu Shivanandan Prasad Singh, is a prominent townsman, and so are the bulk of the Commissioners. Local interests are often encountered, and of late years there has been no shrinking from such encounters.

"The Municipality of Jamalpur occupies a place by itself. Its taxation and revenue business, its public works and its sanitation, are carried out to the satisfaction of everybody, but otherwise its relations with the controlling authorities are so unsatisfactory, and their demands and requirements are ignored to such a degree, that unless there is amendment in this respect the intervention of Government will become necessary. The kind of neglect under notice amounts to a breach of the law. For instance, the Commissioners are at this moment levying some taxes without any legal sanction.'

"The Commissioners of the important Municipality of Bhagalpur have achieved far more than any other in the Division, but the reaction thereby caused in their ordinary business, which was noticed last year, has increased, and their management of their taxation and revenue is in much disorder and will cause the greatest trouble."

51. Mr. H. G. Cooke, Commissioner of the Orissa Division, writes:—

On the whole, the Municipal Act worked satisfactorily and smoothly in all the Municipalities of this Division.

In the Kendrapara Municipality, it is said, the revision of assessment took place during the current year, which caused a small section of the people to agitate. They petitioned the Municipal Commissioners and the Magistrate of the district. With a view to convince the authorities of the gravity of the general discontent, they put down the signatures (apparently without their knowledge) of those whose taxes have been reduced or even exempted, and, more ridiculously still, got some persons to sign the petition who were not tax-payers at all. The Chairman says:—"It is more to the agitation of such men I may attribute the unpopularity of the municipality." The Magistrate of the district endorses this opinion and says:—"I believe this to be a fair statement of the case." I am not so sure of this; I am aware that discontent has prevailed in Kendrapara for the last five years, and I am not much surprised, after seeing the way the Commissioners have stood in the way of fair play towards the Transgobri portion of the municipal area after the case had been given against them repeatedly by absolutely unprejudicial official inquiries where such a spirit exists, it would be surprising if the rate-payers had not other causes of dissatisfaction.

The Chairman of the Jajpur Municipality says that some amount of discontent was raised by the numerous enhancements made in the revised assessment, but that the murmurings of the discontented people were removed by a careful disposal of objections, and by patiently dealing with the poorer tax-payers.

I am of opinion that far too high a standard is expected, especially in the case of the smaller municipalities; it is impossible, with the incomes at their disposal, for the Municipal bodies to approach such standard. In some cases, creditable attempts have been made in various directions, but some great wants are invariably allowed to stand over, and this must continue to be the case.

Many of the difficulties of the Commissioners arise from the settled habits of the people, and these are perhaps, most conspicuous under the heads "Conservancy and Water-supply." Nothing but a strong, not to say tyrannical, administration would create any impression on such habits, which would be resumed at the first relaxation of vigilant severity. The Commissioners' chief obstacle, after want of funds, is the passive resistance of the people themselves.

52. The following are the comments of Mr. A. Forbes, Commissioner of the Chota Nagpur Division:—

Owing to famine and other pressing duties, I have not had time since I took charge of this Division in December last to give much attention to municipal affairs; but I have, on the whole, been well impressed with what I have seen. The municipalities are, as a rule, well drained, and the streets well kept and clear, and attention is generally paid to the question of drinking water. The proper disposal of night-soil is a weak point almost everywhere, but this is due to want of funds owing to the general low assessments under section 85(a), and the small extent to which Part IX of the Act is made use of. Except from Chatra, I have had no complaints regarding the working of the Municipal bodies. On the contrary, the standard amongst Municipal Commissioners, as regards interest in their work and the wish to do their duty, seems to me quite up to, if not in advance of, that to be found in most parts of Bengal.

53. The Officiating Lieutenant-Governor has little to add to the remarks recorded last year by Sir Alexander Mackenzie on the subject of municipal administration in Bengal. It seems to him, however, that the intrinsic difficulty of the work which is done by the Commissioners of the various municipalities is sometimes imperfectly realised, and that sufficient allowance is not made for the limited funds at their disposal, and the social obstacles which all proposals to increase taxation or enforce more vigorous methods of conservancy have to contend with. As time goes on and experience is gained, it may be hoped that the conduct of municipal affairs will pass more completely into the hands of practical men of business, and that the people will come to understand that a well-managed town is a healthy town, and that a reduced death-rate is well worth the taxation by which alone it can be brought about.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

The Progress Report of Forest Administration in the Lower Provinces of Bengal for the year 1895-96, and the Government orders thereon.

MR. A. E. WILD remained in charge of the Bengal Forest Circle throughout the year, except for three months, during which he was absent on privilege leave and Mr. E. G. Chester officiated for him. The Report was submitted one month and eight days late, but the delay was chiefly due to the destruction of the Conservator's records when the Darjeeling offices were burnt down in January last.

2. The following statement shows the area of each class of forest in the charge of the Department—

Forest.	At the commencement of the year.	Added.	Excluded.	At the close of the year.	PERCENTAGE—
					Of total forest area.	Of the area of the Provinces.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
	Sq. miles.	Sq. miles.	Sq. miles.	Sq. miles.

Unclassed	4,034	.....	.....	4,034	30	2·6
Total ...	13,348	.....	60	13,288	100	8·5

The changes in area that took place during the year were the exclusion of 500 acres from the Mál Forest in the Tista Division, and of about 59 square miles in the Sundarbans which were made over to the Revenue Authorities for the extension of cultivation. No new areas were added to reserved or protected forests during the year, but the settlement of the Tumchar island off the coast of Noakhali was completed, and it was notified as a reserve after the close of the year. The areas shown in the table above against protected forests are only approximate, but more accurate figures will shortly be available on the completion of the settlement operations which are now in progress in the Southal Parganas, Palamau, Singhbhum and Manbhum.

3. Settlements.—Progress was made in the forest settlements which are proceeding together with the revenue settlements in the districts named above and in Chittagong. In the latter district, which is richer and more populous than others in which forest settlements are pending, the operations have been delayed by numerous objections. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to notice that the proposal that the Department should undertake the management of certain areas in the Western Duars, selected by the Settlement Officer as fuel and fodder reserves, has not yet been fully reported on; and trusts with the Conservator that the matter may soon be disposed of. The whole of the forest boundaries that require artificial marks have now been demarcated, 11 miles having been demarcated during the year, and 13 miles written off.

1. Working-plan.—Some progress was made, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to observe, in the preparation of working-plans. The plans of the Tista Valley forests (12 square miles, the Tista Division forests (212 square miles) and the Jalpaiguri Division forests (183 square miles) were revised, completed or sanctioned during the year. The area of reserve forests for which working plans are still required has thus been reduced from 3,339 to 2,932. But the area remaining is still large, and Mr. Stevens trusts that further efforts will be made and that it will be reduced.

5. Buildings and Communications.—The following statement shows the expenditure on Roads and Buildings in 1895-96 and 1896-97, and the Budget Estimates for the latter year:—

There was a decrease of Rs. 4,804 in the expenditure on buildings, and a slight increase of Rs. 686 in that on roads and bridges. The only new buildings of any importance that were completed were a rest-house in Darjeeling and a bungalow in Kurseong. The offices of the Conservator and of the Direction Division are accommodated in the Darjeeling Cutchery, which was destroyed by fire; the re-building is charged to General Revenues.

Seventy-two miles of new road were made, and 775 miles of old road repaired, against 97 and 678 miles, respectively, in the previous year. The Conservator gives, as recently ordered by the Government of India, a statement showing the relative importance of the roads constructed during the year and the purpose for which they were designed; 49 miles out of the 72 miles were intended to facilitate export, and the rest for inspection.

6. Breaches of Forest Law.—Two hundred and eighty cases of offences against the Forest Law were prosecuted in the Courts, against 263 in 1895-96; the increase in the number of prosecutions was mainly in the Sundarbans and Sonthal-Parganas Divisions, and there was a decrease in Singhbhum and Chittagong. 87·8 per cent. of the cases disposed of resulted in conviction. Orders have been issued since the close of the year for the uniform classification of offences by fire and the present report has been prepared in accordance with those orders. Twenty-seven cases of this class were prosecuted in the Courts, against 55 in the previous year, and 20 of the cases resulted in conviction; the number of persons prosecuted and convicted does not appear. Only 7 of the cases of this kind that were taken into Court occurred in Singhbhum against 33 in the previous year; 5 each occurred in the Darjeeling and Tista Divisions, 3 each in Buxa and Angul and 1 each in Jalpaiguri, the Sonthal Parganas, Puri, and Chittagong. In 47 cases of injury by fire, the offenders remained undetected; in Singhbhum, there were 22 "undetected" cases, against 70 in the previous year.

The number of cases compounded by Forest Officers under section 67 of the Act was 1,158, involving 1,937 persons, against 1,163 cases involving 1,761 persons in the previous year. The amount received as compensation was, however, slightly larger, being Rs. 7,021 against Rs. 6,241; the average compensation being Rs. 6-1 for each case and Rs. 3-10 for each person. Under the standing orders of Government, no compensation was accepted in cases of injury to forests by fire. Of the total number of offences (1,547), the Darjeeling Division contributed 482, Puri 210, and Tista 203; the Darjeeling and Tista Divisions had headed the list in the two previous years.

7. Grazing.—Five hundred and sixteen square miles of reserved forests were open to all animals for the whole year, and 123 square miles were thrown open for three months in the Angul Division, to afford relief owing to the injury done to the ordinary pastures by the floods of the Mahanadi. It is not likely that the reserved forests in the plains will be required for pasture for a long time to come. Practically, the whole of the protected and unclassed forests is open to grazing, except in the Sundarbans, where there is no pasture. The actual fees received from grazing in reserved forests amounted to Rs. 10,873, very nearly the same as in the previous year, and in the protected forests to Rs. 7,177, against Rs. 5,175 in the previous year. All but Rs. 4 of the fees in the protected forests was again collected in Puri. The number of cattle impounded was 1,578, against 1,697 in the previous year.

8. Forest fires.—Mr. Wild observes, as was noticed in last year's Resolution, that severe fire seasons do not follow each other, and that good years often alternate with bad. This remark certainly holds good of the last four years. The year 1893-94 was disastrous in this respect, 1894-95 was favourable, 1895-96 was again disastrous, and 1896-97 was again favourable. The early months of the year 1897 were, except in the hills, extremely wet, and this is, no doubt, the principal cause of immunity. As in the previous year, special protective measures were taken over an area of 1,957 square miles, of which 62 square miles, or 3·16 per cent. only, were over run by fire, against 584 square miles, or 24·84 per cent., in the previous year. One-third of the area protected was sissu forest of the most inflammable nature, in the greater portion of which measures of protection against fire had only been commenced in 1895-96. Although in the Himalayas the year was comparatively dry, only 123 acres of the hill forests were burnt, against 2,984 acres in the previous year. The Divisions in which most fires occurred in the protected area were Buxa and Singhbhum. As far as information for the whole forest area is available 215 square miles or 2·32 per cent. were burnt, but the figures cannot be relied upon.

In accordance with the orders of the Government of India, a statement is, for the first time, included in the Report, showing the causes of forest fires as far as they were ascertained. The Report contains no information on the burning of savannah lands, a matter upon which the Government of India remarked in reviewing the Report for the previous year.

9. Yield and outturn of Forest produce.—The following statement gives details of the forest outturn of the year:—

The total outturn of timber and fuel was 35,674,390 cubic feet, or 2,568,019 cubic feet less than in the previous year; being an average of 2,684·7 cubic feet per square mile. The decrease took place in every kind of forest produce; and was no doubt due to the agricultural depression. The total output of timber was 5,196,702 cubic feet, or 160,778 less than in the previous year. The operations for the supply of sleepers to the Rai Bareli-Benares Railway continued in Singhbhum, where the outturn was 538,972 cubic feet, and Mr. Wild points out that it was only these operations that enabled the Circle to maintain its financial position during the year, which the prevalence of scarcity and drought in the Sundarbans and Chittagong, (these being the Divisions which usually yield most profit) would otherwise have endangered. The whole amount of produce removed by departmental agency was 571,960 cubic feet of timber, 212,225 of fuel (mostly for the troops in Darjeeling) and 12,075 bamboos, besides minor produce. The amount of timber removed by purchasers was 4,577,509 cubic feet, or 573,034 cubic feet less than in the previous year. The amount of timber removed from the Sundarbans alone was 590,356 cubic feet less than in the previous year, and in Chittagong it was 119,529 cubic feet less. The yield of fuel also declined from 16,705,959 cubic feet to 14,247,507; here again the largest decrease was in the Sundarbans.

10. Financial Results.—In spite of famine and scarcity, the gross receipts and net revenue are considerably larger than those of the previous year, when they were already the highest on record. The receipts for the forest year were Rs. 13,45,482, and the charges Rs. 6,96,378, leaving a surplus of Rs. 6,49,604. This is more by Rs. 1,89,525 than the surplus of 1895-96. The value of sleepers delivered, that was adjusted during the year, was Rs. 4,92,937. The following table shows the results for the last six years according to the financial year:—

Financial year.	Receipts.	Charges.	Net revenue.

Net surplus ...	.....	.....	.....	.....	4,52,641	6,80,807	.....	.....

The Sundarbans Division has again the largest surplus (Rs. 409,389) though this is less by Rs. 51,180 than its surplus of the previous year. The Singhbhum Division comes next. The Chittagong revenue has continued to decline. The only other Divisions that yielded a revenue of more than

Rs. 10,000, were Jalpāiguri and Tista. The deficits in Buxa and Puri were less than in the previous year.

11. Miscellaneous.—Mr. Wild was on tour for 170 days and Mr. Chester for 42 days; they visited seven out of thirteen Divisions. There were changes of charge in nine Divisions, and these were especially numerous in the Direction, Tista and Singhbhum Divisions. The Forest Department was fortunate in that comparatively little damage was done to its buildings by the earthquake of the 12th June; as already stated, the offices of the Conservator and of the Darjeeling Divisions were destroyed by fire in January. The consequent destruction and displacement of records have, no doubt, added considerably to the difficulty of administration; Mr. Wild's administration has been as successful as in previous years—from the financial point of the view even more so—and the Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are again due to him.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

M. FINUCANE,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOMINATION OF A REPRESENTATIVE MEMBER OF THE MUNICIPALITIES IN THE CHITTAGONG DIVISION TO A SEAT IN THE COUNCIL OF THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR FOR MAKING LAWS AND REGULATIONS.

No. 5865A.

APPOINTMENT.

RESOLUTION.

Dated Calcutta, the 17th December 1897.

THE appointment of the Hon'ble Mr. Madhu Sudan Das as a member of the Bengal Legislative Council, will expire on the 10th February 1898. He was appointed on the recommendation of the Municipalities of the Chota Nagpur and Orissa Divisions, and in accordance with the decision arrived at in paragraph 8 of the Resolution of this Government, dated 31st March 1897, the municipalities of the Chittagong Division will be entitled to exercise the privilege of recommending a person for nomination to the Council to fill Mr. Das' vacant seat. The necessary notification will therefore now be published in the Calcutta Gazette specifying the municipalities in the Chittagong Division from which a recommendation will be made to the Lieutenant-Governor for the nomination of one seat in Council. Each Municipality will elect one representative only, and he will be entitled to exercise all the votes of the body which he represents.

2. The following are the Municipalities of the Chittagong Division which will send delegates to vote for a person to be recommended for the seat falling vacant on the 10th February 1898, and the number of votes assigned to them according to the scale shown in paragraph 6 of the Resolution cited above. The ordinary income taken is that for 1896-97.

District.	Name of Municipality.	Ordinary income.	Number of votes to be recorded by the representative.
		Rs.
Tippera ...	Comilla	14,077	2
	Brahmanbaria	6,165	1
Noakhali	Noakhali	5,341	1
Chittagong	Chittagong	41,556	3

3. Under Rule IV of the Regulations framed by the Governor-General in Council with the sanction of the Secretary of State under section 1 (4) of the Indian Councils Act, 1892, for Bengal, the Lieutenant-Governor now desires that intimation may be at once communicated by the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division to the Chairmen of all the Municipalities enumerated in the above list, requesting them to arrange for the convening of a special meeting of each Municipality concerned, at which one of their members may be elected to represent them for the purpose of recommending the nomination of a member in the Lieutenant-Governor's Council. The name of the representative elected in each must be reported at once by the Chairman of the Municipality concerned for the information of the Commissioner of the Division.

4. The period of two months which is contemplated under Rule VII of the Regulations as the period within which a recommendation shall be made to the Lieutenant-Governor is hereby declared to run from the date on which the Commissioner of the Division issues his invitation to the Chairman of any Municipality concerned to elect one of their members to represent them for the purpose of recommending the nomination of a member in the Lieutenant-Governor's Council.

5. As soon as the representatives are elected by the Municipalities concerned, they will be called upon by the Commissioner of the Division to meet together on an early and convenient date, with special reference to the limit of time imposed under Rule VII of the Regulations, and at such convenient place as he may specify, for the purpose of electing by a majority of votes a person whom they will recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor to be nominated as a member of the Council. The names of all candidates put forward at such meeting shall be duly proposed by one of the electoral representatives present. The election shall be by ballot, and the person elected must obtain a majority of the votes of the representatives present. If on occasion of the first ballot an absolute majority is not obtained, the candidate who obtains the least number of votes shall be withdrawn from the election, and another ballot shall then be held for the remaining candidates, and so on until an absolute majority is obtained.

The electoral representatives present at this meeting shall elect among themselves a Chairman, who shall preside and be responsible for the fair and proper exercise of the ballot vote.

As soon as the election is made, the Chairman of the meeting shall without delay, report to the Commissioner of the Division the name of the person so elected, with the number of votes obtained and any other information which it may appear desirable to communicate, and on behalf of the meeting shall recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor to nominate for Council the person so elected. The Commissioner shall submit the report from the Chairman of the meeting, with any observations he may wish to add, to the Chief Secretary to Government, by whom the recommendations will be submitted to the Lieutenant-Governor.

6. Attention is drawn to the following Rule VI of the Regulations which have been framed by the Governor-General in Council and Secretary of State :—

VI.—It shall be a condition in the case of any person to be recommended by a Municipal Corporation or group of Municipal Corporations that he shall be a person ordinarily resident within the Municipality or the district in which it is situated, or in some one of the Municipalities constituting the group or of the districts in which they are situated. A similar condition shall also apply to persons to be recommended by District Boards.

Under this rule it is not necessary that persons recommended shall be members of any Municipality concerned, but they must be ordinarily resident within the Division from which the recommendation is made. Subject to this condition, the rules declare no limit of qualification, and it is left to the electoral representatives to recommend a person under Rule V (c) according to the majority of their votes.

7. It is desirable that the subsidiary arrangements now sanctioned shall, as far as possible, be given effect to by the Municipalities concerned with the minimum of official interference. The Divisional Commissioner and District Magistrates will, of course, afford any assistance which may be required, and do their utmost to facilitate the smooth working of the elections; but Government officers are forbidden to take part directly or indirectly in the election by canvassing, influencing votes, or otherwise interfering with the free choice of the Municipalities. No indication should be given by any official member of any of those Municipalities as to the manner in which he himself intends to vote.

Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be furnished to the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division for information and guidance, and for communication to the Municipalities concerned in his Division.

Ordered also that a copy be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. W. BOLTON,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The import of rice into Chittagong during the week under report amounted to 2,235 cwts., the whole of which came from Burma, against 541 cwts. in the corresponding week of 1896, while the improvement of 3,858 cwts. in the export trade was due to the despatches of 2,409 cwts of rice and 1,612 cwts of paddy to Galle, Colombo, and the Madras ports, against nil in the week ending 7th December 1896. The import trade of Balasore ports improved by 468 cwts. owing chiefly to larger receipts of gram and pulses and other food-grains from Calcutta. The export trade of these ports also showed a rise of 17,677 cwts., and was due to larger shipments of rice to Colombo, Calcutta, and the Madras ports. False Point despatched 15,602 cwts of rice to Columbo, against 4,289 cwts. during the corresponding period of last year. Bombay, which received 469 cwts. of rice and 1,007 cwts of gram and pulses from False Point during the week ending 7th December 1896, drew nothing in the period under review.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

[The arrangements hereinafter described are subject to revision under the orders of the Secretary of State for India.]

1. The Royal Indian Engineering College is primarily maintained, under the orders of the Secretary of State for India in Council, for the education of candidates for the service of Government in the India Public Works, Telegraph, and Forest Departments; but it is open, to the extent of the accommodation available, to all persons desirous of following the course of study pursued in it.

India Forest Department Appointments.

2. The examination, which will be conducted by the Civil Service Commissioners, will be simultaneous with, and (except that German must be taken as an obligatory subject) in the same subjects and papers as, the examination for the Indian Police Department,* which is usually held in June.

Candidates may undergo the written part of their examination in London, Edinburgh, or Dublin, or at any of the provincial centres at which the simultaneous examination of candidates for admission to the Royal Military College, Sandhurst, is to be held. A list of the probable centres may be obtained from the Civil Service Commissioners at any time after March 1898. The oral and practical parts of the examination will be held in London only.

A fee of 2*l.* is required from the candidates examined in London, but when the written examination is conducted elsewhere than in London the fee is 3*l.* Candidates examined at a college or school will probably be required to pay a local fee in addition to the fee of 3*l.* (in order to defray the expenses of superintendence), as to which they should obtain early information from the college or school authorities. The fee payable to the Civil Service Commissioners must be paid by means of stamps of the specified amount. Instructions on this point will be issued to candidates about 10 days before the examination.

3. The number of candidates to be selected annually varies according to the requirements of the Forest Service in India; the figures as regards each particular year will be advertised from time to time. In 1898 there will be six appointments offered for competition.

4. Candidates for the Indian Forest Department are selected under the following arrangements:—

(1) An applicant must be a natural-born British subject, and must be above 17 and under 20 years of age on the 1st June of the year in which he competes for an appointment. He must be unmarried, and if he marries before reaching India, he will forfeit his appointment.

(2) An applicant must send† to the Revenue Department of the India Office, on or before the 1st day of May of the year in which he proposes to compete:—

(a) His name and parentage, a certificate or other satisfactory evidence of the date of his birth, and the written consent of parent or guardian that his name should be recorded as a candidate.

* Candidates may, if qualified, enter for both the Police and the Forest Department. They will, in such case, have to pay the fee due in respect of each examination.

---

* With a view to prevent parents and guardians from incurring the inconvenience and expense of preparing candidates who may be physically unfit for the Forest Service, it is suggested that, before any such preparation is begun, candidates be submitted to examination by the medical adviser of the family, or any other qualified medical practitioner, with regard to the following points:—

1. A weak constitution.

3. Impaired hearing.
4. The existence of any congenital defect.
5. The condition of teeth.

It is to be understood that this private examination is merely suggested to lessen the chances of disappointment, and that it is by no means intended to take the place of, or to influence in any way, the official examination, which is obligatory on all candidates.

On the subject of the standard of eyesight required for the Indian services, a pamphlet has been published, under the authority of the Secretary of State in Council, by Messrs. Churchill and Sons, 11, New Burlington Street.

† Reprints of the papers set at previous examinations, together with tables of the marks assigned to the candidates, are published by the Civil Service Commissioners, and can be obtained through any bookseller. The price of each reprint is one shilling.

§ No special text-books are prescribed.

5. The course of study for candidates for the India Forest Service extends over about three years. For about seven terms the candidates will prosecute their studies mainly at the College, and during the period of foreign study, which will occupy the remainder of the course, they will visit, under suitable supervision, such Continental forests as may be selected for the purpose. Excursions may also be made for purposes of instruction, both during term time and during part of the vacations.

6. Each annual session begins in September, and is divided into three terms, with vacations of about four weeks at Christmas, two weeks at Easter, and eight weeks in the summer.

7. A charge of 61*l.* is made for each of the seven terms spent at the College; for the period of foreign study the charge is 150*l.*: the amounts must be paid terminally in advance to the Bank of England for the first seven terms, and the amount due for the period of foreign study must be paid before the period begins. Receivable orders, with full directions as to the mode of payment, will be forwarded from the India Office to the parents or guardians shortly before the fees fall due. A student will not be allowed to come into residence or to start for his study of foreign forests until his fee has been paid.

8. A deposit of 5*l.* is required to be paid by each student on admission to the College, as caution money, to cover charges incurred by him for damage to books, instruments, etc., or any College bills outstanding on leaving the College. Any balance over and above such charges will be repaid. This deposit is to be paid with the fee for the first term, making the total payment on that occasion 66*l.*

9. The foregoing payments cover all charges for tution, board according to the College tariff, lodging, with washing, up to a cost of 2*s.* a week, and ordinary medical attendance while in residence at the College. When students are on tour, and during the course of practical instruction, whether in Great Britain or on the Continent, the Secretary of State will defray the expenses of (1) board, lodging, and washing (the aggregate maximum expenditure under these heads being 10*s.* per diem), (2) travelling expenses, and (3) fees to local Forest officers, etc.

Students are required to provide their own class books and drawing instruments. Drawing paper, drawing boards, and surveying instruments are provided by the College.

10. The prescribed course of study comprises the following subjects:—

I.—Auxiliary Subjects.

1. Geometrical Drawing.
2. Freehand Drawing.
3. Surveying.
4. Forest Engineering.
5. Accounts.
6. German.
7. Mechanics.
8. Physics.
9. Chemistry.
10. Geology and Mineralogy.
11. Entomology.
12. Botany.
13. Drill and Gymnastics.

II.—Forestry, theoretical and practical, in all its branches.

11. Every student is required to conform to the College rules, to exhibit due diligence in his studies throughout the course, and to give evidence of satisfactory progress in such manner as may be required; failing which, or in the event of serious misconduct, he will be liable to be removed from the College, or to be sent back from the foreign study, which may entail the loss of his appointment.

12. During the course of study, the proficiency of the students will be tested by periodical examinations, and on the termination of their studies there will be a final examination. Each student may also, at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India, be required from time to time to appear before the Medical Board, and should the result be unsatisfactory he cannot claim to be allowed to complete the course.

13. The subjects enumerated in paragraph 10 are grouped in certain main branches of study,* and a fixed minimum of qualification is required in each branch and in the subjects taught during the forest tours, as well as a certain minimum for all branches taken together. Students who obtain these minima will receive the College diploma in Forestry.

14. Candidates who have obtained this diploma and are found to be of sound constitution and free from physical defects which would render them unsuitable for employment in the Forest Department (the final decision on which points will rest with the Secretary of State for India) will be appointed Assistant Conservators in the Forest Department of India in the order of their standing at the end of the final examination. They will be allowed, before leaving the College, to state their perference in respect to the Provinces to which they desire to be allotted; but the distribution will be made to the several Provinces according to the needs of the public service, at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India after consulting the President of the College. Officers are, however, at all times liable to be transferred from one Province to another at the pleasure of the Government of India.

15. Within a month of his nomination as Assistant Conservator, each nominee must sign articles of agreement describing the terms and conditions of his appointment; he must embark for India when required to do so by the Secretary of State, and will be provided with a free passage. Failure to embark at the stated time will, in the absence of satisfactory explanation, lead to forfeiture of appointment.

* For details see Royal Indian Engineering College Calendar.

16. The pay of an Assistant Conservator of Forests will begin from the date of reporting arrival in India. Probationers who acquit themselves creditably during their course at Cooper's Hill College will begin on a salary of Rs. 350 a month. It will, however, rest with the President of the College to decide whether any of the probationers, though they have obtained the College diploma in Forestry, have failed to deserve that rate of initial salary. Such probationers, if any, will begin on a salary of Rs. 250 a month; and this difference of salary will continue until the first departmental examination is passed in India. Officers entering the Forest Service will be required to contribute a subscription, ranging from a compulsory minimum of 5 per cent. up to a voluntary maximum of 10 per cent. of their salary, to the Forest Officers' Provident Fund. Such contributions, with compound interest, will accumulate till the date of retirement, when the total sum will be paid to the contributor, or, in the event of death before retirement, to his legal representative.

17. Promotion, leave, and pension will be governed by the regulations laid down by the Government of India and made applicable to Forest officers, such regulations being subject to any modifications or alterations which may be made in them from time to time by the Government of India, and their interpretation in case of any doubt arising being left to that Government. The pension rules applicable to Public Works and Telegraph officers appointed from Cooper's Hill College have been extended to Forest officers appointed from England; and the Inspector-General of Forests and Conservators of the 1st grade are now eligible for the extra pension of Rs. 1,000 per annum admissible to an officer after at least three years of approved service as head of a department in any Province, if considered deserving of the special concession. A copy of the Regulations relative to these matters can be seen on application either at the Library or the Record Department of the India Office; the principal rules are contained in the Abstract of the Civil Service Regulations, as given in the "India List and India Office List" published by Messrs Harrison and Sons, 59, Pall Mall, London, which can be procured through any bookseller.

18. Every candidate, before proceeding to India, will be required to furnishto the President of the College satisfactory evidence of his competency in riding.

GENERAL RULES.

19. Chemical, phy-ical, and botanical laboratories, a forestry museum, a forest nursery, a library, and gymnasium are attached to the College. Means are also provided for the practice of photography. Students making use of the laboratories are supplied with the needful apparatus.

20. The responsibility for the discipline and management of the College and for the superintendence of the studies is vested in the President, under the control of the Secretary of State for India.

21. The students are distributed in divisions, under personal charge of one of the Professors or Instructors selected by the President; such tutor being responsible for exercising the proper degree of personal supervision over each student in his division, and for conducting necessary correspondence with the student's parents or guardians.

22. Each student residing in the College is provided with a separate room, and with fuel and light, also with the necessary attendance. Furniture and bedding are supplied by the College, but students are required to provide their own towels and bed linen. Meals are taken in hall. Wine and beer are not included in the ordinary fare, but can be obtained from the College cellar at fixed prices.

23. A chapel is attached to the College, which the students residing in the College are expected to attend, unless specially exempted.

24. Every student will be required to go through a course of gymnastics and also of military exercises, including the use of the rifle.

25. Students are required to wear academical dress, under such regulations as may be prescribed from time to time.

Students not nominated for the Indian Forest Service, but desirous of obtaining a Diploma in Forestry from Cooper's Hill College.

26. Students not nominated for the Indian Forest Service may be received into the College as far as the available accommodation permits. Such students may pass through the course of instruction prescribed for the nominees of the Indian Forest Service, as detailed above, or they may be permitted to participate in the instruction given in certain subjects only. On attaining the prescribed minima of marks in the several branches of study and in totals as laid down above, they will receive, as the case may require, either the College Diploma in Forestry or special certificates showing in what subjects they have followed the instruction and with what result.

27. Candidates who desire to be admitted under paragraph 26 may submit the necessary application at any time, but not later than the 15th day of June of the year named for admission, except with the special permission of the President. The application must be made on the prescribed forms, which can be obtained from the Secretary of the College.

28. Candidates whose applications are found satisfactory as to character and in other respects will be required to undergo an examination, to be held at the College, about the last week in June of the year for admission. The object of the examination will be to ascertain whether the candidate is qualified to follow the course of instruction with advantage (or certain parts of it, as the case may be). Candidates who do not come up to the required standard will not be admitted to the College.

The President may dispense with the whole or any portion of this examination in the case of a candidate who produces a University diploma, or other similar certificate granted by a recognized examining body.

29. Candidates admitted to the College under paragraph 26, who propose to pass through the full prescribed course of study, will be required to pay the same fees in every respect as those paid by the nominees for the India Forest Service. Candidates who do not become resident, and are admitted only to certain subjects of study, will be required to pay the fees which may be fixed in each special case in consideration of the extent of their studies. The candidates of both classes will be required to abide by the general rules of the College.

FOREST EXAMINATION.

SYLLABUS.

CLASS I.

Mathematics.—The extent of the Examination will be as follows:—

(a) Algebra, up to and including the binominal theorem; the theory and use of Logarithms.
(b) Euclid, Books I to IV and VI.
(c) Plane Trigonometry, up to and including solution of triangles, and Mensuration.

English Composition.—The standard of positive merit will be looked for in logical arrangement of thought, and in accuracy and propriety of expression, but large deductions of marks will be made for faults of writing and spelling.

Candidates are also warned that, for similar faults in the use of the English language, similar deductions will be made from the marks obtained in the German papers in Class I.

German.—There will be translations of unseen passages from German into English, and from English into German; the passages for translation will be taken, mainly, from standard authors, and a few simple questions may be asked, on the passages set, as to the structure and character of the language and allusions of obvious and general interest. The viva voce Examination will include Dictation.

CLASS II.

Any two Subjects may be taken up.

Higher Mathematics—

 In all the following subjects great importance will be attached to accuracy in numerical results.

Further questions and problems on the subject of the Examination in Mathematics, Class I.

And in addition:—

Statics: The equilibrium of forces acting in one plane and of parallel forces, the centre of gravity, the mechanical powers, and friction. (The graphical or geometrical method of treating such problems should be studied as well as the analytical. No application of the differential calculus to Statics will be required.)

Dynamics: Uniform, uniformly accelerated, and uniform circular motion, falling bodies and projectiles in vacuo, collisions and work. (Analytical methods of solution, but not the use of the differential calculus, will be involved.)

Analytical Geometry: Problems on straight line and circle.

Conic Sections: Elementary properties, with easy problems both on the analytical and geometrical methods.

French.—The passages for translation will be taken mainly from standard authors, and in other respects the Examination will proceed on the same lines as in German.

Latin.—Passages selected from the authors usually read in schools will be set for translation into English. Passages from English authors will be given for translation into Latin prose and verse; but candidates will be allowed, in the place of verse composition, to answer questions of a simple character which will test whether they possess a fundamental knowledge of the grammar of the language, and such an elementary acquaintance with Roman History as is required for the intelligent study of the books they have read.

Greek.—Passages will be set for translation into English from the authors usually read in schools, and in other respects the Examination will proceed on the same lines as in Latin.

English History.—The General Paper in this subject will test whether the candidates are accurately acquainted with the facts of English History, and also possess an intelligent knowledge of the meaning of the facts. The paper on the fixed period will, of course, require from the candidates more minute knowledge than the General Paper.

Botany, Chemistry, Physics, Physical Geography, and Geology.—The standard of Examination in these subjects will be such as may be reasonably expected from the education given at schools possessing appliances for practical instruction, such as a laboratory, etc. A considerable portion of the marks will be allotted for the proficiency shown in the practical part of the Examination.

Chemistry will be limited to elements of inorganic chemistry.

Physics will include elementary properties of electricity, magnetism, heat, light, and sound.

Geology, chiefly economic, including the recognition of the more familiar minerals and rocks, and their properties and uses.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exporation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 18 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-books and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipt, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.

And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following, the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government Superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1896-97, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale, that may be desired by parties connected with the trade, will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

FINAL REPORT ON THE BHADOI CROPS IN BENGAL 1897.

THE following is published for general information.

M. FINUCANE,

The 27th December 1897. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Report on the Bhadoi Crops in Bengal, 1897.

Character of the season —The character of the season up to the middle of September last was described in the summary of the district returns given in the preliminary forecast of the bhadoi crops, issued on the 26th September. Up to that time, the season was, on the whole, favourable to the growth of all kinds of bhadoi crops. The rainfall of September was more irregular than during the previous part of the monsoon season. The average fall for the whole province was practically normal. The fall in East and North Bengal was in excess; it was normal in Bihar and in defect elsewhere. There was heavy general rainfall during the first and third weeks of October, and every district received considerably more than the normal fall. Very heavy rain was received in Chittagong during the passage of the cyclone of the 24th October. From the 25th to the 31st of October, practically the close of the bhadoi season, there was no rain.

2. Area cultivated.—According to the district estimates appended to this Note, the total area cultivated, with all kinds of bhadoi crops this year, amounts to 16,323,700 acres, against 15,864,100 acres estimated to have been cultivated in 1896. The increase of 459,600 acres, or 2·9 per cent. on the total area, is due to the generally favourable character of the bhadoi season. The increase of area under bhadoi paddy is noticeable, and is reported to be due to the scarcity of food-grains. which induced cultivators to grow food-crops, and, especially, early rice, in place of non-food crops. This explains the decrease of cultivation also of the latter crops.

3. Character of the crop.—From the statement appended to this Note, it will be seen that, taking the bhadoi crops of these Provinces as a whole, 11 out of 45 districts, viz.:—Burdwan, Birbhum, Dacca, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur, Cuttack, Puri, Hazaribagh, Lohardaga and Manbhum, return crops varying from above 16 annas to a little below 19 annas; six districts viz. :—Darjeeling, Backergunge, Tippera, Balasore, Palamau and Singhbhum, return average crops of 16 annas. Twenty-seven districts, as noted in the margin,* return crops varying from above 12 annas to little below 16 annas, and only one district viz., Patna, estimates a poor crop of 9 annas, the result of damage done by flood-water. Slight damage by floods is also reported from the districts of Champaran, Monghyr and Purnea. A comparison of the present estimates of outturn, with those given in the first forecast of September last, shows that 15 districts report better crops, 24 districts equal crops, and 6 districts worse crops.

* Bankura, Midnapore, Hooghly, all the districts of the Presidency and Rajshahi Divisions except Darjeeling, the districts of Mymensingh, Faridpur, Noakhali, Chittagong, all the districts of the Patna and Bhagalpur Divisions excepting Patna, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga and Bhagalpur, and Angul and Khondmals.

It was stated in the preliminary forecast of September, that the arithmetical mean of the district estimates for the Province, calculated with reference to areas, was 15 annas, but that, considering the favourable condition of the season, and allowing for the tendency of reporting officers to under-estimate, this Department estimated the bhadoi crops of 1897, taken as a whole, as 16½ annas. The conditions have not altered for the worse since the issue of the first forecast. The arithmetical mean, as it stands now, is 15¾ annas, and the bhadoi crop of 1897 may be considered as more than an average crop of 16 annas.

(b) Increase of area sown with bhadoi paddy is due to the lowness of stocks, which induced the people to sow bhadoi in order to get an early return. (c) The outturn in Thakurgaon is returned at over 16 annas, but the outturn was not so good in the rest of the district. (d) Owing to the lowness of food stocks, bhadoi rice was, to some extent, sown in place of jute: hence the decrease in area under non-food crops.

Increase of area sown with mandua, Indian-corn and bhadoi cereals, is due to the fact that the people sowed down more food-crops than usual, in order to replenish their stocks. Some crops also were sown down in fields where the indigo crop was destroyed by flood. The outturn has not been what was expected, owing to excessive moisture and delays in sowings caused by floods.

Champaran ..	2,259,840	1,364,000	Bhadoi paddy	223,000	223,000	236,000	7	12	The normal area and consequently the other areas have again been altered owing to a final revision of the cadastral survey figures by the Settlement Department. The area shown in column 3 of the first forecast represented the aggregate, not the net cultivated area, i.e., double cropped land was reckoned twice over in order to indicate the relative importance of the bhadoi harvest. The area now shown is the net area. About 18 square miles situated within the geographical boundaries of Saran district are excluded. The area sown in bhadoi rice, maize and mandua was somewhat above the normal owing to some low lands usually growing winter rice being sown with the above crops in consequence of the dryness of the season and the desire to secure food-grain early. The yield has suffered since the first forecast owing to heavy inundations, which mostly affected the bhadoi rice. This crop also suffered from untimely rain in the first half of September. The indigo crop sustained severe injury from general want of moisture.

FINAL REPORT ON THE WINTER RICE CROP IN BENGAL, 1897.

THE following is published for general information.

M. FINUCANE,

The 27th December 1897. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Report on the Winter Rice Crop in Bengal, 1897.

Character of the season.—The rainfall of the monsoon season of 1897, month by month, has been as follows:—

In May, the rainfall was much below the normal in all Divisions except North Bengal, where it was a little above the normal. In June, the fall was very deficient in North Bengal, in excess in Bihar, and near to the normal in other parts of these Provinces. In July, the rainfall was below the normal everywhere except in Orissa. In August, the fall was unusually uniform and well distributed. The rainfall of September was general. It was in excess in East and North Bengal, and about normal in Bihar, and deficient elsewhere. In October, every district of this Province received considerably more than the normal fall. A feature of this month was the cyclone which swept over Chittagong on the 24th October, which, together with the tidal-wave, caused considerable damage to the standing crops in some parts of this Division. In November, all Divisions of these Provinces received slight rain. The season, generally, was very favourable to the cultivation and growth of the winter rice crop.

2. Area cultivated.—From the estimates of area given by District Officers, which will be found appended to this Note, it will appear that the total area cultivated with winter rice this year amounts to 31,572,700 acres, against 29,143,200 acres, cultivated in 1896. There is thus an increase of 2,429,500 acres, or 8 3 per cent. on the total area sown, a result altogether due to the very favourable distribution of rainfall during the current year.

3. Character of the crop.—It will be seen on reference to the District Returns in Appendix I, attached to this Note, that out of 45 districts of these Provinces, two districts, viz., Burdwan and Dacca, report bumper crops of 20 annas; 21 districts, as noted on the margin, report bumper crops varying from above 16 annas to 19 annas; 11 districts, viz., 24 Parganas, Murshidabad, Bogra, Pabna, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Balasore, Angul and Khondmals, Puri and Birbhum, Bankura, Midnapore, Jessore, Khulna, Darjeeling, Faridpur, Backergunge, Tippera, Patna, Gaya, Shahabad, Saran, Bhagalpur, Malda, Sonthal Parganas, Cuttack, Hazáribagh, Palamau, Manbhum and Singhbhum.

Lohardaga, report average crops of 16 annas, and the remaining 11 districts, as shown in the margin, return crops varying from 14 to less than 16 annas. In no district is the outturn expected to fall below 14 annas. A comparison of the present estimates of outturn with the estimates given in the preliminary forecast of the winter rice crop, issued on the 4th October, shows that in no fewer than 32 districts, the prospects of this crop have improved since that forecast was submitted. The arithmetical mean of the anna outturn of the Province, calculated with reference to areas sown, was estimated in the preliminary forecast of October to be 15 annas, but this estimate was considered too low, and was raised by this Department to 17 annas. The arithmetical mean, as now obtained by the same calculation, amounts to 16·8 annas. Considering the improved prospects of the crops, as now put forward by District Officers, it is probable that 18 annas will best represent the outturn of the winter rice crop of 1897.

Hooghly, Nadia, Rajshahi. Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Rangpur, Mymensingh, Noakhali, Chittagong, Monghyr and Purnea.

4. Gross outturn.—A statement of gross outturn is given in Appendix II of this Note. The gross outturn for the Province, as a whole, has been obtained, as in previous years, by multiplying the total acreage cultivated by 15 maunds, or by $15 \times 82\frac{2}{7}$lbs., which has been assumed to be the average yield of winter rice (cleaned) to the acre, and then by raising the outturn obtained by $\frac{1}{16}$, which is the estimate in annas of the outturn for the year. The total yield, thus obtained, amounts to 391,437,000 cwts., against 148,541,100 cwts., produced last year, when the crop was estimated at $7\frac{2}{5}$ annas only, and the area sown was much less than that reported as having been sown this year.

N. N. BANERJEI,

Assistant Director of the Dept. of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

Countersigned.

P. C. LYON,

Director of the Dept. of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

Mymensingh.	Sadar	1,183,360	697,000	282,200	225,800	236,000	6	16	The increase of area sown with winter rice crop is due to the fact that, owing to the better distribution of rain during the sowing season, the cultivators were able to sow a larger area than that in the previous year and that certain lands which in previous years had been sown with jute, have in this year been sown with paddy. This explains the cause of increase in the normal area under this crop. The outturn is greater than that of last year, owing to the better distribution of rain during the time of transplantation.	In previous years' reports, the normal area under winter rice in the Jamalpur subdivision was shown as 304,000 acres. This figure has been revised by the District officer.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

* The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.
